UAR Is Warned Against Attack Of U.S. Forces

Cairo Told Grave Consequences May Occur: Dulles, Lloyd Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has warned that grave consequences could occur in the Middle East if Egyptian-Syrian forces attacked U. S. troops in Lebanon.

The State Department disclosed Friday that this warning had been given in Cairo Thursday about the time Egyptian President Nasser was meeting secretly in Moscow with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

KILLED PLAYMATE—Sheriff Robert E. A. Lillie said that Frank Hogan Jr., 14, (above), admitted that he beat, bound and drowned John Thomas Winslow, 11, in a pond near Ann Arbor, Mich., after they had quarreled. (AP Photofax).

The department made it public a few hours after Moscow officially disclosed that Nasser and Khrushchev had met "on the question of stopping the aggression of the United States and other colonial powers."

Top Eisenhower administration authorities were reported to view the Khrushchev-Nasser parley as signaling a tense war of nerves against the West rather than a decision to intervene militarily against British and U.S. forces in the Mideast.

Reassert View

They reasserted this view even after Nasser stopped off in Damascus to denounce the sending of U.S. Marines into Lebanon and the landing of British paratroops in Jordan. He hinted at possible Arab retaliation. In Moscow, the Soviet Foreign Office said the Russians intend to take whatever measures they deem necessary to counter the U.S.-British military moves.

Secretary of State Dulles told the Senate Appropriations Committee the Soviets were responsible for fomenting the revolution that "violently and totally liquidated" the pro-Western government of Iraq.

Dulles, currently holding an urgent series of conferences with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, accused the Kremlin of plotting violent indirect aggression which he said threatens to overturn the governments of Jordan and Lebanon, also friendly to the West.

Committee members reported that Dulles told them in closed session that U.S. forces in Lebanon constitute mainly a holding operation and that he still hoped an international police force would replace them shortly.

In the United Nations Security Council at New York, Russia vetoed a U.S. proposal to send a U.N. army to Lebanon.

Expect Soviet Move

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) quoted Dulles as saying he did not feel Russia would resort to military intervention in Lebanon.

"But he did seem to feel the Russians might make some kind of play—not of a military nature," Chavez said, that would be aimed at encouraging Nasser to action.

Senate Votes Ike Most Of Defense Powers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted Friday night to give President Eisenhower most of the powers he has urgently sought to revamp the sprawling Defense Department.

After only a few hours' debate, Senate passed the reorganization bill and sent it back to the House, which earlier had approved a somewhat similar measure containing a number of features to which Eisenhower strongly objected.

The roll-call vote was 80-0.

The Senate version goes a long way toward meeting objections voiced by Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense McElroy to the House bill, while at the same time attempting to meet fears of the Marines and others that the authority Eisenhower originally sought might be used to reduce them to ineffectiveness.

If the House balks at accepting the Senate version, as appears likely, a Senate-House conference committee will be assigned to work out a compromise.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) had asked for prompt approval of the defense measure as a means of curbing interservice rivalries and time-wasting delays. Russell is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said the Senate bill meets most of Eisenhower's requests on what Smith termed "his most important legislative goal of this session."

Smith said the bill would provide flexibility in the defense organization to handle such events as the grave crisis in the Middle East.

Russe" said the bill spells out that "everything in te Department of Defense is under the management of the secretary of defense."

Navy Reveals Missile Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy reported Friday it hopes to launch four 20-inch Vanguard satellites and then polish off that program before the end of the year by putting a 50-pound baby moon in orbit.

With its final rocket stage, the orbiting body of the final Vanguard launching would weigh 100 pounds, the Navy said. The 20-inch satellites weigh 21½ pounds. By contrast, the 6.4-inch test satellite sent into orbit last March 17 weighs about 3¼ pounds.

The Navy said the final launching in the program will use a third-stage rocket of higher performance than that currently used.

The Navy also reported that the next Vanguard to be launched already is at the Air Force Missile Test Center, Cape Canaveral, Fla. being prepared for firing.

It said the 20-inch satellite aboard that three-stage rocket carries equipment for measuring the cloud cover of the earth, the first to be so designed.

It gave no dates for the launchings.

Mob Storms U.S. Embassy In Moscow

100,000 Muscovites Break 275 Windows, Paint Over Walls

MOSCOW (AP) — A massive mob of Russians smashed 275 windows in the U.S. Embassy Friday and splashed its walls with blue and green ink in a rowdy three-hour protest against U.S. troop landings in Lebanon.

More than 100,000 Muscovites, many of them streaming out of factories and offices, packed the 10-lane boulevard running past the embassy. A raucous human sea stretched for half a mile on each side of the building in the biggest demonstration in Moscow since the victory celebrations of World War II.

Televise Demonstration

A Soviet television network televised the demonstration.

One of the demonstrators fired an air rifle at the 9th-floor office window of U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr. The pellet, nearly spent, did not go through. No Americans in the building were reported hurt.

U.S. personnel in the embassy took shelter in the rear of the building. Office furniture and equipment had been moved to the rear also. The demonstration had been expected.

It was the second day in a row the Russians had massed before the building. Thursday a comparative handful of 2,000 demonstrators massed in front of the building in a howling protest.

Thompson lodged no immediate protest with the Soviet government. Embassy officials indicated, however, one would be made after the damage had been tallied.

Rages Three Hours

The demonstration raged more than three hours before a force of about 1,000 Soviet militiamen and soldiers made a determined effort to break up the crowd. About 300 militiamen were there at the start.

Every window on the first three floors of the 10-story building was smashed under a barrage of ink bottles, ball bearings, brickbats, poster poles, stones, and sticks that lasted more than one hour. Some windows were broken as high as the eighth floor.

About 100 Russians staged a demonstration outside the British Embassy in protest against British forces landing in Jordan. But this crowd was not in the ugly mood of the mob jamming the boulevard.

The demonstrations sprang up after a delegation of Soviet factory workers called on Thompson with a petition protesting the Marine landings in the Middle East. Thompson conferred with their leaders in his office and told them the United States was invited into Lebanon by that nation's legitimate government. He said the matter was before the United Nations and U.S. forces would pull out as soon as a U.N. police force takes over.

Oxford Students Revealed Secrets

LONDON (AP)—Two Oxford undergraduates were sentenced to three months imprisonment Friday for revealing official defense secrets. Both pleaded guilty.

The two students, Paul Richard Thompson, 23, and William Miller, 24, had written an article for the left-wing undergraduate magazine Isis in which they described certain British Intelligence activities. Both had held classified jobs in the Royal Navy before going to Oxford.

Children, Lost In Forest Three Days, Find Way Out

ASH LAKE, Minn., July 18 (UPI)—A young brother and sister, sought in a bear-infested wilderness for three days by 100 searchers, found their own way out of the forest today.

Francine Crego, 10, and her brother, Michael, 8, merely climbed a fire tower in the woods surrounding Ash Lake, got their bearings, and walked out.

Sheriff Sam Owens, one of the leaders of the search party of volunteers and national guardsmen, said the children and their pet cocker spaniel were none the worse for two nights and three days in the forest.

The children had been lost since Wednesday, when they set out from their grandfather's summer cottage here on a berry-picking expedition. They still had their pails with them when they walked out of the woods today.

Owens said the brother and sister had a few scratches and were suffering slightly from exposure, but were otherwise in good condition.

The area where the children were lost is also the home of bears and timber wolves. As the seemingly hopeless search progressed, the children's plight reminded volunteers of the fairy tale stories of the babes in the woods and Hansel and Gretel.

Just like their story-book counterparts, Francine and Michael huddled together in the midst of the forest during their two nights in the wilderness.

They used their dog, Mickey, as a pillow and picked the wood ticks off each other both nights before going to sleep. Their only food was the berries they had picked.

U.S. Asks UN Emergency Session On Middle East

Soviet Russia Vetoes Plan For Military Force

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States called Friday for an emergency session of the U. N. General Assembly to deal with the explosive situation in the Middle East.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge made the proposal immediately after the Soviet Union killed by veto a U. S. resolution to establish an international military force to be sent to Lebanon.

He declared the United States would not be thwarted by a Soviet veto from attempts to restore peace in strife-torn Lebanon.

At the suggestion of Japanese Delegate Koto Matsudaira the Council voted to adjourn until Monday afternoon. He wanted additional time for delegates to study a Japanese proposal providing for expansion of the U.N. observer group in Lebanon. He said he hoped this might enable the United States to withdraw its forces.

Won't Press For Vote

Lodge agreed not to press for a vote on the special Assembly until the Japanese resolution is acted upon.

Lodge acted after the Council failed to approve any resolutions stemming from charges by Lebanon and Jordan that President Nasser's United Arab Republic was trying to overturn their governments.

These were the rapid-fire developments in the Council after four days of debate as tense as any during the Suez crisis and the revolt in Hungary late in 1956:

1. The Council defeated 8-1 a resolution by the Soviet Union demanding the immediate withdrawal of the U. S. Marines from Lebanon and British forces from Jordan. Only the Soviet Union voted for the resolution. Japan and Sweden abstained, while "no" votes were recorded by the United States, Britain, Canada, China, France, Iraq, Panama and Colombia.

2. The Soviet Union killed by its 84th veto a U.S. resolution to send an international military force to Lebanon. Sweden abstained and the other nine membes of the council were in favor.

All Others Opposed

3. A Swedish proposal to suspend activities of the U.N. Emergency Force in Lebanon while U.S. forces are there found only Sweden and the Soviet Union voting yes. All others were opposed.

Lodge said the emergency session of the Assembly would be called upon to consider the complaint by Lebanon against the United Arab Republic.

The Soviet Union also said it would ask for an Assembly session if the Council failed to approve its resolution demanding immediate withdrawal of British and U.S. forces.

They're All Alone

Omar Loutfi of United Arab Republic, left, and Arkady A. Sobelov of Russia, two powers violently opposing the entrance of United States and British troops into Lebanon and Jordan, are all alone as they confer in the empty Security Council chamber of the U. N. after the meeting adjourned yesterday. Western bloc nations earlier voted down a Russian resolution calling for withdrawal of the British and American troops. (AP Photofax).

Soviet Warns U.S., Britain Of 'Aggression'

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government warned the United States and Great Britain Friday night it will not remain indifferent to what it calls acts of unprovoked aggression against Lebanon and Jordan.

A special declaration issued by the Soviet Foreign Ministry said the Soviet Union will have to take "necessary measures dictated by the interests of the security of the Soviet Union and preservation of general peace." The declaration did not specify what those measures might be.

The statement hinted that the Moslem peoples in Soviet Asia, bordering on the Middle East northern tier, might intervene. There was no direct reference or threat of the possible use of so-called volunteers from the Soviet Union. This was the term the Soviet Union used for men it threatened to throw into the Mideast at the time of the Suez crisis.

In another statement, the government confirmed the secret conference here between President Nasser of the United Arab Republic and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. It said the conference concerned "the question of stopping aggression by the United States and other colonial powers in the Middle East as well as the preservation of peace and the independence of Arab states."

The double-barreled announcement officially ranged the Soviet government alongside Nasser in the Middle East crisis.

A third official announcement said the Soviet government and the new republican government of Iraq have agreed to establish diplomatic relations at ambassadorial level. The Soviet Union had no diplomatic relations with the now ousted monarchy of King Faisal II.

Crane Eliminated In $752,500 Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Steve Crane was eliminated Friday as codefendant in the $752,500 suit brought by the 10-year-old son of Johnny Stompanato.

However, a judge gave attorneys representing the youngster 10 days to file an amended complaint. The Hollywood underworld figure was stabbed to death last April in the bedroom of Lana Turner, Crane's ex-wife. The couple's 14-year-old daughter, Cheryl, admitted killing Stompanato when he threatened her mother.

Judge Walter C. Allen ruled the complaint was ambigaous in naming Crane co-defendant.

Rattler Turns Out To Be Boa

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Patrolman Jess Heard thought he was seeing the granddaddy of all rattlesnakes—an 8-foot monster.

He spotted the snake near midnight Thursday on an isolated road in Brackenridge Park.

Thinking it was a rattler, he stopped his squad car, jumped out with his shotgun.

Then he saw it had no rattlers. He called the zoo director, Fred Stark.

Stark grabbed it by the back of the neck "just like it was a stick," the admiring Heard reported. It was a boa constrictor.

Stark said it could have escaped from the zoo, but probably fled a dealer's truck.

"They come up here with 400 or 500 in a truck," Stark said. "Six weeks or two months ago there was a truck full of them through.

"A snake like that could bite you, but as far as hurting you—by coiling itself around a person and applying pressure—it would not have the strength to do any harm," Stark said. They are not poisonous.

The snake now is in the San Antonio Zoo.

Eisenhower Uses Helicopter To Fly To Honduras

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — Dr. Milton Eisenhower was whisked into San Jose by helicopter Friday on his closely-guarded arrival from Honduras.

Costa Rican communists are using the visit of the president's brother as an excuse for propaganda attacks on the United States, but have said there would be no hostile demonstrations. Nevertheless, his arrival was surrounded by secrecy.

Army Buildup Goes Smoothly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Friday the situation in the Middle East is "very touchy" but the buildup of U. S. military power there is proceeding without incident.

This description was given by a Pentagon officer at a news briefing in response to a question.

The officer reported a sweep by carrier planes along the shore of the eastern Mediterranean Friday. The jet craft from the carriers Essex and Saratoga ranged the Lebanon coast from Tripoli in the north to Sidon, south of Beirut.

The jets also flew inland south and east of Beirut, but did not go beyond the borders of Lebanon.

Thursday, the Navy flew a demonstration along the west bank of the Jordan River.

Stevenson Gets Friendly Welcome

TASHKENT, U.S.S.R. (AP) — The people of the Uzbek Republic capital gave touring Adlai Stevenson a friendly welcome Friday.

Stevenson and his party arrived here Thursday for a three-week tour trip of central Asia, Siberia, and the Urals.

Actress, Gen. Trujillo Remain 'Best Of Friends'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Kim Novak said Friday she and Rafael Trujillo Jr. parted the best of friends.

The young playboy from the Dominican Republic, who once told a local television audience he was in love with the actress, sailed away Monday on his 350-foot yacht.

Before he did, Kim said, he sent her roses and a note reading: I am sorry you didn't care to get involved with me. But I understand that your career comes first. I hope we can always be the best of friends."

Kim said she has not seen Trujillo since a tender farewell at the train station here last May. Trujillo then was returning to a U.S. military college in Kansas where he failed to graduate.

The studio was upset because Trujillo was married with six children. He is seeking a divorce. The studio sent Kim off on a publicity tour before the handsome son of the Dominican dictator returned to Hollywood last month.

"I had a mutual friend tell him I was not serious about him," Kim said. "He took it like a gentleman. He accepted it very well."

"He knew the publicity was bad for my career. He understood.'

"The press presented a very ugly picture of him," Kim said. "He is really a fine man, very kind and serious."

"They tried to make a villian out of him," she said.

2,900 More Marines Land In Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Another 2,900 Marines arrived in Lebanon by air and sea Friday and took a firmer grip on this Middle East beachhead.

About 1,700 Leathernecks of the 1st Battalion, 8th Marines landed on a sandy beach four miles north of Beirut from the U.S. 6th Fleet, gathering in swelling might offshore.

Then 1,200 Marines from the 2nd Battalion, 8th Marines, began landing at Beirut's airport, where only Thursday night Leathernecks traded shots with rebel snipers fighting President Camille Chamoun's regime.

These Marines had flown all the way from their base at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina.

When the last of 20 big C119 and C54 transport planes touched down at International Airport, the Marines had 6,300 men in and around Beirut.

The Marines who came in by sea attracted the usual crowd of Lebanese along the beaches. But this day the Marines were too busy to pay attention to the Lebanese vendors who swarmed around.

Their only concern was that their landing ships did not run down small boys swimming near the landing site.

By nightfall, the entire Marine force was dug in with machine gun and artillery emplacements.

Poodles Good Watching Dogs

His home was robbed of a $20,000 collection of old coins weigh-more than 400 pounds.

Troop Build Up Continues In Mid-East

Red China, Russians Voice Dire Warnings; War Of Nerves On

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The United States and Britain poured more troops, planes and warships into the Middle East Friday in the face of a loudly rising chorus of communist threats. Red China joined the Soviet Union in threatening dire consequences for the West.

Rival American and Soviet resolutions on the crisis failed in the U.N. Security Council.

The United States then called for an emergency session of the 81-nation General Assembly to pursue the effort to avert war. The council adjourned until Monday without acting.

Warnings were exchanged between the United States and President Nasser's Egyptian-Syrian United Arab Republic over the crisis that burst Monday with the revolt that felled Iraq's pro-Western government.

Notified Nasser

The U.S. State Department disclosed Cairo Ambassador Raymond Hare had notified Nasser's government that any attack on U.S. forces in the Mideast by U.A.R. military units or units under U.A.R. control "could involve grave consequences."

Nasser responded with a declaration that if the United States and Britain "antagonize us we shall fight to the last drop of our blood. . .we are prepared for all eventualities." The Arab nationalist leader spoke in Damascus on his way home from a secret conference in Moscow with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The Kremlin declared it "will have to take the necessary measures dictated by the interests of the Soviet Union" against the troop landings in Lebanon and Jordan.

The Soviet Union called the entry of the troops—requested by the chiefs of state of Lebanon and Jordan to counter foreign threats against their governments—"this unprovoked aggression in a region adjacent to its (Russia's) borders."

Neither the Russians nor the Red Chinese spelled out the nature of the consequences.

War Of Nerves

Washington authorities looked for a tense war of nerves. Secretary of State Dulles accused Russia of fomenting anti-Western revolution in the Middle East.

Speculation among Western diplomats in London ran in two channels. One was that the communist bloc—following Red China's example in the Korean War—would send so-called volunteers to the Mideast. The other was that the Reds would limit their activities for the moment to trying to capitalize on the situation politically.

Cairo was first to announce the Nasser-Khrushchev meeting, an unexpected sequel to the Arab's leader's recent visit with President Tito of Yugoslavia. The Soviet government confirmed that Khrushchev and Nasser had met.

Moscow said they discussed

Atlas Firing Again Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A rash of technical troubles forced postponement again Friday of the firing of a fully powered Atlas ballistic missile.

Technicians of Convair Astronautics, which built the Atlas, now have failed three times to get this one off the ground. They came closest last Saturday when the engines were ignited but cut off after belching exhaust fire for 10 seconds.

The 85-foot-long missile, most powerful war rocket in the U.S. arsenal, contains the three engines needed to travel the 6,000-mile intercontinental range. The main sustainer engine and twin boosters build up more than 350,000 pounds of thrust.

The missile reportedly will be sent only 2,500 miles in a test of its propulsion system. If that is successful, an Atlas is expected to go all the way within a few weeks.

New Probe Is Set In Goldfine Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—A second set of House investigators have announced they will start exploring Monday allegations that presidential assistant Sherman Adams intervened in a government case against a business firm.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La) said Friday the House Armed Services Investigations subcommittee he heads has subpoenaed witnesses to begin taking closed-door testimony in the matter of a contract penalty settled for about half the original amount.

The case is that of Raylaine Worsted, Inc., Manchester, N.H., penalized by the Army for lateness on a wartime cloth contract. The settlement with reduced penalty was approved last year.

Adams' name has repeatedly been brought into the case. The White House has said all Adams did was to refer queries he received about the case on to the Army as a matter of routine.

Protests Pressure

Roswell M. Austin, retired member of the Armed Forces Board of Contract Appeals, said Friday in reply to a reporter's questions that he signed a memorandum protesting indications of what he termed White House pressure in the Raylaine matter. The memo is understood to be in the possession of Hebert's subcommittee.

Austin retired from the board last September, before the settlement was approved. But he said that at one point a paper was circulated among members and they were asked to indicate whether or not they would agree to another hearing on the case.

He said he understood Adams had inquired about the matter.

"It had been discussed around the board for a long time that the White House was interested in this case," Austin said. "You kept hearing, 'We can't say too much—the White House is interested.'

"That's just one of those things that made me boil, and I so expressed myself," Austin went on. "I wrote in a comment to the effect that if there was such pressure I thought it was highly improper."

Board To Hear Arguments

He said, however, he agreed the board should hear the arguments in the case.

Leo Wolff, former president of the now defunct Raylaine firm, has called it "damned ridiculous" to suggest Adams or any other political figure influenced the settlement.

But Wolff said both he and an employe who was a boyhood friend of Adams had written the presidential assistant about it.

Hebert declined to say who had been subpoenaed for the initial investigation. It was indicated, however, that government witnesses would be heard first. Austin said he has not as yet been called.

He said he had been interviewed by investigators for another congressional group, the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee which has been looking into relations between Adams and Boston textile millionaire Bernard Goldfine, and between Goldfine and federal regulatory agencies. This committee turned the information in the Raylaine matter over to the Hebert group.

At his session with the Senate committee, Dulles accused the Soviet Union of seeking to exploit tensions between the Arab states and Israel and of pursuing what he termed a strategy of revolutionary alliance.

"It hopes thus to gain control in this area of great natural richness where three continents meet," Dulles said, adding: "For the most part, its hand is hidden."

Dulles broke off a series of conferences with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to keep a date with the Senate group, which is considering a foreign aid appropriations bill.

Dulles and Lloyd talked for nearly two hours at the State Department amidst mounting evidence the two men were increasingly concerned over international criticism of U. S.-British military operations in the Middle East.

Informants said they also were disturbed but not alarmed at the possibility of Egyptian - Soviet countermoves.

Russia Gives Warning

Dulles' comments before the Senate committee came about the same time that Moscow warned it would have to "take the necessary measures" dictated by its security in the face of what the Kremlin called U. S.-British aggression against Lebanon and Jordan.

Despite this new threat, U. S. authorities expressed belief the Soviets would not act militarily against British - United States forces. They said the Kremlin blast was part of an anticipated war of nerves against the West.

The Dulles - Lloyd meeting brought reports that neither was in favor of any military move to reverse last Monday's overthrow of Iraq's pro-Western government.

While British and U.S. officials kept mum on specific problems discussed, these developments dropped up in the second day of the Dulles-Lloyd talks:

1. The State Department said it was continuing to work urgently on rushing emergency oil supplies requested by King Hussein of Jordan. A spokesman said he had no information on reports that Saudi Arabia had barred American planes from flying over its territory with oil and gasoline supplies.

2. State Department press officer Lincoln White said he assumed the United States, bowing to an Austrian complaint, was no longer flying troop reinforcements from Germany over Austria.

Make Informal Contact

3. Diplomatic officials reported that Iraqi rebels had made informal contact with U.S. authorities and had expressed a desire to get along with the United States. The revolutionaries were understood to have told these U.S. officials they were not under Soviet control.

4. Egypt's President Nasser is understood to have issued a call for Asian and African countries, including India and Indonesia, to attend a special conference in Cairo next month to consider sending "volunteers" to the aid of Lebanese and Jordanian rebels.

5. An American-British plan for mobilizing world public opinion to support the Mideast troop landings was reported being considered. Dulles and Lloyd were reported convinced that better explanations of the U.S.-British goal are needed to overcome an unexpectedly large amount of criticism in countries which usually support Western policy.

Man May Sue In False Arrest Of His Family

ROCKMART, Ga. (AP) — A Rockmart attorney said Friday he is awaiting further word from a McConnellsburg, Pa., man before filing a suit for false arrest against Georgia and Tennessee officers.

Cecil D. Franklin said he had been contacted by W. E. Sherman Sr., of McConnellsburg about filing a federal court suit against officers involved in the arrest last June 22 of Sherman, his wife, their son, daughter-in-law and two grandchildren.

Sherman said in McConnellsburg today he had been informed by governors of both Georgia and Tennessee that the arrest of his family was due to mistaken identity. The family was taken into custody in Murray County, Ga., on complaint of an elderly Tennessean that his pocket had been picked.

Sherman claims he and his family were held in "dirty, filthy prison cells overnight" in Benton, Tenn. He charged they were treated cruelly and released the next day with apologies.

Sheriff Bud Payne at Benton denied the cruelty charges at the time, declaring "We treated them as nice as we know how."

Informed of Sherman's statement, Payne said today he has not been legally notified of any court action. "We'll just have to defend ourselves," he added.

Franklin said he had corresponded with Sherman about the case and was awaiting confirmation of employment as attorney. He said he expected to hear from Sherman again in the next few days and suit probably would be filed in the Northern District of Federal Court in Rome, Ga., within the next 10 or 12 days.

Nudists Meet At Gore Camp

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP) — Some 600 devotees of nature are meeting in a sylvan setting near here where the sack dress is considered superfluous as well as silly.

They are wearing only the endowments of nature in Virginia's first nudist convention. All are members of the Eastern Sunbathers Assn. They came clothed from Maine to Florida and some points west.

The camp site is west of Gore, off U.S. 50, near the Virginia-West Virginia line. The private campsite is called Buck's Kin Lodge for its founder, Walter (Buck) Young, a member of the Winchester Chamber of Commerce and a founder of the Eastern Association.

In ceremonies during the coming weekend a king and queen will be named. Presumably they will wear crowns.

Water Speed Limit To Be Enforced

SALISBURY (AP) — City officials have threatened to enforce a five mile per hour speed limit on Johnson's Lake unless hazards to bathers are eliminated.

The city has marked off two areas on the lake — one for boats and the other for swimmers. A bather was recently run down and cut by a speedboat, and other swimmers have filed complaints.

Mayor Jeremiah Valliant said there is no alternative to the speed limit unless the danger to swimmers is eliminated.

Complaints Fly Thick And Fast In Water Row

EDGEWATER, Md. (AP) — A Cape St. John resident who had two water skiers arrested on charges of reckless operation of a motorboat was fined $25 himself Friday night on a similar charge.

Magistrate Norman Hazard levied the fine plus court costs on James F. Quinn, 32, who was accused of running his motorboat across a tow rope being used in a water ski show July 4 on nearby South River.

Quinn's attorney, Albert J. Goodman of Annapolis, said he would appeal the conviction.

Quinn told the court he was on the river taking photographs, of what he said were reckless operations, for a community association which hoped to get a county police boat assigned to patrol the area.

He had earlier called police who arrested two skiers, Charles J. Stephens, 24, and James A. Higgins, 23, on reckless operation charges. They are partners with Robert Sauls in the operation of the Oak Grove Ski Club which was sponsoring a water show that day. Their cases were postponed until July 30.

After the tow rope incident, Quinn was arrested on a complaint to police from Sauls.

Quinn told Magistrate Hazard that he did not see the tow rope or the wooden disc which the skier was preparing to ride. He said he did not realize he had crossed the tow rope until after he was past it. His wife corroborated his testimony.

Sauls, Stephens, Higgins and several other witnesses testified that Quinn was warned by shouts and waving of the arms as he approached the scene. Stephens charged he deliberately crossed over the rope which was to tow Higgins. Higgins was in the water and the boat which was to tow him was idling at the time Quinn came by at an estimated 4 or 5 m. p. h. speed. Higgins said he pressed down on the rope to keep it from snaring in Quinn's outboard motor.

The cases are an outgrowth of complaints of residents in this area about ski operations across the river.

Under local laws, there is an 8-m. p. h. speed limit on the river west of the South River bridge at Edgewater. To the east of the bridge, there is no specified limit.

There has been a concerted crackdown on boat operations in the river this summer and two other defendants were fined the minimum $25 and costs tonight before Quinn's case came up.

One was William Wineger, arrested June 29 on charges of buzzing piers and beaches in the Riva area, and Robert A. Safewright, arrested July 14 on charges of endangering fish nets and piers and boats by high speed and maneuvers. Both pleaded guilty.

Navy Flier Is Commandant

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — (AP) — A Navy flyer who was officer in charge of the atomic bomb drop on Nagasaki, Japan, has become commandant of midshipmen at the U. S. Naval Academy.

Capt. Frederick L. Ashworth of Wenham, Mass. relieved Capt. Allen M. Shinn as military boss of the 3,600-man brigade Thursday.

As commandant he is second ranking officer to Rear Adm. Charles L. Melson, superintendent of the Naval Academy, and is directly responsible to him for training and indoctrination of midshipmen as naval officers.

Capt. Ashworth, a 1933 graduate of the academy, came here from command of the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt. Capt. Shinn will report to the carrier Forrestal as its commanding officer.

GUANTANAMO (AP)—The Cuban rebels Friday freed all their American servicemen hostages.

Fourteen Marines and sailors were airlifted out of mountain hideouts, the last of a peak total of 50 North Americans that had been seized by the rebels.

Rebel Fidel Castro told his brother Raul to release the entire last group at one time "because of the situation in Lebanon and you may be needed to fight there."

The 14 men arrived at the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo in batches of three and four, starting in the early afternoon and continuing until nightfall.

Those freed Friday were clean-shaven and apparently in good health. They said they had been well treated.

Boys' Nation Prepares To Elect Officers

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Politics predominated today as youths from all over the nation converged on the University of Maryland campus for the American Legion's 13th annual Boys' Nation.

At stake were nominations for president and vice president of the Federalist and Nationalist parties. The election is Monday night.

The delegates eventually will resolve themselves into a Senate and, as junior senators, will debate bills pending in the real congress — roughly 10 miles from this college community between Washington and Baltimore.

One of the delegates, Hungarian born Gyuri Nemeth, 19, of Framingham, Mass., enjoyed a unique distinction. Legion officials said he is the first lad from overseas to sit as a member of the nation.

Nemeth, who came to this country in 1956 with his mother as refugees from the Hungarian revolution, is the son of a Hungarian diplomat formerly stationed in Ankara, Turkey.

The father, recalled to Hungary after the outbreak, has not been heard from since then. The mother and son, sponsored in this country by the Framingham American Legion Post No. 74, reside with William F. Welch of that city.

Most of today's activities of the nation involved registration and assignment of quarters. The delegates were also briefed as to how to set up their government.

A large share of the week to come will be spent sightseeing in Washington, including a visit with President Eisenhower at the White House on Thursday.

Boy, 15, Shot By Policeman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Daniel Calvin Short Jr., 15, of Washington, was fatally shot in the head Friday as he ran from two Prince Georges County, Md., policemen who were investigating a burglary report.

The youth, a Negro, died in Casualty Hospital. He was identified later at the morgue by his mother.

The shooting occurred in a parking area in front of the office of the Oxon Run Hills golf course, just over the District of Columbia line.

County Police Inspector Vincent S. Free said a broken padlock to the front door of the office was found in the youth's pocket.

Troop Build

"the question of stopping the aggression of the United States and other colonial powers" and "insuring peace and the independence of the Arab countries."

Diplomats in London speculated that the two discussed sending Soviet troops to the U.A.R. province of Syria to counter the U.S. landings in Lebanon and the airlift of British paratroopers to Jordan.

But the buildup sped on. The United States flew 1,200 Marines from Camp Lejeune, N.C., to Beirut.

Ready To Fly

Another 1,700 Marines came ashore earlier Friday from the gathering fleet offshore. This brought the total of Marines in Lebanon to 6,300. Army paratroopers flying from Germany by way of Turkey are expected Saturday.

Britain had 2,000 crack Red Devil paratroopers in Jordan and was ready to fly in more from the east Mediterranean base island of Cyprus.

More warships of the U.S. 6th Fleet arrived off Lebanon, including the missile-firing cruiser Boston. A staff officer said 70 of the fleet's 75 ships are in the eastern Mediterranean "in a position where they can do the most good." British warships were on the move to the same general area.

A U.S. striking force of 100 jet fighters, bombers and transport planes had assembled in Turkey, where 2,000 paratroopers flown from West Germany were on the alert. More U.S. planes ferrying men and material to the Middle East sped through Naples.

Soviet armed forces ran off military maneuvers along the frontiers of Turkey and Iran, partners of the West under the Baghdad Pact.

An Iranian eyewitness said the glare of rockets and gunfire "changed night into bright day" on the Iranian side of the border. Steel - nerved Turkey took the demonstration of military might calmly.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Travel Do's And Don'ts

In today's mail, I received a letter from a reader who asked me to repeat my do's and don'ts for travellers. Here they are, with a few more added:

DO pack and use all your beauty-making preparations designed to protect and improve your looks. Sun, exercise, a change of scene, plus your knowledge and skill in beauty culture are sure to top your vacation with the pleasure of returning home looking like a million — something you don't want to miss!

DON'T overload with luggage. It is a costly nuisance on any trip. Plan your clothes carefully; take only the items you know you will use.

DO eat lightly while on a long trip, whether you travel by train, plane, ship or motor car.

DON'T overeat when you reach your destination, and precisely for the sake of your skin, hair and figure. Be on guard against tempting lists of hot breads and rich desserts. Remember it takes a great deal of exercise to burn up excess calories, so don't overestimate your outdoor activities.

DO retire from the crowd for your favorite solitary pursuits—walks, reading, a nap or just some old-fashioned contemplation. But DON'T become a hermit. Enter into the gorup plans of your family or party.

DO be considerate of all strangers in the new world around you.

DON'T be noisy, critical or argumentive to the distress of another's ear.

DO investigate beforehand the customs, points of interest and special foods at your destination.

DON'T fail to sample and appreciate all of them. Then, you will be charmed — and charming!

Wigs Make Men Forget Chemise

By DOROTHY ROWE

Associated Press Women's Editor

When a lady wears a sack, she must try for eye appeal above or below, say some of our best-dressed women.

That's why hats, shoes and jewelry are so important this summer. A dramatic hat, ultra-feminine shoes in gay color, ropes of colorful beads and chains—these are all current devices to make male critics forget about the figure-concelaing chemise.

Latest, gayest and most flattering of summer headgear are the new flower wigs that are blossoming out in all the smartest luncheon spots these days. A group of fashionable women is likely to look like a flower garden this summer, when they get their heads together over a luncheon or bridge table.

The new flower wigs cover the hair completely, fit closely so that they are safe in a high wind, and are completely covered with every variety of blossoms, ranging from shocking pink silk poppies to white organdy peonies.

They're dramatic, they're festive and they're the hit of the summer hat parade.

Leaguers Will Have Swim Party

Members of the Luther League of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will have a swimming party tomorrow at the Celanese pool. Darlene Browne will have charge of the vesper service at 6 p. m.

Dr. A. S. Hashim, assisted by Mrs. Hashim, showed color slides he had taken of his homeland, Iraq, and told of life and customs in and around Baghdad. A vesper service was conducted by Robert Smith. His topic was "The Power of One Person." He was assisted by Judy Ritchey. The vespers were attended by 40 persons including Rev. John Sammel and other advisors.

His First Steps...

He stands with his legs quivering ever so slightly, ready to put forth first one foot . . . and then the other.

This is a great moment, and it might be frightening if it were not for the strong, steady clasp of his mother's hand. She is there to guide him . . . to catch him if he falls.

But the time will come when he'll have to let go of his mother's hand, and go forth on his own. Even then, he will need guidance. His mother is taking care of that, too. Already, he attends church with his parents on Sundays and slowly but surely he will begin to learn the meaning of faith. Children must be taught to take spiritual as well as physical steps. The Church stands ready to teach them.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH.

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

GOP Claim Of Savings Is Disputed

CHARLESTON (AP)—Republican claims of a saving to taxpayers in current operation of the Workmen's Compensation Dept. were disputed in a statement from Democratic State Headquarters here Friday.

Earlier this week, Republican State Chairman Daniel L. Louchery of Clarksburg called attention to what he said was a saving of $37,681 in administrative costs, based upon budget comparisons of the fiscal year just ended with the last year under Democratic rule.

In a statement today, Democratic State Chairman Hulett C. Smith of Beckley said:

"A budget, as Mr. Louchery must know, is an estimate of needs made up in advance of the beginning of a fiscal year. The 'proof of the pudding' lies in what actually was expended—not just appropriated.

"During the 1956-57 fiscal year—which was the last complete year under the prior Democratic administration — the Workmen's Compensation Dept. actually spent $785,322, as shown by the official records.

"The same record sources show that the present Republican administration actually spent $833,942 during its first fiscal year—an increase of $48,620...Thus, instead of creating a 'saving' of $37,681 as claimed for the Republican administration of the Workmen's Compensation Fund by the GOP state chairman, actually the expenditures by that agency were increased $48,620— a 'slight' difference of $86,301."

Westernport Considers Sewage Rate Ordinance

One-Third Increase In Water Rates Proposed To Pay Town's Share

WESTERNPORT—A proposed sewer ordinance requested by Mayor L. Wilt and Town Commissioners prepared by Horace P. Whitworth Sr., town attorney, was read Wednesday evening at the council session. Attorney Whitworth pointed out it is just a rough draft giving them something to start from. He requested council to study it section by section and when they had made their decision he would draw up the completed ordinance.

It is proposed that a sewer charge of 33⅓ percent of present water bills be made, and persons living outside of the Town of Westernport to pay 20 percent extra for water service.

The ordinance will be considered at a special meeting next Wednesday evening.

This sewer charge is to help pay for necessary facilities to connect to the sewage plant now being constructed. This plant is being built by the Upper Potomac River Commission for principal use of the Luke Plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Attorney Whitworth thought it is essential that the town begin as soon as possible collecting sewage rent to build up a fund before the work is begun.

Westernport, Piedmont and Luke, may be eligible to receive a grant from the federal government to pay a portion of the expenses needed for sewage facilities to connect up with the sewage plant. Westernport's estimated cost has been placed at $250 thousand.

Hazen and Sawyer, engineers for the sewage plant called a meeting for 1 p. m. July 24, at the City Building to discuss the steps to be undertaken so the towns may be eligible for federal and state aid.

In addition to the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport, others expected to attend will include Mayor Rodney Baker of Piedmont; Mayor Edward Duckworth, Luke; William Walsh, Cumberland, attorney for the Upper Potomac River Commission; L. W. Gebhard of the US Public Health Service; S. B. Pierson, of Alex Browns and Sons, a bonding firm of Baltimore and I. W. Shives, Maryland Department of Health.

Local Marine Unit Concludes Annual Training

The final maneuver of the two weeks of field training by the Sixth Infantry Company, local Marine Reserve unit, took place yesterday at the Naval Amphibious Base at Little Creek, Va.

The Marines went ashore in craft such as was used by the Second Marine Battalion earlier this week in landing at beleaguered Beirut, Lebanon.

Once ashore the reservists probed for mine fields on the beach, and then pressed forward for three hours of simulated combat with the "enemy." A critique will be held to rate the performance of the Sixth Company's performance during the ship-to-shore operation.

"Operation Lex," as yesterday's amphibious assult was designated, climaxed the annual training period. Much of the time in the past few days was spent in teaching the local reservists how to board and debark safely from ships to landing craft.

One of the highlights of the training session has been the practice of vertical assault by helicopters. Both amphibious and helicopter assault training is new to most members of the Sixth Company.

In previous years, the unit trained at Cherry Point and Camp Lejeune, N. C., and Crane, Ind., where members received instruction in individual combat methods, guard duty and security procedures.

The local reservists will depart by bus from the Little Creek training base at 8 a. m. today.

Wolfords Seek

No Agreement

On July 11, the solicitor for the complainants was advised by Mr. Puderbaugh, according to the bill of complaint, that the commission would not agree to certain changes to ameliorate the situation and instructions had been given to proceed with chanelization with the armed protection of the Maryland State Police.

The following day, the Wolford's attorney wired Col. Elmer F. Munshower, superintendent of the State Police, warning him that all persons entering the Wolford property would be considered trespassers after notice. He was requested to delay any action on the part of the State Police until the matter can be adjudicated in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The bill of complain charges further that on Monday, July 14, four SRC employes, accompanied by state troopers, armed with what was believed to be shotguns or rifles, trespassed on the Wolford property and remained there a number of hours despite notice from Mr. Wolford to leave.

The next day, the bill continues, SRC agents and employes, accompanied by state police, went upon the Wolford property, remained there throughout the day, driving about 25 heavy steel spikes into the blacktop. It was proposed that on Wednesday the agents would commence drilling through the blacktop to install additional posts.

It is further contended by the Wolfords that the action of the defendant and its agents was designed to coerce the Wolfords into again executing an option contract or into deeding over that portion of the premises desired by the SRC.

The Wolfords ask that the injunction be effective until the legal rights of the parties may be adjudicated in the condemnation proceedings which they said are now pending in Circuit Court.

Two Sentenced For Making False Claims

Two Lonaconing residents were given jail sentences at hearings yesterday before Trial Magistrate Morris Baron on charges of making fraudulent statements to obtain unemployment compensation benefits.

Charles H. Dohm was given a 90-day sentence in the county jail, while Mrs. Anna M. Rankin received a 30-day sentence. Both were informed the sentences would be suspended if restitution is made and court costs paid within a period of ten days.

Mrs. Rankin made restitution and was released. Dohm was committed to jail.

The cases were brought to the attention of authorities after an audit was made by the Maryland Department of Employment Security when employers' reports of employes were checked against claims filed by unemployed persons.

Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, who prosecuted the cases, said Dohm fraudulently received $76, and Mrs. Rankin obtained $88. Mrs. Rankin had already made a $5 partial payment in refund, it was pointed out.

Magistrate Baron, in imposing the sentences, said that the penalties under law for such offenses, provides for fines of from $50 to $500, or 90 days in jail, or both.

Representing the local office of the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Board was Francis A. Kenney, local manager.

Deaths

Child Fatally Hurt In Fall

SOMERSET — Olin Shreckengost, 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shreckengost of Listie, was fatally injured Tuesday evening when he fell from a second-floor bedroom window at his home.

The child died Wednesday in Somerset Community Hospital without regaining consciousness. Somerset County Coroner Robert E. Halverson said death was caused by a cerebral concussion. He listed the case as an accidental death.

According to the coroner, the youngster climbed from his crib and pushed out a screen at the bedroom window. He fell onto a concrete slab.

Born October 25, 1956, the victim was a son of Paul and Mildred (Houser) Shreckengost. Two brothers and two sisters also survive.

W. J. DADDYSMAN

PIEDMONT — William John Daddysman, 86, formerly of Piedmont, died Monday in Charleston, W. Va., after a long illness.

A machinist, he had resided in Charleston 52 years. Prior to that he had lived in Washington.

A member of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Harriet (Hamilton) Daddysman; six daughters, Mrs. James Gullian, Mrs. Phil M. White and Miss Irene Daddysman, all of Charleston; Mrs. George W. Robertson, Ran, W. Va.; Mrs. Lon C. Chandler, Silver Spring, and Mrs. Katherine E. White, Detroit.

He also leaves four sons, Earl H. Daddysman, Homer F. Daddysman, and W. Hamilton Daddysman, all of Charleston, and John C. Daddysman, Orlando, Fla.; one sister, Mrs. Anson Hughes, Silver Spring, a brother, James H. Daddysman, Washington; 15 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren.

Youths Seek Speedy Trials

Two criminal informations were filed yesterday in Circuit Court by Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney.

Two youths, both of whom have been charged with breaking and entering and grand larceny, petitioned for immediate hearings on the charges.

The first criminal information was filed against Phillip L. Miller, 18, of Springfield, W. Va. He was one of three youths who broke into a junk yard in South Cumberland and stole over $200 from a safe on June 23.

The other was placed against Jackie W. Poffenberger, 17, of Polish Mountain. He was arrested on June 26 by State Police in the breaking and entering and theft from a home in that area.

The Poffenberger boy was cash and several other articles charged with the theft of $20 in valued at over $100 from the residence of Merle Hinkle.

Both youths are being held in Allegany County Jail in default of bonds set at preliminary hearings.

Judge Morgan C. Harris said he would conduct both hearings Wednesday morning.

Stubborn Patron Wounded In W.Va. Tavern Shooting

HUNTINGTON (AP) — A tavern-keeper who stopped the sale of beer at midnight as required by state law shot and critically wounded a stubborn patron who fired a shotgun into the establishment early Friday.

A witness and a patron were hit by shotgun pellets, and Tracy Fannin, the tavern-keeper, was showered by broken glass.

Police Capt. Azel T. Bryant, quoting witnesses, said Frank Whaley, 24, threatened to "bust her in the nose" if Fay Clark, the waitress, removed his beer glass from the table.

Fannin intervened, took the glass, and the 24-year-old Whaley left, threatening to return.

He did, a short time later, armed with a shotgun.

Pellets from a single blast fired from outside hit Miss Clark and Robert Mix, 29, one of several patrons in the place.

Fannin retaliated by grabbing a pistol from under the counter, and two shots struck Whaley in the abdomen. He is in Veterans Hospital.

Satellites Can't Be 'Independent'

Not only the presence of the Red Army, but their great economic reliance on Russia is a major reason why the Iron Curtain satellite countries stay in line.

Recently, for instance, the boss of the Poles, Wladyslaw Gomulka, finally and openly took sides with Russia in its dispute with Tito's Yugoslavia.

This was done not only because there were a number of Russian Army divisions close to Warsaw but also because of the economic facts of life.

Figures recently disclosed show conclusively that employment in Polish industry is dependent to an overwhelming degree to imports from Russia. From 1950 to 1956 Poland imported 49 per cent of her liquid fuels, 43 per cent of her grain, and 81 per cent of her cotton from Russia.

Had Gomulka stood up to the Russians, he might not have brought the Red Army down on his head. But he would have faced the strong possibility that Russia would cut off shipments of raw materials to Poland.

This would have resulted in heavy unemployment in Poland. Before long the Poles probably would have thrown Gomulka out in favor of a regime more cooperative with Russia.

In Poland, as in the other satellites, Russia is far and away the largest supplier and the biggest customer. This economic leverage gives pause to any Communist leader who toys with the idea of becoming "independent."

Intervention In Lebanon

In the new warfare, new weapons are used which have the nature of a siege and yet which do not at all resemble a weapon of war. For instance, Iraq has for years been the most stable of Arab nations. Why the sudden explosion? Why was the mass uprising so brutal?

Two weapons were employed by both Soviet Russia and Nasser: propaganda for the masses on the superiority of the Arabs, the wickedness of the West and the horrors of American imperialism and race hatred; subversion by corruption, particularly among the armed forces and the intellectuals who are poorly paid and therefore envious of those who have become millionaires through oil. The intellectual in all countries is a social problem because no one has ever worked out a system of parity for them.

In a revolution, the question of timing is always important. The Iraqi Revolution was designed to accomplish three immediate results:

1. To kill off the summit conference of Baghdad Nations at Istanbul which was to take place the very day that the revolt occurred;
2. To give added strength to the Syrians fighting in Lebanon as Lebanese in revolt, an obvious fiction;
3. To take out of the Baghdad Pact the only Arab nation in it.

It is necessary for Nasser to continue to win victories. This is true of every empire builder and is the essential weakness of his position. Lebanon's capacity to resist Nasser's penetration through Syria must have startled the entire Arab world, as Lebanon is a very small country, possesses few resources. But Lebanon is an exception among Arab countries in that about half of its population is Christian and resistant to Soviet Influence.

At any rate, Lebanon did resist and thereby upset the Arab apple-cart. The revolution in Iraq had to be rushed to make Lebanon helpless before the United States could intervene. The realistic objection to American intervention is that it is impossible for anyone to know what it will lead to.

Turkey is never to be forgotten. It is the most irreconcilably anti-Soviet country on earth, not only ideologically but because for about 250 years, Russia and Turkey have been at enmity, partly as a result of which the great empire of the Osmanli Turks, one of the largest in history, was destroyed. What Nasser is trying to do is to restore the Turkish Empire in Arabic-speaking countries into a unity with himself as the supreme sovereign.

Turkey will get into this situation if it can, as an excellent means of saving herself from Soviet penetration into Turkey and from the partially Soviet-inspired Cypriot diversion which has become so bothersome in the relations between Greece and the NATO Powers. It was the struggle over Cyprus which broke up the Balkan Alliance of Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey, a regional grouping that might have been very useful at the present time.

Another country to watch in this situation is Israel which nearly landed Nasser on the ropes in the Sinai War, assisted by Great Britain and France. Nasser was saved by the United States, one of the most idiotic acts in recent history. The betrayal of American allies in the Suez situation was a bitter blow to them but it was more costly to the United States because it gave an American sanction to Nasser's imperialism. The recent dealings between Nasser and a group of American bankers also seem to have encouraged him not only to flout the United States but to push forward his imperialistic designs. This is a natural response to a craven attitude by one who accepts dictatorship as a prerogative.

Israel faces a life and death struggle. Had Lebanon fallen prey to Nasser, Israel would have been next on the program. The geography of the situation requires it, for then Egypt and Syria would be united by land as well as in the air. Then would follow Jordan, Iraq and Saudi Arabia. Saudi Arabian revolt of some months ago has not worked out too well for Nasser. Nothing particularly important has happened. However, if Iraq falls, Israel is in danger and the territory of Israel could be absorbed by Syria if Jordan remained obdurately anti-Nasser.

This is how this situation shaped up at the moment that the United States intervened in Lebanon.

King Hussein Of Jordan Remains As Anchor Of Pro-West Friendship

(Editor's note—Today Drew Pearson awards the brass ring, good for one free ride on the WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND to King Hussein of Jordan.)

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—When I was in Amman, Capital of turbulent Jordan, last September, the betting odds were that King Hussein had one year to remain on the throne. Most diplomats figured he would be assassinated. Nine months have now passed and King Hussein is still alive and still on the throne. He is the most stable pro-western monarch in the Near East. Upon him will depend whether the west can regain Iraq.

Twenty-three years old, King Hussein has spent 21 years concentrating on sports cars, airplanes, and women. In the last two years he has given up sports cars and airplanes.

Just what are the ingredients necessary for kingship? Historians differ. One of them, of course, is courage. Another in these modern days of cutthroat intrigue and assassination is a good espionage system. Four days before pro-Nasser Arabs kicked Hussein's cousin, King Faisal, off the throne of Iraq, Hussein found that his own personal aide-de-camp, Lieut. Radi Abdullah was conspiring to do likewise with him. Lieutenant Abdullah was promptly arrested.

This should have been a warning to Hussein's 23-year-old cousin in Iraq. But King Faisal was asleep at the switch. So was our Central Intelligence. King Hussein was not.

The King's Subjects

As I sat in the outer room of King Hussein's palace waiting for an audience on a sultry September Sunday, the political life of Jordan ebbed and flowed around me. Members of the Moslem Brotherhood which has assassinated Arab leaders when they lean toward friendship with Israel, waited to see His Highness. So did Jordan diplomats, members of the Jordanian Parliament, and two Bedouin sheiks. The day was hot. The sheiks were dressed in layer after layer of white cloth, with stylish tan suits beneath. They could have come by either camel or Cadillac.

One of them, Sheik Turkey, protested vigorously that he had been stopped by a guard who did not want him to pass.

"I knew the King's grandfather when the King was in diapers," protested Sheik Turkey. "What does this guard mean by stopping me? I have more sheep than he has hairs on his head and more wives than he has sheep."

He fished down through the layers of cloth to a pocket in his pants, pulled out a huge roll of Jordanian pound notes. The Jordanian pound is worth twice as much as the British pound, and he probably had ten thousand dollars in that roll. He flourished it to indicate his wealth.

I asked him how many sheep he had.

"Enough," was the reply. A friend explained that he probably did not know.

These were the subjects of King Hussein. There were the leaders of the desert kingdom thrown together by the British after World War I, partly as a buffer state against Saudi Arabia, partly against Palestine. Most historians and most geographers agree that it had no reason for being. Yet it has been. And, under the tough, wise rule of King Hussein, continues to be.

Proud Of His Deserts

Little King Hussein is proud of his country. When I asked him what he was doing about irrigating his deserts he looked a little hurt.

"Oh, you came to Jordan at the wrong time of the year," he said. "If you had come in the spring or the winter you would have seen a wonderful green country. This is the dry season. However, we do need irrigation.

"We had great hopes of the Eric Johnston plan for getting water from the Jordan River, but that failed. Your point four program is helping us with some other irrigation projects."

Above the King's desk as we talked was a picture of his grandfather, King Abdullah. Abdullah was both courageous and farsighted. He met twice secretly with Mrs. Golda Maier, now Foreign Minister of Israel, to try to work out peace between the Jews and the Arabs. For this he was shot as he knelt to pray in the Great Mosque in Jerusalem.

Young King Hussein, who worships the memory of his grandfather, is reported to believe that peace can be worked out between Israel and Jordan. But with 400,000 Arab refugees from Israel living in camps in Jordan, this is not easy. Refugees constitute the most turbulent political group in his turbulent kingdom.

Uncertain Life Of A King

Outside his window as we talked, I could see a colorful member of the Arab Legion once trained by that famed British friend of the Arabs, Gen. Glubb Pasha. Outside the King's door as I came in were more guards dressed in shiny black boots, the tight coat and the tall lambskin hat of the cossack. And in front of his palace were two jeeps manned with machine guns, ready to escort the King's car.

Such are the hazards of ruling over a kingdom which Syria covets on the north and Colonel Nasser covets on the south. If they were to assassinate Hussein or stir up a successful rebellion against him, the United Arab Republic of Syria and Egypt for the first time would have almost a common border. Only Israel's Elath would be between. Now they are separated by long distances of sea and the desert kingdom of Jordan.

Yet nine months have passed, and the little King has not only remained on his throne but turned out to be the strongest pro-west ruler in the Near East. King Saud of Saudi Arabia, who once sent troops to quell Jordanian revolt, is virtually out of office. King Faisal of much stronger Iraq is no more. President Chamoun of Lebanon has been fighting for his life.

Only the 23-year-old monarch of Jordan remains as the sole anchor of pro-west friendship by which the United States can keep a hold on the Near East.

Bold Action Needed For Iraq Independence

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

These words are written in the chill moment of uncertainty, between the discussion and the decision. When they are printed, the decision will be known. An operation will have been launched to rescue Iraq from the blood-stained hands of the Baghdad plotters. Or the Western powers will almost surely have lost the chance.

Iraq is everything, the Lebanon nothing. Lebanese Foreign Minister Charles Malik has frankly admitted to all who would listen to him that the American landing in Beirut will be a fruitless, footling gesture, unless the larger problem of Iraq is simultaneously solved. Iraq, not Lebanon, has been the chief subject of all the anguished consultations between the British and American governments in these last agonizing days.

While the decision of the leaders of the West is breathlessly awaited, it is at least worth while setting down the pros and cons. They are pros and cons unlike any that have been argued since the end of World War II, even in the tense days between President Truman's Korean decision. In truth, this is the most crucial turning point since the cold war began. The cold war, remember, has been nothing more nor less than an unremitting Soviet effort to upset the world balance of power, which has been opposed by a very much less continuous Western effort to maintain the world balance of power. The balance of power in turn depends upon the outcome in the Middle East. And in present circumstances, the outcome in the Middle East depends upon the outcome in Iraq.

Malik's admission above-quoted may seem very curious, indeed, coming from the representative of the Lebanese state. But it too is a simple statement of fact. The presence of the Marines may permit a new President of Lebanon — perhaps Gen. Shehab — to be peacefully elected. It may permit President Chamoun to serve out his legal term. It may allow all the other outward signs of Lebanese independence to be decently preserved.

But Lebanon's alleged independence will not last long. It will hardly be worth a dried fig, if the independence of Iraq is not also restored. Neither will Kuweit or Bahrein or Saudi Arabia or Jordan, be worth a dried fig. If Gamal Abdel Nasser's conspiratorial attack on Baghdad is permitted to succeed, every friend of the West in every Arab land is quite certainly doomed. Even the cheap expedient that is popular in London — holding the little oil-rich Persian Gulf sheikdoms by naked force, if need be — will be more expensive and less fruitful in the end than a direct attack on the heart of the problem, which is now in Baghdad.

The rot will not end there, either. A neutralist Iran, a neutralist Pakistan, a Turkey moving back to the position Turkey chose in the last war — these are further items in the price that will have to be paid. And it will not end there, either. For the thrust will be felt in the very heart of the Western Alliance, when the Middle Eastern oil jugular is cut by Nasser.

Such are the reasons for taking bold action in Iraq. Most of the reasons for not taking action are mere twaddle — Hammerskjold-twaddle, world opinion-twaddle, other kinds of twaddle. When the knife is at the jugular, it becomes easier to tell twaddle from reality. Hence the twaddle-reasons have received significantly little attention in the recent exchanges between Washington and London.

There is in fact only one real reason for not taking action in Iraq—fear of what the Soviets may do about it. The Kremlin has hastened to recognize the insurrectionary government in Baghdad. If we respond to a call for help from King Hussein of Jordan, who has inherited the legitimate leadership of the merged Hashemite states, the Soviets want us to think they too will respond to a call for help from their Baghdad friends.

Only a fool would say, at this juncture, that the Soviets will not respond in this manner. If the Western nations take no action in Iraq, this crisis will be far worse than Munich. But if the West does take action, this crisis can be another Sarajevo. There is no use wrapping up that black fact in pink cotton wool.

There are two things to be said about that fact, however. If the Western nations act with iron resolution and utmost speed (and it is already almost too late), then one can hope the Soviets will only huff and puff and finally do nothing, as we did in the very different case of Hungary. But let a double standard of behavior be established, preventing us from having our say about any situation on their side of the line dividing the world, but leaving them to have the final say about situations on our side of the line. After that, the cause of freedom will be lost already. After that, the road to the final catastrophe will go by easy stages.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

The 10,000 scientific egg-heads are coming up with Univacked chaos in the first semester of the Geo-Fizzical Year.

They are discovering things about the earth that don't seem impossible. The ice at the South Pole is thicker than at the North. You can take your pick.

There's another Mississippi River four miles under the Pacific Ocean. As an oldtime troutline fisherman I'm asking Congress to declare this a disaster area.

About 3,952 egg-heads measured the weather in Siberia where it's 109 degrees below Fahrenheit's worst batting slump. Now you know why Eskimos don't bother with doors.

If the ice cap melted the ocean would rise 147 feet, elapsed time. It will be no time to be on the beach picking up pretty sea-shells for strange children.

Deepest spot in the Pacific is seven miles as the crow flies. Quite a bird bath.

The 10,000 oval-tops can tell you everything that's going to happen. But not how to prevent it.

Back Yard Pool Must Be Kept Supervised, Clean

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Two chickens in every pot and two cars in every garage are old hat. The current slogan is a swimming pool in every back-yard—an excellent idea if you can afford it.

Swimming is enjoyed by persons of all ages. The individual controls the degree of exertion which varies from none, as in floating, to the most strenuous use of the majority of the body muscles. The back yard pool has many health advantages but — to be safe — it must be supervised and kept clean.

The main hazards are injury, drowning, sunburn, and infections. There also are legal liabilities if the pool is used by friends and children in the neighborhood. Enclose it with a fence if for no other reason than to keep out the toddlers and stray dogs.

Youngsters like to horse around and injuries from falls are common because the pool's surface is slippery and hard. Accidents also stem from belly flops and back flipping from the diving board. Keep poles, ring buoys, and first aid kits in a convenient place. List the phone numbers of your physician, the fire department, and the ambulance service.

But infection is the number one hazard. The water gets dirty and bacteria multiply. Algae (green scum) forms, especially during the hot days of July and August. Most of the pollution comes from the bathers. When the pool is used by many persons, insist upon a shower before entering and make it a rule that no one with skin disease or other infection will be permitted to use the pool.

Water sanitation is maintained through filtration, chlorination, and suction cleaners. Good filtration systems are available; they screen out 95 per cent of the organisms while the pool is in use. The same water is used over and over again, saving on the water bill.

The rest of the bacteria are killed through chlorination. Regular checks should be made to see that the concentration of this chemical is adequate to destroy germs. In some instances, alum preparations must be added to coagulate organic matter.

Copper salts may be needed to control algae and allied plant growths. These necessities may be purchased through chemical houses or hardware and garden supply stores.

GOITER IN NEWBORN

Mrs. S. writes: Can a baby be born with a goiter?

REPLY

Yes, especially if the mother is taking iodides for an allergic condition or an antithyroid drug for a thyroid disorder. This type of congenital goiter usually disappears within a week or two.

TB IN TEEN-AGERS

G. E. writes: Is is true that young people are unusually susceptible to tuberculosis?

REPLY

Yes, the stress and strain of adolescence is said to lower resistance to the causative bacilli. After accidents, tuberculosis is the leading cause of death in the 15 to 34 age bracket.

DRUG ADDICTION

C. R. writes: What drugs are considered addictive?

REPLY

The narcotics, such as morphine, opium, and heroin; the barbiturates, and synthetic products such as demerol. Some authorities include alcohol in the list of addicting drugs.

ALL OUT OF STEP BUT JIM

Mrs. J. writes: I just moved into a new neighborhood and all the people have the disgusting habit of sticking out their tongues at everybody. Do you think they are all crazy?

REPLY

Yes, except thee and me.

THE RESIDUE

M. J. writes: What is meant by residual changes?

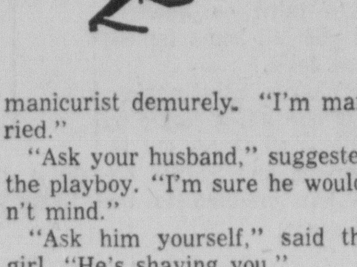
REPLY

What is left after a person has had an infection or accident. For example, the residual change in pulmonary tuberculosis is a lung scar. The same can be said of scarring from acne or an auto accident.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf



An Englishman, invited to a nobby function, discovered that moths had gotten into his full-dress suit. "Get some mothballs," suggested the maid, "or they'll destroy the rest of your wardrobe." The Englishman bought five big boxes of mothballs in the ensuing two days. "What on earth can you be doing with all those mothballs?" asked the druggist.

"It's my bloody bad aim," explained the Englishman. "I miss the blighters five times out of six."

A Broadway playboy had a closer shave than he bargained for in a barber shop recently. His manicure girl was very beautiful, and the playboy suggested a show and a nightclub that evening. "I don't think I ought to," said the manicurist demurely. "I'm married."

"Ask your husband," suggested the playboy. "I'm sure he wouldn't mind."

"Ask him yourself," said the girl. "He's shaving you."

Ethical Standards

By Brother Barnabas

I was shocked the other day to hear a prominent businessman say that 90 per cent of the buying public look upon the storekeeper as more or less of a crook trying to beat the customer and needing to be watched.

They accuse him of not telling the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth about the goods he wants to unload; that would spoil the sale.

This policy is called in law "caveat emptor," meaning "let the buyer beware." If he feels that he has been cheated, it's his own fault; he should have been more cautious.

If that is the ethical standard to go by, then buying and selling becomes degraded to a bargaining system in which each party tries to outwit the other, and one is bound to lose—which is not ethical.

Bad Bargains

A bargain-hunting gallant in the matrimonial market proposed to a bargain table belle and was turned down. He felt so cheap over it that she, scenting a bargain, accepted him. She took him for better or worse, and he proved worse than she took him for. It's hard to convince a woman that even a bargain costs, and somebody gets the worst of it.

Abraham Lincoln and a trader agreed to swap horses, sight unseen. The trader brought a sway-back, gaunt, decrepit, superannuated stack of skin and bones, while "Honest Abe" matched him with a dilapidated saw-horse. The trader's horse went to the pound, while the saw-horse went to the woodpile.

Federal Requirements

The revelations of Upton Sinclair and Doctor Harvey W. Wiley which showed the conditions of filth existing in the stockyards and slaughterhouses of the nation led to federal legislation in a series of Acts, beginning June 30, 1906. These laws were designed to prevent the adulteration or misbranding of food or drugs. The narcotic and stimulants content of proprietary medicines had to be labelled.

It is doubtful whether any federal enactment will suffice to enforce strict honesty. Honesty pays but it doesn't pay enough to satisfy some people.

If booze were properly labelled it would read: "It sparkles in the cup and goes down smoothly. At the last it bites like a serpent, and stings like an adder." (Proverbs 23:31-32).

Kinds Of Honesty

Scrupulous honesty and conventional honesty are two different things. You call on a neighbor and the maid says she's not in. She is all in from being out too late the night before.

"Are you sure this butter has no hairs in it?" asked the housewife of the countrywoman delivering freshly churned butter from the farm. She replied, "My husband and I spent all morning forking them out, I think we got them all."

A thoughtful husband, to prove his devotion to his wife on his trip away from home for quite a spell, stepped up to the hosiery counter and asked for a box of invisible hose, sheer, size 40, long. The lady said she had been selling them all morning and they were still invisible. Said he, "Then send them and charge to my invisible account."

A lady's man wandered into a fashion salon to observe the pulchritude of the beautiful models.

He was thrilled by the loveliness and grace of a blonde pirouetting before a roomful of female spectators, modeling a scrumptious Parisian gown, marked down to $1,000.

He asked the emcee if that included the girl inside and she referred him to the proprietor. Looking him over at a distance he seemed a doughty contender, and on second thought he slipped out at the side door.

All this persiflage is preliminary to saying that in the opinion of the writer there is more downright honesty per square foot among business people than the 90 per cent dissidents would indicate.

Honesty In Business Rates High

My guess is that 90 per cent of the business men I know will go out of their way to please a customer, and if the goods is not what it was represented to be your money will be returned, or proper adjustment will be cheerfully made.

The proportion of honesty rates higher among business people than in any other occupation I know.

Higher than among the Clergy. The preacher takes his text and immediately departs from it.

Lawyers are proverbial deceivers. "What is a lawyer, Paw?" Paw replies: "A lawyer, my son, is a man who induces two other men to strip for a fight and then runs off with their clothes."

There are more honest folks in my community than dishonest. Many folks who appear heartless do not wear their hearts on their sleeves.

Lions Defeat B'nai B'rith In Ninth, 2-1

Jaycees, Bedford Road In 3-3 Draw

Joe Hoban's single, scoring Frank Murray in the ninth inning, gave the Lions Club a 2-1 victory over B'nai B'rith in a nine-inning Hot Stove Baseball League battle last night at Penn Avenue Field.

Murray singled, moved to second on Sisk's infield out and scored the winning run in the extra inning game when Hoban's grounder bounded over the head of the first baseman.

Jim Stratton, the Lions' starting pitcher, suffered a head injury while sliding into third base in the third inning and was taken to Memorial Hospital for examination.

B'nai B'rith's only hit was a single by Metzger in the sixth inning.

In another nine inning contest, played at Fort Hill Field, the Jaycees and Bedford Optimists battled to a 3-3 draw when hostilities were halted so that a City High School game could get under way.

Phil Barbe homered and Harvey tripled for the Jaycees while Harold Hardinger had two safeties for Bedford Road.

Harvey's three-base blow put the Jaycees in front in the top of the ninth and Harold Hardinger's hit tied the score in the bottom of the final stanza. Scores:

Keech's Drug Stores Defeats Local 26 For 4th Win In Row, 6-4

Keech's Drug Stores softball team scored its fourth straight victory in the Men's Rec Softball League yesterday, defeating the front-running Local 26 team by the score of 6-4 at Naval Reserve Field.

The loss cut Local 26's lead over the runner-up Western Maryland Railway team to 1½ games. Keech's record now is 8-7.

By winning yesterday's game Keech's cracked the five-game winning streak of Don Decker, who started on the rubber for the losers and was supplanted in the 5th inning by "Pickles" Doolan.

Bob Scaletta went the route for Keech's and chalked up his third win against as many losses.

Jack Spangler batted in three runs with a single and Jim Ellsworth smacked a two-bagger and single for the winners. Houdersheldt and Golden smashed homers and Barbe collected two hits for Local 26. Score:

Giants Defeat Pittsburgh, 5-4 Cop N. L. Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pitcher Stu Miller's change-up artistry and a three-base blast by Willie Mays carried San Francisco's Giants back into the National League lead Friday night with a 5-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

That, coupled with Chicago's 5-3 triumph over Milwaukee, put the Giants one-half game ahead of the Braves, the same advantage they held last Sunday.

The 165-pound Miller weakened in the eighth and after giving up three singles and a run, was relieved by the veteran Marv Grissom. The 40-year-old reliever put out the fire that frame, but the Pirates tallied twice in the ninth on two singles and an error before the Giants could wrap it up.

Rookie Hurler Beats Orioles

Woodeshick Scores For Cleveland, 5-1

BALTIMORE (AP)—Rookie Hal Woodeshick checked Baltimore on seven hits Friday night in his first major league start and Earl Averill smashed a three-run homer in Cleveland's 5-1 victory over the Orioles.

The only Baltimore run leaked through in the sixth inning, when the Tribe made two errors, one of them Woodeshick's wild throw.

Averill's second inning smash, his first homer of the season, featured an 11-hit attack on three Baltimore pitchers. Lary Doby and Rocky Colavito opened that inning with singles, and after Russ Nixon grounded out, Averill parked one in the left field stands.

The Indians scored their fourth run in the fifth inning and the Tribe's final run came in the seventh when Mickey Vernon tripled and scored on Willy Miranda's throwing error.

Runnels Gets 5 Hits, Takes Over A.L. Lead

BOSTON (AP)—Frank Malzone tagged a tie-breaking grand slam homer, Pete Runnels collected five hits to take over the American League batting lead Friday night and their Boston teammates profited for a 11-9 victory over Detroit.

Malzone lifted his big blow into the left field screen to dissolve a 6-6 deadlock in the seventh inning. Runnels got three doubles and two singles in six trips that sent his average to .334.

The pair drove in seven runs as Boston posted its fifth straight victory and tightened its hold on second place by pulling three and one half games ahead of the Tigers.

Dick Tomanek, A's Southpaw, Beats Yankees

Scores Third Win Over New York, 2-1

NEW YORK (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics wrapped up their scoring in the first two innings and went on to beat New York 2-1 Friday night as left-hander Dick Tomanek worked out of a ninth-inning jam that cost him a shutout.

The first three A's to bat — Mike Baxes, Bill Tuttle and Roger Maris—singles for a run. The second run came on a single by Frank House, a pair of infield outs that moved him to third and a single by Baxes.

Don Larsen went the distance for the first time since June 22 for the Yankees, but wound up with a 7-4 record.

Tomanek, 27, now is 5-4 for the season, with three victories over New York.

The Yankees, who haven't been shut out by a southpaw since Cleveland's Herb Score did it on Aug. 21, 1956, had eight hits before the ninth, but few good chances.

With two out in the ninth, Andy Carey and Norm Siebern got their second singles of the game. Then Carey cracked through Tomanek's bid for his major league shutout when pinch - hitter Yogi Berra punched a bad-hop single past first baseman Harry Simpson on a 3-2 pitch.

Redlegs Hand St. Louis Cards Double Defeat

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tight and crafty pitching by veterans Don Newcombe and Bob Purkey plus some homer hitting helped the resurgent Cincinnati Redlegs sweep a twi-night doubleheader from St. Louis' Cardinals Friday night, 8-3 and 2-1.

It was the seventh loss in a row for the Cards who were bumped out of the first division.

The Reds, just out of a seven-game slump that had sent them to the cellar, banged out 17 hits in running a new victory string to three.

Frankie Robinson's ninth inning homer won the game and snapped a tie in the nightcap that had continued from the fourth inning.

Newcombe not only went all the way in the opener but chipped in some useful plate power—a single, double and a two-run homer.

Sports Stadium Money Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee approved today $3,000,000 for a new facility at the National Bureau of Standards in Gaithersburg, Md.

It rejected, however, $1,200,000 to acquire land for a sports stadium in Washington and $2,000,000 for land for the George Washington Memorial Parkway from Washington to Prince Georges County, Md.

Coach Tommy Henrich of the Detroit Tigers batted .282 in 1,284 American League games with the Yankees. He also hit .282 in 21 World Series games.

Feller Raps Huge Bonus For Youths

Calls It Ridiculous, Robinson Disagrees

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bob Feller Friday hurled a verbal fast ball at the payment of huge bonuses to promising youngsters.

"Ridiculous," snapped Feller, who said he got nothing for signing his first contract except three autographed baseballs.

In denouncing bonuses that have run above $100,000 a crack, Feller disagreed with another former baseball great, Jackie Robinson.

Both Feller, Cleveland's former strikeout king, and Robinson, ex-Dodger third baseman, testified before the Senate Anti-monopoly subcommittee on House - passed sports legislation.

"Don't punish" young players by discontinuing bonuses, Robinson said. He said payments for signing a contract provide youngsters with a nest egg to live on, if it turns out that they lack the ability to make a career of the major leagues.

Feller said these bonuses lead to no good. Based only on hopes for the future, he contended, they bring "undue attention on a young boy. . .may turn his head. . .cause resentment among his teammates . . .he may not be able to take it all in stride."

Bobby Scanlon Whips Kerwin

Colegian Scores 26th Straight Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Undefeated Bobby Scanlon racked up his 26th straight victory Friday night by flooring and decisively outpointing Gale Kerwin in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Scanlon, of San Francisco, weighed 134½ to Kerwin's 139½.

Scanlon, a 22-year-old collegian, dropped his taller and heavier rival in the second round and scored the harder punches in a rough fight fought mainly at close quarters.

The baby - faced Californian decked his 23-year-old foe late in the second round with two successive left hooks to the jaw. Kerwin got up on one knee at six, shook his head, and arose at eight. The bell rang seconds later before Scanlon could follow up his advantage.

Scanlon was penalized the eighth round for repeated holding but he won the verdict from the three officials handily. Judge Artie Schwartz had it 7-3 while Referee Art Mercante and Judge Bill Recht had it 6-3-1. The AP card had Scanlon in front, 7-3.

Scanlon's record now is 30 wins and one draw. Kerwin suffered his seventh defeat. He has won 27.

Wynn Fans 11 In Sox Victory

Chicago Conquers Washington, 9 To 2

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Early Wynn restricting Washington to four hits and Al Smith knocking in five runs on a grand slam homer and two doubles, the Chicago White Sox breezed to a 9-2 victory over the Senators Friday night. Wynn fanned 11 bringing his season's total to 101, the ninth straight year he has topped the 100 mark.

Wynn, 38, with more shutouts than any other active American League pitcher, was deprived of the 40th of his career when the usually flawless White Sox shortstop-second base pair of Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox erred in the eighth inning and permitted the Senators to score two unearned runs.

In the eighth, Ossie Alvarez singled and pinch-hitter Julio Becquer walked. When Fox fumbled Herb Plews' apparent double-play grounder, the bases were loaded. Then, with one out, Aparicio messed up Neil Chrisley's apparent double-play hopper, and two runs scampered across.

Hodges Wins Back First Base Job On Pinch Homer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Veteran Gil Hodges won back his old first base job with the Los Angeles Dodgers by socking a pinch hit homer against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The slumping Hodges had been benched last week in favor of Steve Bilko, a big righthanded hitter whose tragic flaw is curve balls.

Moore Agrees To Meet Durelle In Title Bout

MONCTON, N.B. (AP) — Chris Shaban, manager of British Empire light heavyweight champion Yvon Durelle, said Friday world champion Archie Moore has agreed to defend his title against Durelle in Vancouver Sept. 10.

Shaban said he is undecided about accepting Vancouver promoter Al Kaline's terms. He said he is dickering with the International Boxing Club for a Durelle-Moore fight in Montreal or Toronto, but added "I'm not going to let this thing slip through my fingers," he said he will wait for the IBC's decision before signing with Kaline.

Hebert Ties Finsterwald At 139 For PGA Tourney Lead

Snead, Boros, Casper Trail By One Stroke

Fleck Fined $100, Jimmy Demaret Is Disqualified

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald and Jay Hebert steered a steady course through a storm of pickups, blowups and foulups Friday and tied for the halfway lead in the Professional Golfers Assn. championship at 139.

They held an insecure one-stroke edge over three of the sports most formidable competitors — Sam Snead, Julius Boros and Bill Casper, Jr.—with more than a dozen others no more than four strokes back.

It was a day of chaos and confusion over the Llanerch Country Club course.

Fleck Fined $100

Jack Fleck, the unknown who beat Ben Hogan for the National Open championship in 1955, left the course after three holes in a reported protest against playing conditions and drew a $100 fine.

Then Jimmy Demaret, for more than a decade one of the game's brightest stars, blew himself to an 84 after an opening 69 and was disqualified for inadvertently signing an erroneous scorecard.

Disgusted over what he called the worst round of his bigtime career—a card which saw par doubled on two holes—Demaret unthinkingly signed for a five on the 14th hole and an 83 total. Actually he took a six for 84.

Demaret Disqualified

Signing a wrong card, under official rules, means automatic disqualification.

Fleck left the tournament premises and checked out of the hotel without giving any official reason for his withdrawal.

Clark Morrow of Wakefield, Mass., was fined $100 for not reporting for the second round. Two others were fined $100 for failing to show Thursday.

Mike Fetchick of Yonkers, N.Y., was penalized two strokes for letting a groundskeeper repair a ball mark on the ninth green before he putted. He was given a second round 76 instead of 74 for a 150 total.

Finsterwald, from Tequesta, Fla., birdied two of the last three holes, sinking a 15-foot downhill putt on the 18th, for a second round 72. He had led the opening round with 67, one stroke ahead of Jay Hebert.

A 36-hole score of 154 was needed to survive the cutoff reducing the field for the third round to the low 90 and ties.

Sarazen Fails

Ninety-three actually qualified. Prominent casualties included three former champions—Gene Sarazen, the 56-year-old squire from Germantown, N. Y.) Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., and Jim Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y.

Two strokes off the lead at 141 came a pair of darkhorse club professionals, Felice Torza of Aurora, Ill., and Bill Collins of Baltimore.

Bolt Shoots 142

Four were tied at 142. They were Tommy Bolt, the chastened National Open Champion who is on his best behavior, Lionel Hebert and two ex-champs, Jack Burke Jr. and Doug Ford.

Herb Score Will Go On Disabled List

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' sore-armed southpaw, Herb Score, still has an inflamed tendon in his elbow so the club will ask to have him put on the disabled list, it was announced Friday.

The physician told Score and General Manager Frank Lane that it would be advisable to refrain from pitching for three or four weeks. Lane decided to ask Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to put the hurler on the disabled list.

Neji Hangs Up Monmouth Park Course Record

Tops Elkridge's Total Earnings

OCEANPORT, N. J., July 18 (AP)—Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Neji, champion steeplechase horse of 1957, today marked his seasonal bow with a new course record victory at Monmouth Park. The triumph lifted his gross earnings to a new all-time high among jumpers.

Neji, ridden by A. Patrick Smithwick, closed strongly in the stretch to defeat Mrs. Michael G. Walsh's Cloonroughan by a half length. The 8-year-old gelding by Hunters Moon IV-Accra by Annapolis carried top weight of 162 pounds, conceding six to Cloonroughan and 32 to C. Mahlon Kline's Ragtime Cowboy, third in the field of 11 contesting the prelude purse.

The time of 3.15 1/5 for the about one mile and three-quarters, including 10 hurdles, was one second faster than the standard set a year ago by Allison L. S. Stern's Greek Brother, which finished fifth today.

Neji, a half-brother to the stakes-winning Mandingo, Songai and Nahodah, took down $2,600 of the $4,000 purse to raise his gross gleanings to $237,300. Kent F. Miller's Elkridge, retired at the completion of the 1941 campaign, had previously held the gross money-winning championship with earnings of $235,225.

Winner of the three steeplechase handicaps last year, including the Temple Gwathmey with 173 pounds on his back, Neji was heavily supported by the crowd estimated at 16,900 and paid $4.20, $2.60 and $2.40. Neji was bracketed in the wagering with Mrs. J. H. McKnight's Great Tom, ninth in the running.

Neji, best steeplechase horse in 1955 as well as last season, will probably be invited to compete in the $22,000 Midsummer Hurdle Handicap here on July 31.

Cousy Will Appear At WVU Workshop

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Professional basketball star Bob Cousy, recognized as the ball-handling wizard of the powerful Boston Celtics, will appear here July 29 during West Virginia University's coaching workshop on basketball.

Mountaineer Coach Fred Schaus will direct the week-long cage program which opens July 28. Schaus said the sessions will be open to the public and encouraged persons to attend the day Cousy will be featured.

Cousy is a representative of the Hood Rubber Co. of Watertown, Mass., during the off-season. That firm will sponsor his Morgantown visit.

Grantsville-Hyndman Heads Pen-Mar Slate

Leading Contenders Meet Today; Four Contests Sunday

The torrid pennant race resumes today in the Pen-Mar Baseball League today with games involving the leading contenders scheduled at Salisbury and Grantsville.

Top attraction of the day is that between the Hyndman Merchants, tied with the Barrelville Old Exports for first place at 14-3, and the Grantsville Sluggers, who have reeled off four wins in a row and are breathing down the backs of the leaders with a 14-4 record.

Grantsville and Hyndman will be tangling for the third time this season. The Pennsylvanians won the opener, 10-6, with Jim Leydig decisioning Ronnie Rice. Bobby Dawson hurled the Sluggers to a 7-5 win over the Merchants in the second game of the series, with Glenn Deremer taking the loss.

Exports Face Cards

Barrelville is slated to tackle the Cardinals at Salisbury, Pa., today. The Old Export's six-game winning streak was snapped by Grantsville last Sunday but "Buck" Fiorita's club expects to regain its winning form in the second game of the series with the Somerset countians. Barrelville copped the opener of this series, 13-0, with Jesse Markley decisioning Don Carey.

The third game on today's program finds the Flintstone Farmers battling the Old Exports at Mt. Savage. Mt. Savage holds 5-2 and 4-3 decisions over the league's tailenders.

Four Games Sunday

In Sunday contests, Hyndman visits Salisbury, Barrelville hosts Flintstone, Zihlman entertains Wellersburg and Grantsville will battle it out with the Old Germans at Mt. Savage.

Hyndman has split even with Salisbury, losing 5-4 and winning 7-3. Barrelville has won three in a row from the Farmers, 19-1, 2-1 and 16-6.

Wellersburg won the opener from Zihlman, 8-5, but dropped the second game, 16-11. Grantsville has whipped Mt. Savage twice, 5-1 and 12-9.

Joe Brown Makes Fifth Defense Of His Crown

Fights Kenny Lane Wednesday Night At Houston, Texas

By JACK CUDDY
United Press International

NEW YORK, July 18—(UPI)—When Joe Brown stepped out of the doctor's office in New Orleans on the morning of August 25, 1956, he said: "I sure feel happy to be lightweight champion, but I'm not happy about this—"

And he pointed with his left hand to the temporary sling supporting the white cast about his right hand and forearm.

Almost A Stranger

Although Brown of New Orleans was in his 11th year as a professional when he became champion, he was almost a stranger to most boxing fans. He was ranked only eighth among contenders when he entered the ring before 7,021 at the New Orleans Auditorium.

A non-title draw with Smith six months earlier had maneuvered him into the title shot.

At 30 years and three months, he was the second oldest man to win the lightweight title for the first time. Rocky Kansas had been five months older when he won what has sometimes been called "the young man's crown" in 1925.

At 30 he was the obscure ruler of a division that until about 1940 had been known as the "second money class"—topped only by the heavyweights in gates and purses.

Top lightweight competition nearly always had been ultra-attractive because success in the class demanded either speed and cleverness approaching that of feathers or bantams—or punching power approaching that of middleweights—or both.

There were the smart speedsters like Willie Ritchie, Freddy Welsh, Sammy Mandell and Lou Ambers, and the sluggers like Al Armstrong and Ike Williams, and the great combination boxer-punchers like Joe Gans, Benny Leonard, Tony Canzoneri and Barney Ross.

Could obscure Joe Brown, a veteran of 30 with a broken right wrist, hope to build a reputation in the once-great division — or even hold the title for long? Particularly a veteran who was reputedly a "lazy" fighter.

Respected Champion

Well, the Joe Brown of today is perhaps the most respected champion in any division. His wrist healed perfectly and he displayed a truly remarkable combination of speed, ringcraft and explosiveness in 10 bouts since he won the crown. They include four title defenses.

Although held to a non-title draw by Joey Lopes, whom he knocked out in the 11th round of a return title fight, Brown extended his unbeaten string to 17 bouts. Six of his nine victories as champion were by knockouts.

In addition to the title-defense kayo over Lopes, he also knocked out ex-champ Smith (11) in a return championship fight, and challengers Orlando Zulueta (15) and Ralph Dupas (8).

At 32, Brown will make his fifth defense Wednesday night against 26-year-old Kenny Lane, a speedy southpaw, at Houston, Tex. Will Joe hammer on to greater glory or succumb to youth? He's favored at 2-1.

British Netmen Go To European Finals

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Great Britain qualified for the finals of the European Zone Davis Cup competition Friday by defeating France in the decisive doubles match.

Bobby Wilson and Mike Davies, who won the two singles matches Thursday, combined for a 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1 triumph over Jean Claude Molinari and Pierre Darmon of France. That triumph boosted the count to 3-0 for England and made Saturday's concluding singles mere formalities.

Great Britain will meet the winner of the Italy-Poland semifinal for the zone title.

Banks, Moryn Homers Beat Braves, 5-3

Briggs Posts 4th Win For Chicago; Aaron Belts 19th

CHICAGO (AP) — The muscle-flexing Chicago Cubs bombarded the World Champion Milwaukee Braves with their home run artillery Friday, Ernie Banks and Walt Moryn triggering them to a 5-3 victory.

The Braves, who also added a couple of blasts by Joe Adcock and Hank Aaron, ended a four-game winning streak.

The third-place Cubs now have totaled 105 homers for the campaign and nudged closer to the top spot in winning their 11th game in the last 15 starts.

Aaron's 19th homer in the sixth locked the score 3-3.

That's the way it stayed until the Cubs again got to starter Carlton Willey in the eighth to hand him his third setback against a pair of victories.

Sammy Taylor started it with a double, his only hit of the game. Then Moryn, hitless in three trips, sent a skyscraping poke onto the catwalk fence in deep right field corner. It was his 17th home run.

County To Hear First Civil Service Infraction

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday received their first case where a county employe is being charged with infractions of the regulations under which employes work under Civil Service.

Raymond Messmer, superintendent of Sylvan Retreat, wrote the commissioners that John Moravia, an orderly at the institution, has broken the regulations on several instances. He charged him with reporting off sick. It was later discovered that he was not ill, Messmer said.

The county board will turn over the letter from Messmer to the Civil Service Commission for action.

Moravia will be given the opportunity for a hearing.

Objection was raised by Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson to the George Construction Company doing "most of the work" on repair jobs needed on county buildings.

His comment followed presentation of a bill for the work on a window in the photostatic room in the basement at the Court House.

Commissioner William A. Wilson said the work had been ordered by the clerk of Circuit Court, who has jurisdiction over the photostatic room but the county commissioners pay for all maintenance of the Court House.

Jeffries Given Pay Increas

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday authorized an increase in the salary of John Jeffries, probation officer with the Allegany County Juvenile Court.

Letters from Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris of Circuit Court and Magistrate Fred H. Anderson of Juvenile Court outlined that Jeffries' work was excellent and the importance of his work justified such an increase.

Under the board's action Jeffries' salary was raised from $3,630 to $4,000 annually. Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, informed the commissioners that Jeffries is not under Civil Service but is under the jurisdiction of the court.

Getty also commented that Jeffries had done excellent work in the time he has handled the probation duties of the Juvenile Court.

The board also noted that Allegany County gets only $13,442.14 out of the $61,022 in state taxes on alcohol for the fiscal year ending June 30. The balance is allocated among the incorporated communities such as Cumberland, Frostburg, Midland, Lonaconing, Barton, Westernport and Luke.

Wilson Given Authority To Place Tax Machine

On motion of Commissioner James Orr and unanimously carried, the supervision for the placement of the addressograph machine for the County Tax Office has been placed in the hands of Commissioner William A. Wilson.

Commissioner Orr said that Wilson had set up the Election Board system several years ago and is familiar with such work. The board also decided that Aubrey Webb will be the operator of the new device. He has been employed in the Assessing Department for about seven or eight months.

Wilson said the machine will be set up in a room in the Court House basement as it is noisy when being operated. The metal plates which will contain information for tax bills will be stamped out on the machine. It is expected the system will be ready in plenty of time for the tax bills which will be sent out next year.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson had objected Tuesday to the actions of Ernest B. Treat, assistant tax collector, in discussing where the machine should be placed and by whom it was to be operated. At that time Commissioner Wilson said Treat had no authority in the matter and was voicing his (Treat's) opinion in the matter.

Commissioner Wilkinson yesterday also asked that the Roads Department be instructed to place a sign at the intersection of Lower Town Creek Road and the entrance of Van Meter's Beach indicating that it was a dangerous intersection. The board acceded to the request.

GETS SCHOLARSHIP — A senatorial scholarship to the University of Maryland has been won by R. Neil Phillips, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon K. Phillips, 917 Zihlman Way, State Senator Charles M. See announced yesterday.

Police Unit Holds Election

Harold G. Armbruster was re-elected president of Cumberland Auxiliary Police in the annual election of the organization Thursday night at the Canada Hose House. He was unopposed.

Others elected are C. S. Browning, vice president; Faye Carter, treasurer, and Eston Paxton, trustee for a three-year term.

The officers will be installed at a meeting Thursday, August 21, at which time the various committees will be appointed.

The Auxiliary Police has a membership in excess of 400 men, Armbruster said, and its equipment includes a jeep, boat and delivery truck, which is used to transport working gear and men to sites where their services are needed.

The Auxiliary Police has established an outstanding reputation for its work during drownings and in time of high water, Armbruster noted in making an appeal for funds with which to keep the vehicles and equipment in working order.

Urgently needed, he continued, are five life vests for the men who work the grappling hooks and man the boat in rescue operations.

RR Damage Suit Trial Is Moved

A Keyser railroad worker's suit for damages against the B&O Railroad has been transferred from U. S. District Court in Pittsburgh to the Federal District Court of Maryland for trial in either Baltimore or Cumberland, The Associated Press reported yesterday.

In an order dated July 8, Judge Rabe F. Marsh of the Pittsburgh court, said the trial in Maryland would be cheaper for the railroad and more convenient for witnesses.

The railroader, Kenneth L. Hostetler, had objected to transfer of the case on grounds it would be a hardship and make it necessary for him to have a Maryland attorney.

But Judge Marsh said: "Although Keyser, the plaintiff's home, is 30 miles farther to Baltimore than to Pittsburgh, the added expense for the plaintiff to travel is slight and if, perchance, the trial is held in Cumberland, it will be much more convenient and less expensive for the plaintiff."

Hostetler had filed suit in Pittsburgh February 20 claiming he was injured while working for the railroad on April 7, 1957 at New Gate, near Hagerstown. The amount of damages sought was not available.

The railroad in asking transfer of the case, said it had 13 witnesses including five doctors, four of these from Baltimore and one from Keyser. The remaining eight include three from Cumberland and five from in or near Hagerstown. It further claimed that if the trial were held in Pittsburgh, cost for these witnesses would be $234 a day compared to $99 a day if the trial were held in Cumberland.

Stocks Churn Irregularly To Another New Peak

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market Friday churned irregularly to another new peak for the year and did it on the heaviest volume of the week.

It was the market's fourth straight three-million-share day, the total of 3,350,000 shares topping Thursday's 3,180,000. For this year it was second only to the 3 950,000 shares traded Jan. 16.

Once again, defense-related stocks got a big play in a continued reflection of the international crisis. But profit taking late in the day erased or slashed many gains, leaving the overall list in a highly mixed state.

The industrials carried the ball in the rise and steels were again the favorites, five issues in this group being among the 15 most active stocks. Rails and utilities showed a lower tendency.

Most aircrafts, base metals, rubbers and electronics made gains. Gains by oils were clipped severely.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks rose, three fell and one was unchanged.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 10 cents to its new 1958 high of $178.10 with the industrials up 70 cents to a new high for the year, the rails down 10 cents and the utilities down 30 cents.

Of 1,181 issues traded, 498 rose and 453 fell. There were 119 new highs for the year and 5 new lows.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed on volume of 770,000 shares compared with 730,000 Thursday.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — Corn futures prices extended their recent gains with a good rally on the Board of Trade Friday but other grains and soybeans finished mostly lower.

Trading was brisk at times and indicated a volume again well above average as it has been since the Middle East crisis broke open the bull market on Tuesday.

There was a strong movement among many dealers to cash their profits and go to the sidelines for the weekend but their offerings were quickly taken by short interests eager to cover commitments against any possible worsening of the international situation.

Selling pressure has been notably absent since the U.S. Marines landed in Lebanon, but traders commented that the supply situation in cash grain could have brought that about anyway, although probably to a lesser degree. The market has been cramped between small supplies of grain available for delivery and commercial requirements.

Wheat closed ⅜-2 cents a bushel lower, July $1.90½-⅜; corn ¼-1¾ higher, July $1.35⅛-34½; oats ¼ higher to ⅜ lower, July 65½; rye ⅛ higher to ½ lower, July $1.30⅜; soybeans ⅞-2¾ lower, July $2.32⅝-¼; lard 22 cents a hundred pounds higher to 13 cents lower, July $12.42.

N. Y. Eggs And Butter

NEW YORK (AP) — (USDA) — Wholesale egg prices were about steady Friday. Receipts 14,600.

Nearby whites: Top quality (48-50 lbs) 38-41; mediums 31½-32½; smalls 22½-23½.

Butter steady receipts 224,000. Prices unchanged.

County Unable To Get Federal Road Funds

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, informed the board yesterday that there are no federal matching funds available for secondary road projects in Allegany County.

Commissioner William A. Wilson had suggested several weeks ago that an inquiry be made of the State Roads Commission concerning the possibility of obtaining $100,000 in federal funds and the county provide $50,000 for a project to provide employment for some of the unemployed of the county.

Wilson said he had read an article in the bulletin of the National Association of County Commissioners on the federal road funds which might be available.

Getty said the federal act under which these funds are made available provides that the states can allocate to subdivisions within their state or else use the entire amount on state projects.

Approximately $4,394,000 which the state had available from the federal government was used in secondary and primary state highways, Getty said.

No funds were allocated to the counties. The SRC felt that the act provides all federal funds must be used prior to January 1, 1959 and the projects completed by that date. For this reason they decided to use the entire amount on SRC projects.

Getty received the information during a visit Thursday at the SRC headquarters in Baltimore. He also informed the board that he presented the application for surplus food for Allegany County to William J. Brugger, supervisor of the donable food program for the State Department of Budget and Procurement.

Celanese Names Cook To Labor Relations Post

The appointment of Ernest G. Cook to the position of supervisor of labor relations at the Amcelle Plant of Celanese Corporation of America was announced yesterday by W. E. Crooks, plant manager.

Cook replaces Kenneth J. Williams who has resigned to accept other employment.

Cook reported to the local plant early this week from the Celanese plant at Rock Hill, S. C., where he had been employed for the last 10 years.

A native of Monroe, N. C., Cook attended High Point College and worked at a Norfolk, Va., shipyard before employment in the Celriver Engineering Department as a journeyman machinist in 1948. During his service in the Engineering Department Cook was shop chairman of the department and later was elected president of Local 1093, Textile Workers Union of America, and held this responsibility for five years.

Three years ago he was promoted to the Celriver Personnel Section and after orientation in the various departments was made a personnel assistant in the Labor Relations Department.

Hudson Nix, Amcelle personnel manager, said Cook's broad plant and contract administration experience in operations similar to Amcelle's was an important factor in his elevation to the local position.

He will be assisted here by Fred A. Hutchison.

While at Celriver, Cook was active in community welfare and church organizations. He is a member of the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook are the parents of four children, the oldest serving in the United States Navy. He expects to move his family here as soon as a suitable residence can be located.

The secretary and the color-bearers will be appointed by Mrs. Vogel.

Mrs. Cleda B. Stewart, Oakland, a member of Proctor-Kildow Unit, was elected vice president of Mountain District which covers Allegany and Garrett counties.

Mrs. Vogel and her staff will be installed this morning at the Emerson Hotel where convention meetings are being held.

Mrs. George Waiz, Baltimore, retiring president, will be the installing officer. The convention will close following the installation.

Mrs. Vogel's husband will attend the ceremonies.

Cubbage To Attend Traffic Institute

Cumberland will be represented at the Maryland Traffic Institute scheduled Monday through August 1 at the University of Maryland.

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn said yesterday Officer Charles E. Cubbage will attend the institute this year.

Last year Officer Cubbage and Det. Kenneth Morrissey both attended the two-week training period on how to handle traffic problems.

Wolfords Seek Injunction To Halt SRC

Judge Orders Temporary Halt

Operators of a tavern and service station at the top of Martins Mountain on U.S. Route 40 have filed an equity suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against the State Roads Commission seeking an injunction to prevent further digging of post holes and other activities in the "channelization" of the property.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris has signed an order temporarily restraining the State Roads Commission from "obstructing, interfering with, drilling upon, setting or driving posts into or upon, or otherwise attempting to impede access to or egress from the business premises known as the Wolford service station or tavern."

In his order, Judge Harris further stipulates that the SRC may move for dissolution of this restraining order upon two days' notice. This order will expire July 24 unless extended before that date.

The bill of complaint was filed by Attorney Thomas N. Berry in behalf of Thomas R. Wolford and Nellie K. Wolford, his wife, and Hattie V. Wolford. Thomas R. and Nellie K. Wolford are the lessees of the commercial property on top of Martins Mountain. Hattie V. Wolford is listed as the owner and lessor of the property.

$27,500 Consideration

According to the bill of complaint, the three Wolfords signed an option contract with the SRC August 3, 1956. It provided for the conveyance of certain land and premises, construction of a dual lane highway at the top of the mountain and that the Wolfords would move their service station and tavern to a new location on the south side of the new highway. The consideration from the SRC was listed at $27,500.

The complainants assert that this option contract has never been accepted by or executed in behalf of the SRC and is null and void because the limiting period for acceptance of the option was six months.

One of the specific conditions of the proposed option contract was that the commission would construct two commercial entrances into the relocated tavern and service station with the understanding that the area between the entrances would be channelized in accordance with the SRC specifications.

The bill of complaint states that it was further provided in this contract that the SRC would acquire the right of immediate entry upon the Wolford premises upon the mailing by the SRC by registered mail of a notice of acceptance of the option. Because the SRC has not accepted this option it could not have acquired a right of entry upon the property for channelization work, says the complaint.

Despite the failure of the parties to enter into a valid written agreement, the SRC turned over to the grantors $25,000 of the $27,500 anticipated total consideration. The complainants proceeded to move their tavern and service station. Most recently, approximately $1,800 worth of asphaltic black-top surfacing has been laid down in front of the building, the bill of complaint adds.

Entered Area

The Wolfords charge that on or about June 24, 1958, agents and employes of the SRC entered upon the black-topped area in front of the Wolford property for the purpose of "channelizing" the area for two entrances. They proposed to put posts into the black-topped surfacing within seven or eight feet of the gasoline pump island. The Wolfords say this would do irreparable harm to the property. Upon Thomas R. Wolford's request, the SRC agents ceased their work and left the premises.

Early in June when agents of the SRC came on the premises, Thomas R. Wolford escorted them off the property at the point of a shotgun. The gun was discharged, but no one was injured. Subsequently, Wolford was charged with assault and prayed a jury trial when the case was called in Trial Magistrate's Court. As a consequence, it probably will not be tried until the October term of Circuit Court.

Following this incident, the complainants, through their solicitor, had conferences with Frederick A. Puderbaugh, special attorney for the SRC; with G. Bates Chaires, SRC district engineer, and by telephone with Joseph D. Buscher, special assistant to the attorney general for commission matters, in an effort to reach some agreement

Conference Set With SRC On Thruway Plans

Details Of Western Extension Sought

City officials will go to Baltimore next Wednesday to confer with the State Roads Commission on the west approach of the Cumberland Thruway, according to Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

Attending the conference at 2 p. m. in the SRC offices in Baltimore will be Mayor Keech, City Engineer C. R. Nuzum, City Attorney William R. Carscaden and City Plumber Simon Carroll.

The discussion will deal with the proposed location of the western end of the Thruway, which will extend from Lynn Street on the West Side to Winchester Road.

Also attending will be Major Gen. Milton A. Reckord, adjutant general of the Maryland Military Department.

He will be there due to his interest in the access to the Thruway for the new National Guard Armory which is to be built in Ridgedale Addition.

The City of Cumberland, ofofficials said, is also very much interested in plans for providing access to the Thruway.

The primary interest of the city, however, will be to learn full details of the sewer and water lines it will have to relocate in connection with the western end of the thruway.

It must also learn, officials explained, plans for water and sewage lines to the new armory, since they will be a city obligation.

Stevedore Held In Rape Case

FERNDALE, Md. (AP) — Anne Arundel County police are questioning a Baltimore stevedore in connection with the rape of a 15-year-old Cumberland girl.

The 26-year-old man was arrested early Friday when he returned to his rooming house where police had been staked out for 20 hours.

They obtained his address through license plates of the car reportedly used to carry off the young victim and a 17-year-old companion, also from Cumberland.

The younger girl said she was attacked early Thursday in a deserted farm house off Ritchie Highway. She claimed four men forced her and her friend into a car and drove them to the deserted area.

The older girl said she escaped from one of the men trying to attack her in an orchard. A passing motorist picked her up along Ritchie Highway and called police. The younger girl was found when police searched the area.

The girls said they were forced into the car as they were walking along a Baltimore street at 2:30 a. m. They said they had come to Baltimore from Cumberland on Sunday and had rented an apartment here.

Chief Wilbur C. Wade said county police have "a pretty good lead" on the whereabouts of the three other men.

Jobless Pay Benefits Dip During June

Figures Are Higher Than 1957 Period

For the second consecutive month, June unemployment payments and initial claims have registered a decline from the preceding month, according to Robert B. Kimble, executive director of the Department of Employment Security in Maryland.

However, Mr. Kimble pointed out that these activities continued to run substantially above the same corresponding period in 1957.

Figures showed a drop in initial claims and a more encouraging sign, according to Mr. Kimble, was the downtrend in the number of benefit payments.

He said these dropped each week throughout June, and this was due largely to the hiring of workers in food processing, construction and other scattered industries, particulary in the county areas (outside Baltimore).

Mr. Kimble also reported claimants exhausting their full entitlement to benefits recorded a new low for 1958.

Unemployed persons residing in Maryland were paid 158,981 benefit checks under the State Unemployment Insurance program in June, which was down 9.1 per cent from the 174,784 of May, but up 172.3 per cent over the 58,393 checks of June 1857.

The checks disbursed to Maryland residents totaled $4,651,824 in June, down 9.3 per cent from the $5,127,139 of May, but up 184.4 per cent over the $1,607,508 of June 1957.

Inital claims for benefits, which reflect new spells of unemployment, dropped to 21,078 in June, down 3.4 per cent from the 21,827 of May, but up 92.9 per cent over the 10,925 of June 1957. The previous 1958 low was in May.

Unused School Will Be Sold

A structure which was first used as a school in Cumberland in 1874 will soon be offered for sale to the highest bidder by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The county commissioners yesterday instructed Gorman E. Getty, their attorney, to draw up the necessary papers to advertise the old Maryland Avenue School for sale to the highest bidder.

Tuesday, the County Board of Education decided that it no longer needed the old school for educational purposes. Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster notified the commissioners because the title to the property now reverts to the commissioners.

The old building was last used for veterans' training purposes after World War II.

Vandegrift Bids Low On School Kitchen Job

$19,975 Offered At Columbia St.

The John I. Vandegrift Company, this city, was the apparent low bidder for construction of a new kitchen at Columbia Street School on an offer of $19,975.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster said he will recommend that the Allegany County Board of Education accept the low bid, nearly $2,000 less than the second bid.

Other bids opened yesterday were from the George F. Hazelwood Company, $21,948, and George Construction Company, $22,134.

The Vandegrift firm agreed to complete the kitchen construction within 60 calendar days, which would have it finished before the first of October but not before school reopens. Plans and specifications for this work were prepared by S. Russ Minter, local architect.

Columbia Street School has never had a kitchen and has had to depend on hot food being transferred there from the Fort Hill High School cafeteria.

This job is the second small school job to be awarded to the Vandegrift firm this summer. Just before school closed in June, Vandegrift's bid of $18,037 for a new kitchen at Johnson Heights School was accepted. The three local contractors finished in the same order on those bids. Hazelwood was second at $20,722 and George was third with a bid of $21,328.

The major school construction job here this year is the building of a new gymnasium and new art and music classrooms at Allegany High School. Hazelwood was awarded that contract on a bid of $871,870.

Visitors To Face No Highway Delays

No delays due to the highway construction will face visitors to Western Maryland this summer.

A report from the State Roads Commission yesterday showed that traffic is being maintained on all highway construction in Allegany and Garrett counties.

Slight delays may be encountered in Washington County, although traffic is being maintained at all times.

Car Catches Fire

South End Fire Company last night answered a call to Wempe Drive to extinguish a blaze in an automobile owned by Alma Brightner of Oldtown. Slight damage to the car was reported.

Scout Camp Attendance Sets Record

The Boy Scouts of Potomac Council who will attend Camp Potomac near Oldtown, next week will boost the summer attendance total to an all-time high.

Ross O. Decker, camping and activities chairman, said the group of about 100 Scouts who will arrive tomorrow afternoon at the camp will mark the highest total of boys ever to attend Camp Potomac during a summer period.

He said 650 different boys have attended the camp plus over 50 youths who have spent more than a week at the camp. The camp was put into operation for the summer on June 22.

Mr. Decker said there is still room for any Scouts who wish to attend the camp next week.

Next week will be the final period of use for the Boy Scouts. The Tri-Towns Girl Scouts will use the camp site for a week, followed by the children of Friends Aware for a week.

Troops who will be at Camp Potomac starting tomorrow at 2 p. m. will be Troop 41, Crellin Methodist Church; Troop 6, SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church; Troop 5, St. John's Lutheran Church; Troop 17, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company; Troop 1, St. Luke's Lutheran Church; Troop 88, Bedford Road Optimist Club; and Troop 76, Wiley Ford PTA.

Willis V. Smith, executive secretary, said the camping period last week was highlighted by visits by Othman B. Wuenschel, a representative of Sporting Arms and Ammunition Company, and Wade Thomas, Keyser, of the office of the West Virginia state fire marshal.

Mr. Wuenschel conducted a session on gun safety and also held a trap shooting event for the older boys. Mr. Thomas presented a talk on fire safety.

Mr. Smith said a new activity was introduced last week which enabled 25 Explorer Scouts to play golf for the first time. He said the youths were taken to Fort Cumberland Golf course for the instruction.

In addition to all the regular activities planned for the youths, the advancement program progressed a great extent, according to Mr. Smith. He said this phase was aided since all the groups attending were with adult leadership.

Many new activities are planned for the last week of camp along with the regular program. One of the evenings will be devoted to "Parents' Night" and a water rodeo will be held in conjunction with this event.

Two Generals To Fight Cut In Md. Guard

Purnell, Reckord Address Legion

BALTIMORE (AP) — The commanding general of the 29th Division and Maryland's adjutant general vowed Friday they will put up all-out resistance to reduction of strength in the National Guard unit.

"We will not accept a reduction in the National Guard that is intended to, and does, reduce our efficiency as the first line of defense in this country," said Maj. Gen. William C. Purnell, commander of the 29th with units in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

He proclaimed resistance "to make us subservient to control of the Army."

Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, state adjutant, added "We have determined in Maryland and Virginia that we are not going to see the old outfit destroyed."

The two generals spoke at the 40th annual convention of the American Legion in Maryland.

Charges "Bobtail"

Purnell said he did not quarrel with the Army's plan to reshape the National Guard into five battle groups per division. However, he objected to the proposal to "bobtail" some of them, including the 29th, into three battle groups.

Reckord claimed the reorganization is being pushed "by a few people in the Pentagon who simply want to command all the forces all the time."

Before closing their business session, the legionnaires passed resolutions which:

Strongly supported the sending of U. S. troops to Lebanon, praised President Eisenhower for "courage and vision" and urged him to take "whatever additional measures may be required."

Called for a minimum National Guard strength of the nation of 400,000 men.

Urged the State Department and Maryland congressmen to return to the "old traditional policy" of protecting Americans abroad and to consider "severance of relations with any country which now holds or is responsible for holding Americans."

Would Dissolve UN

Urged the legion's national convention in September to go on record favoring dissolution of the United Nations unless it adopts a new policy against "all further Soviet aggression."

Decided to poll Maryland candidates for the U. S. Senate and House on their views of the Hoover Commission and Bradley reports which, the resolution said, "militate against the best interests and welfare of the veteran."

The legion convention also produced criticism by two other generals of an effort to reorganize administration of all the military services.

President Eisenhower's proposed reorganization of the Defense Department "could change this country into a tight military dictatorship overnight," a retired Marine general claimed.

The claim was made by Pedro del Valle. Another retired Marine general, James P. S. Devereux, said he endorsed del Valle's views.

"Modern Caesar"

"Enemies of the constitution have been tinkering with that sacred document for years, and now they come to ask the Congress to surrender its power and its duty to control the military establishment," del Valle said.

"If we do not prevent this, then our modern Caesar will have crossed his Rubicon and this will be a republic in name only.

"I speak not only for the Marine Corps, I speak for all the federal services when I say that the bill is pernicious and should be defeated."

"It would be possible for one man in power to abolish the Marine Corps, or any of the branches of the various services, and the Congress would have no say in the matter."

City Budget Requests Are Due August 1

Exploratory Talk Held By Officials

Heads of all departments of the City of Cumberland are being asked to submit budget proposals by August 1, according to Mrs. Lucile Roeder, finance commissioner.

The announcement was made yesterday afternoon following an informal budget discussion held in the office of Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

Attending the meeting, in addition to Mrs. Roeder and Mayor Keech, were City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson and City Attorney William R. Carscaden.

The discussion included the proposed budget, and were exploratory in nature. No decisions were made, a spokesman said.

The budget-making will get down to brass tacks as soon as department requests are received and the books for the 1957-58 fiscal year are closed.

Except for mandatory items, budget-making generally consists of whittling department requests down to anticipated income of the city.

Major factors will be the size of the surplus and anticipated income from city taxes, state-shared taxes and other income sources.

Mr. Gibson recently estimated that the surplus might approach the $100,000 mark. Final figures are not immediately available, but the total will be far short of the $237,000 on hand to prime the 1957-58 fiscal year.

The whopping surplus last year chiefly resulted from several non-recurring items.

The tax levy will probably be a little higher this year, although the rate for operating expenses cannot exceed $1.25.

Last year, the city levied $1,207,630 for taxes on real estate, personal property of individuals and corporations and bank stock. The actual assessments brought in $40,000 more.

Calvary Church To Close Bible School Sunday

About 140 certificates will be given for attendance with approximately 90 children receiving honor seals for perfect attendance at tomorrow night's activities.

Special recognition will be given Sandra Showalter, Brenda Van Meter, Wayne Skidmore and Ricky Stouffer, who were winners of the contest for enrolling new members. 61 children were brought in during the four days of the contest.

Each department of the school will take part in the program, which will include all the work covered during the two-week period.

UAR Is Warned Against Attack Of U.S. Forces

Cairo Told Grave Consequences May Occur: Dulles, Lloyd Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has warned that grave consequences could occur in the Middle East if Egyptian-Syrian forces attacked U. S. troops in Lebanon.

The State Department disclosed Friday that this warning had been given in Cairo Thursday about the time Egyptian President Nasser was meeting secretly in Moscow with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The department made it public a few hours after Moscow officially disclosed that Nasser and Khrushchev had met "on the question of stopping the aggression of the United States and other colonial powers."

Top Eisenhower administration authorities were reported to view the Khrushchev-Nasser parley as signaling a tense war of nerves against the West rather than a decision to intervene militarily against British and U.S. forces in the Mideast.

Reassert View

They reasserted this view even after Nasser stopped off in Damascus to denounce the sending of U.S. Marines into Lebanon and the landing of British paratroops in Jordan. He hinted at possible Arab retaliation. In Moscow, the Soviet Foreign Office said the Russians intend to take whatever measures they deem necessary to counter the U.S.-British military moves.

Secretary of State Dulles told the Senate Appropriations Committee the Soviets were responsible for fomenting the revolution that "violently and totally liquidated" the pro-Western government of Iraq.

Dulles, currently holding an urgent series of conferences with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, accused the Kremlin of plotting violent indirect aggression which he said threatens to overturn the governments of Jordan and Lebanon, also friendly to the West.

Committee members reported that Dulles told them in closed session that U.S. forces in Lebanon constitute mainly a holding operation and that he still hoped an international police force would replace them shortly.

In the United Nations Security Council at New York, Russia vetoed a U.S. proposal to send a U.N. army to Lebanon.

Expect Soviet Move

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) quoted Dulles as saying he did not feel Russia would resort to military intervention in Lebanon.

"But he did seem to feel the Russians might make some kind of play—not of a military nature," Chavez said, that would be aimed at encouraging Nasser to action.

Senate Votes Ike Most Of Defense Powers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted Friday night to give President Eisenhower most of the powers he has urgently sought to revamp the sprawling Defense Department.

After only a few hours' debate, Senate passed the reorganization bill and sent it back to the House, which earlier had approved a somewhat similar measure containing a number of features to which Eisenhower strongly objected.

The roll-call vote was 80-0.

The Senate version goes a long way toward meeting objections voiced by Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense McElroy to the House bill, while at the same time attempting to meet fears of the Marines and others that the authority Eisenhower originally sought might be used to reduce them to ineffectiveness.

If the House balks at accepting the Senate version, as appears likely, a Senate-House conference committee will be assigned to work out a compromise.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) had asked for prompt approval of the defense measure as a means of curbing interservice rivalries and time-wasting delays. Russell is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said the Senate bill meets most of Eisenhower's requests on what Smith termed "his most important legislative goal of this session."

Smith said the bill would provide flexibility in the defense organization to handle such events as the grave crisis in the Middle East.

Russe" said the bill spells out that "everything in te Department of Defense is under the management of the secretary of defense."

Navy Reveals Missile Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy reported Friday it hopes to launch four 20-inch Vanguard satellites and then polish off that program before the end of the year by putting a 50-pound baby moon in orbit.

With its final rocket stage, the orbiting body of the final Vanguard launching would weigh 100 pounds, the Navy said. The 20-inch satellites weigh 21½ pounds. By contrast, the 6.4-inch test satellite sent into orbit last March 17 weighs about 3¼ pounds.

The Navy said the final launching in the program will use a third-stage rocket of higher performance than that currently used.

The Navy also reported that the next Vanguard to be launched already is at the Air Force Missile Test Center, Cape Canaveral, Fla. being prepared for firing.

It said the 20-inch satellite aboard that three-stage rocket carries equipment for measuring the cloud cover of the earth, the first to be so designed.

It gave no dates for the launchings.

Mob Storms U.S. Embassy In Moscow

100,000 Muscovites Break 275 Windows, Paint Over Walls

MOSCOW (AP) — A massive mob of Russians smashed 275 windows in the U.S. Embassy Friday and splashed its walls with blue and green ink in a rowdy three-hour protest against U.S. troop landings in Lebanon.

More than 100,000 Muscovites, many of them streaming out of factories and offices, packed the 10-lane boulevard running past the embassy. A raucous human sea stretched for half a mile on each side of the building in the biggest demonstration in Moscow since the victory celebrations of World War II.

Televise Demonstration

A Soviet television network televised the demonstration.

One of the demonstrators fired an air rifle at the 9th-floor office window of U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr. The pellet, nearly spent, did not go through. No Americans in the building were reported hurt.

U.S. personnel in the embassy took shelter in the rear of the building. Office furniture and equipment had been moved to the rear also. The demonstration had been expected.

It was the second day in a row the Russians had massed before the building. Thursday a comparative handful of 2,000 demonstrators massed in front of the building in a howling protest.

Thompson lodged no immediate protest with the Soviet government. Embassy officials indicated, however, one would be made after the damage had been tallied.

Rages Three Hours

The demonstration raged more than three hours before a force of about 1,000 Soviet militiamen and soldiers made a determined effort to break up the crowd. About 300 militiamen were there at the start.

Every window on the first three floors of the 10-story building was smashed under a barrage of ink bottles, ball bearings, brickbats, poster poles, stones, and sticks that lasted more than one hour. Some windows were broken as high as the eighth floor.

About 100 Russians staged a demonstration outside the British Embassy in protest against British forces landing in Jordan. But this crowd was not in the ugly mood of the mob jamming the boulevard.

The demonstrations sprang up after a delegation of Soviet factory workers called on Thompson with a petition protesting the Marine landings in the Middle East. Thompson conferred with their leaders in his office and told them the United States was invited into Lebanon by that nation's legitimate government. He said the matter was before the United Nations and U.S. forces would pull out as soon as a U.N. police force takes over.

Oxford Students Revealed Secrets

LONDON (AP)—Two Oxford undergraduates were sentenced to three months imprisonment Friday for revealing official defense secrets. Both pleaded guilty.

The two students, Paul Richard Thompson, 23, and William Miller, 24, had written an article for the left-wing undergraduate magazine Isis in which they described certain British Intelligence activities. Both had held classified jobs in the Royal Navy before going to Oxford.

Children, Lost In Forest Three Days, Find Way Out

ASH LAKE, Minn., July 18 (UPI)—A young brother and sister, sought in a bear-infested wilderness for three days by 100 searchers, found their own way out of the forest today.

Francine Crego, 10, and her brother, Michael, 8, merely climbed a fire tower in the woods surrounding Ash Lake, got their bearings, and walked out.

Sheriff Sam Owens, one of the leaders of the search party of volunteers and national guardsmen, said the children and their pet cocker spaniel were none the worse for two nights and three days in the forest.

The children had been lost since Wednesday, when they set out from their grandfather's summer cottage here on a berry-picking expedition. They still had their pails with them when they walked out of the woods today.

Owens said the brother and sister had a few scratches and were suffering slightly from exposure, but were otherwise in good condition.

The area where the children were lost is also the home of bears and timber wolves. As the seemingly hopeless search progressed, the children's plight reminded volunteers of the fairy tale stories of the babes in the woods and Hansel and Gretel.

Just like their story-book counterparts, Francine and Michael huddled together in the midst of the forest during their two nights in the wilderness.

They used their dog, Mickey, as a pillow and picked the wood ticks off each other both nights before going to sleep. Their only food was the berries they had picked.

U.S. Asks UN Emergency Session On Middle East

Soviet Russia Vetoes Plan For Military Force

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The United States called Friday for an emergency session of the U. N. General Assembly to deal with the explosive situation in the Middle East.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge made the proposal immediately after the Soviet Union killed by veto a U. S. resolution to establish an international military force to be sent to Lebanon.

He declared the United States would not be thwarted by a Soviet veto from attempts to restore peace in strife-torn Lebanon.

At the suggestion of Japanese Delegate Koto Matsudaira the Council voted to adjourn until Monday afternoon. He wanted additional time for delegates to study a Japanese proposal providing for expansion of the U.N. observer group in Lebanon. He said he hoped this might enable the United States to withdraw its forces.

Won't Press For Vote

Lodge agreed not to press for a vote on the special Assembly until the Japanese resolution is acted upon.

Lodge acted after the Council failed to approve any resolutions stemming from charges by Lebanon and Jordan that President Nasser's United Arab Republic was trying to overturn their governments.

These were the rapid-fire developments in the Council after four days of debate as tense as any during the Suez crisis and the revolt in Hungary late in 1956:

1. The Council defeated 8-1 a resolution by the Soviet Union demanding the immediate withdrawal of the U. S. Marines from Lebanon and British forces from Jordan. Only the Soviet Union voted for the resolution. Japan and Sweden abstained, while "no" votes were recorded by the United States, Britain, Canada, China, France, Iraq, Panama and Colombia.

2. The Soviet Union killed by its 84th veto a U.S. resolution to send an international military force to Lebanon. Sweden abstained and the other nine membes of the council were in favor.

All Others Opposed

3. A Swedish proposal to suspend activities of the U.N. Emergency Force in Lebanon while U.S. forces are there found only Sweden and the Soviet Union voting yes. All others were opposed.

Lodge said the emergency session of the Assembly would be called upon to consider the complaint by Lebanon against the United Arab Republic.

The Soviet Union also said it would ask for an Assembly session if the Council failed to approve its resolution demanding immediate withdrawal of British and U.S. forces.

Rattler Turns Out To Be Boa

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Patrolman Jess Heard thought he was seeing the granddaddy of all rattlesnakes—an 8-foot monster.

He spotted the snake near midnight Thursday on an isolated road in Brackenridge Park.

Thinking it was a rattler, he stopped his squad car, jumped out with his shotgun.

Then he saw it had no rattlers. He called the zoo director, Fred Stark.

Stark grabbed it by the back of the neck "just like it was a stick," the admiring Heard reported. It was a boa constrictor.

Stark said it could have escaped from the zoo, but probably fled a dealer's truck.

"They come up here with 400 or 500 in a truck," Stark said. "Six weeks or two months ago there was a truck full of them through.

"A snake like that could bite you, but as far as hurting you—by coiling itself around a person and applying pressure—it would not have the strength to do any harm," Stark said. They are not poisonous.

The snake now is in the San Antonio Zoo.

Soviet Warns U.S., Britain Of 'Aggression'

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government warned the United States and Great Britain Friday night it will not remain indifferent to what it calls acts of unprovoked aggression against Lebanon and Jordan.

A special declaration issued by the Soviet Foreign Ministry said the Soviet Union will have to take "necessary measures dictated by the interests of the security of the Soviet Union and preservation of general peace." The declaration did not specify what those measures might be.

The statement hinted that the Moslem peoples in Soviet Asia, bordering on the Middle East northern tier, might intervene. There was no direct reference or threat of the possible use of so-called volunteers from the Soviet Union. This was the term the Soviet Union used for men it threatened to throw into the Mideast at the time of the Suez crisis.

In another statement, the government confirmed the secret conference here between President Nasser of the United Arab Republic and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. It said the conference concerned "the question of stopping aggression by the United States and other colonial powers in the Middle East as well as the preservation of peace and the independence of Arab states."

The double-barreled announcement officially ranged the Soviet government alongside Nasser in the Middle East crisis.

A third official announcement said the Soviet government and the new republican government of Iraq have agreed to establish diplomatic relations at ambassadorial level. The Soviet Union had no diplomatic relations with the now ousted monarchy of King Faisal II.

Crane Eliminated In $752,500 Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Steve Crane was eliminated Friday as codefendant in the $752,500 suit brought by the 10-year-old son of Johnny Stompanato.

However, a judge gave attorneys representing the youngster 10 days to file an amended complaint. The Hollywood underworld figure was stabbed to death last April in the bedroom of Lana Turner, Crane's ex-wife. The couple's 14-year-old daughter, Cheryl, admitted killing Stompanato when he threatened her mother.

Judge Walter C. Allen ruled the complaint was ambigaous in naming Crane co-defendant.

Eisenhower Uses Helicopter To Fly To Honduras

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — Dr. Milton Eisenhower was whisked into San Jose by helicopter Friday on his closely-guarded arrival from Honduras.

Costa Rican communists are using the visit of the president's brother as an excuse for propaganda attacks on the United States, but have said there would be no hostile demonstrations. Nevertheless, his arrival was surrounded by secrecy.

Army Buildup Goes Smoothly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Friday the situation in the Middle East is "very touchy" but the buildup of U. S. military power there is proceeding without incident.

This description was given by a Pentagon officer at a news briefing in response to a question.

The officer reported a sweep by carrier planes along the shore of the eastern Mediterranean Friday. The jet craft from the carriers Essex and Saratoga ranged the Lebanon coast from Tripoli in the north to Sidon, south of Beirut.

The jets also flew inland south and east of Beirut, but did not go beyond the borders of Lebanon.

Thursday, the Navy flew a demonstration along the west bank of the Jordan River.

Stevenson Gets Friendly Welcome

TASHKENT, U.S.S.R. (AP) — The people of the Uzbek Republic capital gave touring Adlai Stevenson a friendly welcome Friday.

Stevenson and his party arrived here Thursday for a three-week tour trip of central Asia, Siberia, and the Urals.

Actress, Gen. Trujillo Remain 'Best Of Friends'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Kim Novak said Friday she and Rafael Trujillo Jr. parted the best of friends.

The young playboy from the Dominican Republic, who once told a local television audience he was in love with the actress, sailed away Monday on his 350-foot yacht.

Before he did, Kim said, he sent her roses and a note reading: I am sorry you didn't care to get involved with me. But I understand that your career comes first. I hope we can always be the best of friends."

Kim said she has not seen Trujillo since a tender farewell at the train station here last May. Trujillo then was returning to a U.S. military college in Kansas where he failed to graduate.

The studio was upset because Trujillo was married with six children. He is seeking a divorce. The studio sent Kim off on a publicity tour before the handsome son of the Dominican dictator returned to Hollywood last month.

"I had a mutual friend tell him I was not serious about him," Kim said. "He took it like a gentleman. He accepted it very well."

"He knew the publicity was bad for my career. He understood.'

"The press presented a very ugly picture of him," Kim said. "He is really a fine man, very kind and serious."

"They tried to make a villian out of him," she said.

2,900 More Marines Land In Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Another 2,900 Marines arrived in Lebanon by air and sea Friday and took a firmer grip on this Middle East beachhead.

About 1,700 Leathernecks of the 1st Battalion, 8th Marines landed on a sandy beach four miles north of Beirut from the U.S. 6th Fleet, gathering in swelling might offshore.

Then 1,200 Marines from the 2nd Battalion, 8th Marines, began landing at Beirut's airport, where only Thursday night Leathernecks traded shots with rebel snipers fighting President Camille Chamoun's regime.

When the last of 20 big C119 and C54 transport planes touched down at International Airport, the Marines had 6,300 men in and around Beirut.

The Marines who came in by sea attracted the usual crowd of Lebanese along the beaches. But this day the Marines were too busy to pay attention to the Lebanese vendors who swarmed around.

Their only concern was that their landing ships did not run down small boys swimming near the landing site.

By nightfall, the entire Marine force was dug in with machine gun and artillery emplacements.

Poodles Good Watching Dogs

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) —Poodles are fine watch dogs, Peter B. Payne told sheriff's officers Friday.

His home was robbed of a $20,000 collection of old coins weighmore than 400 pounds.

Troop Build Up Continues In Mid-East

Red China, Russians Voice Dire Warnings; War Of Nerves On

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The United States and Britain poured more troops, planes and warships into the Middle East Friday in the face of a loudly rising chorus of communist threats. Red China joined the Soviet Union in threatening dire consequences for the West.

Rival American and Soviet resolutions on the crisis failed in the U.N. Security Council.

The United States then called for an emergency session of the 81-nation General Assembly to pursue the effort to avert war. The council adjourned until Monday without acting.

Warnings were exchanged between the United States and President Nasser's Egyptian - Syrian United Arab Republic over the crisis that burst Monday with the revolt that felled Iraq's pro-Western government.

Notified Nasser

The U.S. State Department disclosed Cairo Ambassador Raymond Hare had notified Nasser's government that any attack on U.S. forces in the Mideast by U.A.R. military units or units under U.A.R. control "could involve grave consequences."

Nasser responded with a declaration that if the United States and Britain "antagonize us we shall fight to the last drop of our blood. . .we are prepared for all eventualities." The Arab nationalist leader spoke in Damascus on his way home from a secret conference in Moscow with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The Kremlin declared it "will have to take the necessary measures dictated by the interests of the Soviet Union" against the troop landings in Lebanon and Jordan.

The Soviet Union called the entry of the troops—requested by the chiefs of state of Lebanon and Jordan to counter foreign threats against their governments—"this unprovoked aggression in a region adjacent to its (Russia's) borders."

Neither the Russians nor the Red Chinese spelled out the nature of the consequences.

War Of Nerves

Washington authorities looked for a tense war of nerves. Secretary of State Dulles accused Russia of fomenting anti-Western revolution in the Middle East.

Speculation among Western diplomats in London ran in two channels. One was that the communist bloc—following Red China's example in the Korean War—would send so-called volunteers to the Mideast. The other was that the Reds would limit their activities for the moment to trying to capitalize on the situation politically.

Cairo was first to announce the Nasser-Khrushchev meeting, an unexpected sequel to the Arab's leader's recent visit with President Tito of Yugoslavia. The Soviet government confirmed that Khrushchev and Nasser had met.

Moscow said they discussed

Atlas Firing Again Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A rash of technical troubles forced postponement again Friday of the firing of a fully powered Atlas ballistic missile.

Technicians of Convair Astronautics, which built the Atlas, now have failed three times to get this one off the ground. They came closest last Saturday when the engines were ignited but cut off after belching exhaust fire for 10 seconds.

The 85-foot-long missile, most powerful war rocket in the U.S. arsenal, contains the three engines needed to travel the 6,000-mile intercontinental range. The main sustainer engine and twin boosters build up more than 350,000 pounds of thrust.

The missile reportedly will be sent only 2,500 miles in a test of its propulsion system. If that is successful, an Atlas is expected to go all the way within a few weeks.

New Probe Is Set In Goldfine Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—A second set of House investigators have announced they will start exploring Monday allegations that presidential assistant Sherman Adams intervened in a government case against a business firm.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La) said Friday the House Armed Services Investigations subcommittee he heads has subpoenaed witnesses to begin taking closed-door testimony in the matter of a contract penalty settled for about half the original amount.

The case is that of Raylaine Worsted, Inc., Manchester, N.H., penalized by the Army for lateness on a wartime cloth contract. The settlement with reduced penalty was approved last year.

Adams' name has repeatedly been brought into the case. The White House has said all Adams did was to refer queries he received about the case on to the Army as a matter of routine.

Protests Pressure

Roswell M. Austin, retired member of the Armed Forces Board of Contract Appeals, said Friday in reply to a reporter's questions that he signed a memorandum protesting indications of what he termed White House pressure in the Raylaine matter. The memo is understood to be in the possession of Hebert's subcommittee.

Austin retired from the board last September, before the settlement was approved. But he said that at one point a paper was circulated among members and they were asked to indicate whether or not they would agree to another hearing on the case.

He said he understood Adams had inquired about the matter.

"It had been discussed around the board for a long time that the White House was interested in this case," Austin said. "You kept hearing, 'We can't say too much—the White House is interested.'

"That's just one of those things that made me boil, and I so expressed myself," Austin went on. "I wrote in a comment to the effect that if there was such pressure I thought it was highly improper."

Board To Hear Arguments

He said, however, he agreed the board should hear the arguments in the case.

Leo Wolff, former president of the now defunct Raylaine firm, has called it "damned ridiculous" to suggest Adams or any other political figure influenced the settlement.

But Wolff said both he and an employe who was a boyhood friend of Adams had written the presidential assistant about it.

Hebert declined to say who had been subpoenaed for the initial investigation. It was indicated, however, that government witnesses would be heard first. Austin said he has not as yet been called.

He said he had been interviewed by investigators for another congressional group, the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee which has been looking into relations between Adams and Boston textile millionaire Bernard Goldfine, and between Goldfine and federal regulatory agencies. This committee turned the information in the Raylaine matter over to the Hebert group.

At his session with the Senate committee, Dulles accused the Soviet Union of seeking to exploit tensions between the Arab states and Israel and of pursuing what he termed a strategy of revolutionary alliance.

"It hopes thus to gain control in this area of great natural richness where three continents meet," Dulles said, adding: "For the most part, its hand is hidden."

Dulles broke off a series of conferences with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to keep a date with the Senate group, which is considering a foreign aid appropriations bill.

Dulles and Lloyd talked for nearly two hours at the State Department amidst mounting evidence the two men were increasingly concerned over international criticism of U. S.-British military operations in the Middle East.

Informants said they also were disturbed but not alarmed at the possibility of Egyptian - Soviet countermoves.

Russia Gives Warning

Dulles' comments before the Senate committee came about the same time that Moscow warned it would have to "take the necessary measures" dictated by its security in the face of what the Kremlin called U. S.-British aggression against Lebanon and Jordan.

Despite this new threat, U. S. authorities expressed belief the Soviets would not act militarily against British - United States forces. They said the Kremlin blast was part of an anticipated war of nerves against the West.

The Dulles - Lloyd meeting brought reports that neither was in favor of any military move to reverse last Monday's overthrow of Iraq's pro-Western government.

While British and U.S. officials kept mum on specific problems discussed, these developments dropped up in the second day of the Dulles-Lloyd talks:

1. The State Department said it was continuing to work urgently on rushing emergency oil supplies requested by King Hussein of Jordan. A spokesman said he had no information on reports that Saudi Arabia had barred American planes from flying over its territory with oil and gasoline supplies.

2. State Department press officer Lincoln White said he assumed the United States, bowing to an Austrian complaint, was no longer flying troop reinforcements from Germany over Austria.

Make Informal Contact

3. Diplomatic officials reported that Iraqi rebels had made informal contact with U.S. authorities and had expressed a desire to get along with the United States The revolutionaries were understood to have told these U.S. officials they were not under Soviet control.

4. Egypt's President Nasser is understood to have issued a call for Asian and African countries, including India and Indonesia, to attend a special conference in Cairo next month to consider sending "volunteers" to the aid of Lebanese and Jordanian rebels.

5. An American-British plan for mobilizing world public opinion to support the Mideast troop landings was reported being considered. Dulles and Lloyd were reported convinced that better explanations of the U.S.-British goal are needed to overcome an unexpectedly large amount of criticism in countries which usually support Western policy.

Man May Sue In False Arrest Of His Family

ROCKMART, Ga. (AP) — A Rockmart attorney said Friday he is awaiting further word from a McConnellsburg, Pa., man before filing a suit for false arrest against Georgia and Tennessee officers.

Cecil D. Franklin said he had been contacted by W. E. Sherman Sr., of McConnellsburg about filing a federal court suit against officers involved in the arrest last June 22 of Sherman, his wife, their son, daughter-in-law and two grandchildren.

Sherman said in McConnellsburg today he had been informed by governors of both Georgia and Tennessee that the arrest of his family was due to mistaken identity. The family was taken into custody in Murray County, Ga., on complaint of an elderly Tennessean that his pocket had been picked.

Sherman claims he and his family were held in "dirty, filthy prison cells overnight" in Benton, Tenn. He charged they were treated cruelly and released the next day with apologies.

Sheriff Bud Payne at Benton denied the cruelty charges at the time, declaring "We treated them as nice as we know how."

Informed of Sherman's statement, Payne said today he has not been legally notified of any court action. "We'll just have to defend ourselves," he added.

Franklin said he had corresponded with Sherman about the case and was awaiting confirmation of employment as attorney. He said he expected to hear from Sherman again in the next few days and suit probably would be filed in the Northern District of Federal Court in Rome, Ga., within the next 10 or 12 days.

Nudists Meet At Gore Camp

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP) — Some 600 devotees of nature are meeting in a sylvan setting near here where the sack dress is considered superfluous as well as silly.

They are wearing only the endowments of nature in Virginia's first nudist convention. All are members of the Eastern Sunbathers Assn. They came clothed from Maine to Florida and some points west.

The camp site is west of Gore, off U.S. 50, near the Virginia-West Virginia line. The private campsite is called Buck's Kin Lodge for its founder, Walter (Buck) Young, a member of the Winchester Chamber of Commerce and a founder of the Eastern Association.

In ceremonies during the coming weekend a king and queen will be named. Presumably they will wear crowns.

Water Speed Limit To Be Enforced

SALISBURY (AP) — City officials have threatened to enforce a five mile per hour speed limit on Johnson's Lake unless hazards to bathers are eliminated.

The city has marked off two areas on the lake — one for boats and the other for swimmers. A bather was recently run down and cut by a speedboat, and other swimmers have filed complaints.

Mayor Jeremiah Valliant said there is no alternative to the speed limit unless the danger to swimmers is eliminated.

Complaints Fly Thick And Fast In Water Row

EDGEWATER, Md. (AP) — A Cape St. John resident who had two water skiers arrested on charges of reckless operation of a motorboat was fined $25 himself Friday night on a similar charge.

Magistrate Norman Hazard levied the fine plus court costs on James F. Quinn, 32, who was accused of running his motorboat across a tow rope being used in a water ski show July 4 on nearby South River.

Quinn's attorney, Albert J.Goodman of Annapolis, said he would appeal the conviction.

Quinn told the court he was on the river taking photographs, of what he said were reckless operations, for a community association which hoped to get a county police boat assigned to patrol the area.

He had earlier called police who arrested two skiers, Charles J. Stephens, 24, and James A. Higgins, 23, on reckless operation charges. They are partners with Robert Sauls in the operation of the Oak Grove Ski Club which was sponsoring a water show that day. Their cases were postponed until July 30.

After the tow rope incident, Quinn was arrested on a complaint to police from Sauls.

Quinn told Magistrate Hazard that he did not see the tow rope or the wooden disc which the skier was preparing to ride. He said he did not realize he had crossed the tow rope until after he was past it. His wife corroborated his testimony.

Sauls, Stephens, Higgins and several other witnesses testified that Quinn was warned by shouts and waving of the arms as he approached the scene. Stephens charged he deliberately crossed over the rope which was to tow Higgins. Higgins was in the water and the boat which was to tow him was idling at the time Quinn came by at an estimated 4 or 5 m. p. h. speed. Higgins said he pressed down on the rope to keep it from snaring in Quinn's outboard motor.

The cases are an outgrowth of complaints of residents in this area about ski operations across the river.

Under local laws, there is an 8-m. p. h. speed limit on the river west of the South River bridge at Edgewater. To the east of the bridge, there is no specified limit.

There has been a concerted crackdown on boat operations in the river this summer and two other defendants were fined the minimum $25 and costs tonight before Quinn's case came up.

One was William Wineger, arrested June 29 on charges of buzzing piers and beaches in the Riva area, and Robert A. Safewright, arrested July 14 on charges of endangering fish nets and piers and boats by high speed and maneuvers. Both pleaded guilty.

Navy Flier Is Commandant

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — (AP) — A Navy flyer who was officer in charge of the atomic bomb drop on Nagasaki, Japan, has become commandant of midshipmen at the U. S. Naval Academy.

Capt. Frederick L. Ashworth of Wenham, Mass. relieved Capt. Allen M. Shinn as military boss of the 3,600-man brigade Thursday.

As commandant he is second ranking officer to Rear Adm. Charles L. Melson, superintendent of the Naval Academy, and is directly responsible to him for training and indoctrination of midshipmen as naval officers.

Capt. Ashworth, a 1933 graduate of the academy, came here from command of the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt. Capt. Shinn will report to the carrier Forrestal as its commanding officer.

Fourteen Marines and sailors were airlifted out of mountain hideouts, the last of a peak total of 50 North Americans that had been seized by the rebels.

Rebel Fidel Castro told his brother Raul to release the entire last group at one time "because of the situation in Lebanon and you may be needed to fight there."

The 14 men arrived at the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo in batches of three and four, starting in the early afternoon and continuing until nightfall.

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — A study was started Friday to determine the feasibility of building flood control dams on Rock Creek in this area in the near future.

Boys' Nation Prepares To Elect Officers

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Politics predominated today as youths from all over the nation converged on the University of Maryland campus for the American Legion's 13th annual Boys' Nation.

At stake were nominations for president and vice president of the Federalist and Nationalist parties. The election is Monday night.

The delegates eventually will resolve themselves into a Senate and, as junior senators, will debate bills pending in the real congress — roughly 10 miles from this college community between Washington and Baltimore.

One of the delegates, Hungarian born Gyuri Nemeth, 19, of Framingham, Mass., enjoyed a unique distinction. Legion officials said he is the first lad from overseas to sit as a member of the nation.

Nemeth, who came to this country in 1956 with his mother as refugees from the Hungarian revolution, is the son of a Hungarian diplomat formerly stationed in Ankara, Turkey.

The father, recalled to Hungary after the outbreak, has not been heard from since then. The mother and son, sponsored in this country by the Framingham American Legion Post No. 74, reside with William F. Welch of that city.

Most of today's activities of the nation involved registration and assignment of quarters. The delegates were also briefed as to how to set up their government.

A large share of the week to come will be spent sightseeing in Washington, including a visit with President Eisenhower at the White House on Thursday.

Boy, 15, Shot By Policeman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Daniel Calvin Short Jr., 15, of Washington, was fatally shot in the head Friday as he ran from two Prince Georges County, Md., policemen who were investigating a burglary report.

The youth, a Negro, died in Casualty Hospital. He was identified later at the morgue by his mother.

The shooting occurred in a parking area in front of the office of the Oxon Run Hills golf course, just over the District of Columbia line.

County Police Inspector Vincent S. Free said a broken padlock to the front door of the office was found in the youth's pocket.

Troop Build

"the question of stopping the aggression of the United States and other colonial powers" and "insuring peace and the independence of the Arab countries."

Diplomats in London speculated that the two discussed sending Soviet troops to the U.A.R. province of Syria to counter the U.S. landings in Lebanon and the airlift of British paratroopers to Jordan.

But the buildup sped on. The United States flew 1,200 Marines from Camp Lejeune, N.C., to Beirut.

Ready To Fly

Another 1,700 Marines came ashore earlier Friday from the gathering fleet offshore. This brought the total of Marines in Lebanon to 6,300. Army paratroopers flying from Germany by way of Turkey are expected Saturday.

Britain had 2,000 crack Red Devil paratroopers in Jordan and was ready to fly in more from the east Mediterranean base island of Cyprus.

More warships of the U.S. 6th Fleet arrived off Lebanon, including the missile-firing cruiser Boston. A staff officer said 70 of the fleet's 75 ships are in the eastern Mediterranean "in a position where they can do the most good." British warships were on the move to the same general area.

A U.S. striking force of 100 jet fighters, bombers and transport planes had assembled in Turkey, where 2,000 paratroopers flown from West Germany were on the alert. More U.S. planes ferrying men and material to the Middle East sped through Naples.

Soviet armed forces ran off military maneuvers along the frontiers of Turkey and Iran, partners of the West under the Baghdad Pact.

An Iranian eyewitness said the glare of rockets and gunfire "changed night into bright day" on the Iranian side of the border. Steel - nerved Turkey took the demonstration of military might calmly.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Travel Do's And Don'ts

In today's mail, I received a letter from a reader who asked me to repeat my do's and don'ts for travellers. Here they are, with a few more added:

DO pack and use all your beauty-making preparations designed to protect and improve your looks. Sun, exercise, a change of scene, plus your knowledge and skill in beauty culture are sure to top your vacation with the pleasure of returning home looking like a million — something you don't want to miss!

DON'T overload with luggage. It is a costly nuisance on any trip. Plan your clothes carefully; take only the items you know you will use.

DO eat lightly while on a long trip, whether you travel by train, plane, ship or motor car.

DON'T overeat when you reach your destination, and precisely for the sake of your skin, hair and figure. Be on guard against tempting lists of hot breads and rich desserts. Remember it takes a great deal of exercise to burn up excess calories, so don't overestimate your outdoor activities.

DO retire from the crowd for your favorite solitary pursuits—walks, reading, a nap or just some old-fashioned contemplation. But DON'T become a hermit. Enter into the gorup plans of your family or party.

DO be considerate of all strangers in the new world around you.

DON'T be noisy, critical or argumentive to the distress of another's ear.

DO investigate beforehand the customs, points of interest and special foods at your destination.

DON'T fail to sample and appreciate all of them. Then, you will be charmed — and charming!

HEADS IN BLOOM—Left and center are two of the new flower wigs which are this summer's top hat fashion. Right is a wig of white uncurled ostrich, designed by Miss May, gives the effect of one huge chrysanthemum. Summer accessories and jewelry carry out the same color motif.

Wigs Make Men Forget Chemise

By DOROTHY ROWE

Associated Press Women's Editor

When a lady wears a sack, she must try for eye appeal above or below, say some of our best-dressed women.

That's why hats, shoes and jewelry are so important this summer. A dramatic hat, ultra-feminine shoes in gay color, ropes of colorful beads and chains—these are all current devices to make male critics forget about the figure-concelaing chemise.

Latest, gayest and most flattering of summer headgear are the new flower wigs that are blossoming out in all the smartest luncheon spots these days. A group of fashionable women is likely to look like a flower garden this summer, when they get their heads together over a luncheon or bridge table.

The new flower wigs cover the hair completely, fit closely so that they are safe in a high wind, and are completely covered with every variety of blossoms, ranging from shocking pink silk poppies to white organdy peonies.

They're dramatic, they're festive and they're the hit of the summer hat parade.

Parsonage Family Is Honored

Rev. Robert Bavender, pastor of Cresaptown Methodist Church, and his family were honored at a reception sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service, for the congregation. It was held Thursday evening at the church with Mrs. Edward Lewis, local activities chairman, in charge.

Rev. Bavender was assigned here in June, coming from Southern Maryland. He replaced Rev. Raymond Crowe. He and Mrs. Bavender are the parents of three daughters.

A welcome was extended by Martin Johnson, lay leader; G. E. Broadwater, conference lay delegate; and Fred Willison, church school superintendent. Both Rev. and Mrs. Bavender responded in appreciation of the program and gifts.

The program consisted of group singing, led by Mrs. Colleen Nelson, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ruth Johnson; prayer by W. A. Judy; solos, "Tell Me the Story of Jesus," by Judy Feeney; and "Beyond the Sunset," by Benay Higgs; two numbers by a trio composed of Elizabeth Higg, Bernice Wotring and Julia Wright; two numbers by a male quartet of James Glover, Hayes Robinette, Martin Johnson and K. O. Nelson. Mrs. W. A. Judy gave a reading, "The Inventor's Wife."

Concluding the program a surprise pantry shower was held and refreshments served. There were approximately 150 attending, including the children.

Leaguers Will Have Swim Party

Members of the Luther League of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will have a swimming party tomorrow at the Celanese pool. Darlene Browne will have charge of the vesper service at 6 p. m.

A travelogue of Iraq featured the program at the "Flip-A-Coin" hike the league held recently. Twenty-two members, under the leadership of Vera Elaine MacKenzie, participated. They were divided into four teams with Gary Bucy, William Ritchey, Bonnie Norris and Donna Rice as captains. The hikers left the church at 3:30 and ended at the home of Robert Smith and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Smith, Oldtown Road, advisors of the group.

Dr. A. S. Hashim, assisted by Mrs. Hashim, showed color slides he had taken of his homeland, Iraq, and told of life and customs in and around Baghdad. He showed that it is a country in which one can see the ancient architecture and traditions against the modern buildings and western style of living that the younger people are adapting.

Following the walk a wiener roast was held on the lawn, after which badminton and croquet were played.

A vesper service was conducted by Robert Smith. His topic was "The Power of One Person." He was assisted by Judy Ritchey. The vespers were attended by 40 persons including Rev. John Sammel and other advisors.

His First Steps...

He stands with his legs quivering ever so slightly, ready to put forth first one foot . . . and then the other.

This is a great moment, and it might be frightening if it were not for the strong, steady clasp of his mother's hand. She is there to guide him . . . to catch him if he falls.

But the time will come when he'll have to let go of his mother's hand, and go forth on his own. Even then, he will need guidance. His mother is taking care of that, too. Already, he attends church with his parents on Sundays and slowly but surely he will begin to learn the meaning of faith. Children must be taught to take spiritual as well as physical steps. The Church stands ready to teach them.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH.

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

GOP Claim Of Savings Is Disputed

CHARLESTON (AP)—Republican claims of a saving to taxpayers in current operation of the Workmen's Compensation Dept. were disputed in a statement from Democratic State Headquarters here Friday.

Earlier this week, Republican State Chairman Daniel L. Louchery of Clarksburg called attention to what he said was a saving of $37,681 in administrative costs, based upon budget comparisons of the fiscal year just ended with the last year under Democratic rule.

In a statement today, Democratic State Chairman Hulett C. Smith of Beckley said:

"A budget, as Mr. Louchery must know, is an estimate of needs made up in advance of the beginning of a fiscal year. The 'proof of the pudding' lies in what actually was expended—not just appropriated.

"During the 1956-57 fiscal year—which was the last complete year under the prior Democratic administration — the Workmen's Compensation Dept. actually spent $785,322, as shown by the official records.

"The same record sources show that the present Republican administration actually spent $833,942 during its first fiscal year—an increase of $48,620...Thus, instead of creating a 'saving' of $37,681 as claimed for the Republican administration of the Workmen's Compensation Fund by the GOP state chairman, actually the expenditures by that agency were increased $48,620— a 'slight' difference of $86,301."

Westernport Considers Sewage Rate Ordinance

One-Third Increase In Water Rates Proposed To Pay Town's Share

WESTERNPORT—A proposed sewer ordinance requested by Mayor L. Wilt and Town Commissioners prepared by Horace P. Whitworth Sr., town attorney, was read Wednesday evening at the council session. Attorney Whitworth pointed out it is just a rough draft giving them something to start from. He requested council to study it section by section and when they had made their decision he would draw up the completed ordinance.

It is proposed that a sewer charge of 33⅓ percent of present water bills be made, and persons living outside of the Town of Westernport to pay 20 percent extra for water service.

The ordinance will be considered at a special meeting next Wednesday evening.

This sewer charge is to help pay for necessary facilities to connect to the sewage plant now being constructed. This plant is being built by the Upper Potomac River Commission for principal use of the Luke Plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Attorney Whitworth thought it is essential that the town begin as soon as possible collecting sewage rent to build up a fund before the work is begun.

Westernport, Piedmont and Luke, may be eligible to receive a grant from the federal government to pay a portion of the expenses needed for sewage facilities to connect up with the sewage plant. Westernport's estimated cost has been placed at $250 thousand.

Hazen and Sawyer, engineers for the sewage plant called a meeting for 1 p. m. July 24, at the City Building to discuss the steps to be undertaken so the towns may be eligible for federal and state aid.

In addition to the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport, others expected to attend will include Mayor Rodney Baker of Piedmont; Mayor Edward Duckworth, Luke; William Walsh, Cumberland, attorney for the Upper Potomac River Commission; L. W. Gebhard of the US Public Health Service; S. B. Pierson, of Alex Browns and Sons, a bonding firm of Baltimore and I. W. Shives, Maryland Department of Health.

PRINCESS — Miss Evelyn Rapp, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Rapp of Renick, W. Local Marine Unit Concludes Annual Training

The final maneuver of the two weeks of field training by the Sixth Infantry Company, local Marine Reserve unit, took place yesterday at the Naval Amphibious Base at Little Creek, Va.

The Marines went ashore in craft such as was used by the Second Marine Battalion earlier this week in landing at beleaguered Beirut, Lebanon.

Once ashore the reservists probed for mine fields on the beach, and then pressed forward for three hours of simulated combat with the "enemy." A critique will be held to rate the performance of the Sixth Company's performance during the ship-to-shore operation.

"Operation Lex," as yesterday's amphibious assult was designated, climaxed the annual training period. Much of the time in the past few days was spent in teaching the local reservists how to board and debark safely from ships to landing craft.

One of the highlights of the training session has been the practice of vertical assault by helicopters. Both amphibious and helicopter assault training is new to most members of the Sixth Company.

In previous years, the unit trained at Cherry Point and Camp Lejeune, N. C., and Crane, Ind., where members received instruction in individual combat methods, guard duty and security procedures.

The local reservists will depart by bus from the Little Creek training base at 8 a. m. today.

Road Sign Destroyed

KEYSER — A road sign on Route 50, advertising Doll's Honeymoon Gift Shop, has been torn down and destroyed, State Police Trooper Charles C. Oliver reported. The three-by-four-foot sign was located alongside the road about half way up Allegheny Front.

Oliver said Joseph Carl Doll, owner of the gift shop near New Creek, has offered a reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who destroyed the sign.

Wolfords Seek

No Agreement

On July 11, the solicitor for the complainants was advised by Mr. Puderbaugh, according to the bill of complaint, that the commission would not agree to certain changes to ameliorate the situation and instructions had been given to proceed with channelization with the armed protection of the Maryland State Police.

The following day, the Wolford's attorney wired Col. Elmer F. Munshower, superintendent of the State Police, warning him that all persons entering the Wolford property would be considered trespassers after notice. He was requested to delay any action on the part of the State Police until the matter can be adjudicated in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The bill of complain charges further that on Monday, July 14, four SRC employes, accompanied by state troopers, armed with what was believed to be shotguns or rifles, trespassed on the Wolford property and remained there a number of hours despite notice from Mr. Wolford to leave.

The next day, the bill continues, SRC agents and employes, accompanied by state police, went upon the Wolford property, remained there throughout the day, driving about 25 heavy steel spikes into the blacktop. It was proposed that on Wednesday the agents would commence drilling through the blacktop to install additional posts.

It is further contended by the Wolfords that the action of the defendant and its agents was designed to coerce the Wolfords into again executing an option contract or into deeding over that portion of the premises desired by the SRC.

The Wolfords ask that the injunction be effective until the legal rights of the parties may be adjudicated in the condemnation proceedings which they said are now pending in Circuit Court.

Two Sentenced For Making False Claims

Two Lonaconing residents were given jail sentences at hearings yesterday before Trial Magistrate Morris Baron on charges of making fraudulent statements to obtain unemployment compensation benefits.

Charles H. Dohm was given a 90-day sentence in the county jail, while Mrs. Anna M. Rankin received a 30-day sentence. Both were informed the sentences would be suspended if restitution is made and court costs paid within a period of ten days.

Mrs. Rankin made restitution and was released. Dohm was committed to jail.

The cases were brought to the attention of authorities after an audit was made by the Maryland Department of Employment Security when employers' reports of employes were checked against claims filed by unemployed persons.

Donald .W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, who prosecuted the cases, said Dohm fraudulently received $76, and Mrs. Rankin obtained $88. Mrs. Rankin had already made a $5 partial payment in refund, it was pointed out.

Magistrate Baron, in imposing the sentences, said that the penalties under law for such offenses, provides for fines of from $50 to $500, or 90 days in jail, or both.

Representing the local office of the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Board was Francis A. Kenney, local manager.

Deaths

Child Fatally Hurt In Fall

SOMERSET — Olin Shreckengost, 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shreckengost of Listie, was fatally injured Tuesday evening when he fell from a second-floor bedroom window at his home.

The child died Wednesday in Somerset Community Hospital without regaining consciousness. Somerset County Coroner Robert E. Halverson said death was caused by a cerebral concussion. He listed the case as an accidental death.

According to the coroner, the youngster climbed from his crib and pushed out a screen at the bedroom window. He fell onto a concrete slab.

Born October 25, 1956, the victim was a son of Paul and Mildred (Houser) Shreckengost. Two brothers and two sisters also survive.

Youths Seek Speedy Trials

Two criminal informations were filed yesterday in Circuit Court by Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney.

Two youths, both of whom have been charged with breaking and entering and grand larceny, petitioned for immediate hearings on the charges.

The first criminal information was filed against Phillip L. Miller, 18, of Springfield, W. Va. He was one of three youths who broke into a junk yard in South Cumberland and stole over $200 from a safe on June 23.

The other was placed against Jackie W. Poffenberger, 17, of Polish Mountain. He was arrested on June 26 by State Police in the breaking and entering and theft from a home in that area.

The Poffenberger boy was cash and several other articles charged with the theft of $20 in valued at over $100 from the residence of Merle Hinkle.

Both youths are being held in Allegany County Jail in default of bonds set at preliminary hearings.

Judge Morgan C. Harris said he would conduct both hearings Wednesday morning.

Stubborn Patron Wounded In W.Va. Tavern Shooting

HUNTINGTON (AP) — A tavern-keeper who stopped the sale of beer at midnight as required by state law shot and critically wounded a stubborn patron who fired a shotgun into the establishment early Friday.

A witness and a patron were hit by shotgun pellets, and Tracy Fannin, the tavern-keeper, was showered by broken glass.

Police Capt. Azel T. Bryant, quoting witnesses, said Frank Whaley, 24, threatened to "bust her in the nose" if Fay Clark, the waitress, removed his beer glass from the table.

Pellets from a single blast fired from outside hit Miss Clark and Robert Mix, 29, one of several patrons in the place.

Crane Snaps Wires

Power was interrupted from 16 to 48 minutes in several downtown areas early yesterday afternoon after the boom of a crane being used by the Western Maryland Railway on new B&O-Western Maryland interchange tracks hit a Potomac Edison feeder line.

Satellites Can't Be 'Independent'

Not only the presence of the Red Army, but their great economic reliance on Russia is a major reason why the Iron Curtain satellite countries stay in line.

Recently, for instance, the boss of the Poles, Wladyslaw Gomulka, finally and openly took sides with Russia in its dispute with Tito's Yugoslavia.

This was done not only because there were a number of Russian Army divisions close to Warsaw but also because of the economic facts of life.

Figures recently disclosed show conclusively that employment in Polish industry is dependent to an overwhelming degree to imports from Russia. From 1950 to 1956 Poland imported 49 per cent of her liquid fuels, 43 per cent of her grain, and 81 per cent of her cotton from Russia.

Had Gomulka stood up to the Russians, he might not have brought the Red Army down on his head. But he would have faced the strong possibility that Russia would cut off shipments of raw materials to Poland.

This would have resulted in heavy unemployment in Poland. Before long the Poles probably would have thrown Gomulka out in favor of a regime more cooperative with Russia.

In Poland, as in the other satellites, Russia is far and away the largest supplier and the biggest customer. This economic leverage gives pause to any Communist leader who toys with the idea of becoming "independent."

Intervention In Lebanon

In the new warfare, new weapons are used which have the nature of a siege and yet which do not at all resemble a weapon of war. For instance, Iraq has for years been the most stable of Arab nations. Why the sudden explosion? Why was the mass uprising so brutal?

Two weapons were employed by both Soviet Russia and Nasser: propaganda for the masses on the superiority of the Arabs, the wickedness of the West and the horrors of American imperialism and race hatred; subversion by corruption, particularly among the armed forces and the intellectuals who are poorly paid and therefore envious of those who have become millionaires through oil. The intellectual in all countries is a social problem because no one has ever worked out a system of parity for them.

In a revolution, the question of timing is always important. The Iraqi Revolution was designed to accomplish three immediate results:

1. To kill off the summit conference of Baghdad Nations at Istanbul which was to take place the very day that the revolt occurred;
2. To give added strength to the Syrians fighting in Lebanon as Lebanese in revolt, an obvious fiction;
3. To take out of the Baghdad Pact the only Arab nation in it.

It is necessary for Nasser to continue to win victories. This is true of every empire builder and is the essential weakness of his position. Lebanon's capacity to resist Nasser's penetration through Syria must have startled the entire Arab world, as Lebanon is a very small country, possesses few resources. But Lebanon is an exception among Arab countries in that about half of its population is Christian and resistant to Soviet Influence.

At any rate, Lebanon did resist and thereby upset the Arab apple-cart. The revolution in Iraq had to be rushed to make Lebanon helpless before the United States could intervene. The realistic objection to American intervention is that it is impossible for anyone to know what it will lead to.

Turkey is never to be forgotten. It is the most irreconcilably anti-Soviet country on earth, not only ideologically but because for about 250 years, Russia and Turkey have been at enmity, partly as a result of which the great empire of the Osmanli Turks, one of the largest in history, was destroyed. What Nasser is trying to do is to restore the Turkish Empire in Arabic-speaking countries into a unity with himself as the supreme sovereign.

Turkey will get into this situation if it can, as an excellent means of saving herself from Soviet penetration into Turkey and from the partially Soviet-inspired Cypriot diversion which has become so bothersome in the relations between Greece and the NATO Powers. It was the struggle over Cyprus which broke up the Balkan Alliance of Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey, a regional grouping that might have been very useful at the present time.

Another country to watch in this situation is Israel which nearly landed Nasser on the ropes in the Sinai War, assisted by Great Britain and France. Nasser was saved by the United States, one of the most idiotic acts in recent history. The betrayal of American allies in the Suez situation was a bitter blow to them but it was more costly to the United States because it gave an American sanction to Nasser's imperialism. The recent dealings between Nasser and a group of American bankers also seem to have encouraged him not only to flout the United States but to push forward his imperialistic designs. This is a natural response to a craven attitude by one who accepts dictatorship as a prerogative.

Israel faces a life and death struggle. Had Lebanon fallen prey to Nasser, Israel would have been next on the program. The geography of the situation requires it, for then Egypt and Syria would be united by land as well as in the air. Then would follow Jordan, Iraq and Saudi Arabia. Saudi Arabian revolt of some months ago has not worked out too well for Nasser. Nothing particularly important has happened. However, if Iraq falls, Israel is in danger and the territory of Israel could be absorbed by Syria if Jordan remained obdurately anti-Nasser.

This is how this situation shaped up at the moment that the United States intervened in Lebanon.

Bold Action Needed For Iraq Independence

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

These words are written in the chill moment of uncertainty, between the discussion and the decision. When they are printed, the decision will be known. An operation will have been launched to rescue Iraq from the blood-stained hands of the Baghdad plotters. Or the Western powers will almost surely have lost the chance.

Iraq is everything, the Lebanon nothing. Lebanese Foreign Minister Charles Malik has frankly admitted to all who would listen to him that the American landing in Beirut will be a fruitless, footling gesture, unless the larger problem of Iraq is simultaneously solved. Iraq, not Lebanon, has been the chief subject of all the anguished consultations between the British and American governments in these last agonizing days.

While the decision of the leaders of the West is breathlessly awaited, it is at least worth while setting down the pros and cons. They are pros and cons unlike any that have been argued since the end of World War II, even in the tense days between President Truman's Korean decision. In truth, this is the most crucial turning point since the cold war began. The cold war, remember, has been nothing more nor less than an unremitting Soviet effort to upset the world balance of power, which has been opposed by a very much less continuous Western effort to maintain the world balance of power. The balance of power in turn depends upon the outcome in the Middle East. And in present circumstances, the outcome in the Middle East depends upon the outcome in Iraq.

Malik's admission above-quoted may seem very curious, indeed, coming from the representative of the Lebanese state. But it too is a simple statement of fact. The presence of the Marines may permit a new President of Lebanon — perhaps Gen. Shehab — to be peacefully elected. It may permit President Chamoun to serve out his legal term. It may allow all the other outward signs of Lebanese independence to be decently preserved.

But Lebanon's alleged independence will not last long. It will hardly be worth a dried fig, if the independence of Iraq is not also restored. Neither will Kuweit or Bahrein or Saudi Arabia or Jordan, be worth a dried fig. If Gamal Abdel Nasser's conspiratorial attack on Baghdad is permitted to succeed, every friend of the West in every Arab land is quite certainly doomed. Even the cheap expedient that is popular in London — holding the little oil-rich Persian Gulf sheikdoms by naked force, if need be — will be more expensive and less fruitful in the end than a direct attack on the heart of the problem, which is now in Baghdad.

The rot will not end there, either. A neutralist Iran, a neutralist Pakistan, a Turkey moving back to the position Turkey chose in the last war — these are further items in the price that will have to be paid. And it will not end there, either. For the thrust will be felt in the very heart of the Western Alliance, when the Middle Eastern oil jugular is cut by Nasser.

Such are the reasons for taking bold action in Iraq. Most of the reasons for not taking action are mere twaddle — Hammerskjold-twaddle, world opinion-twaddle, other kinds of twaddle. When the knife is at the jugular, it becomes easier to tell twaddle from reality. Hence the twaddle-reasons have received significantly little attention in the recent exchanges between Washington and London.

There is in fact only one real reason for not taking action in Iraq—fear of what the Soviets may do about it. The Kremlin has hastened to recognize the insurrectionary government in Baghdad. If we respond to a call for help from King Hussein of Jordan, who has inherited the legitimate leadership of the merged Hashemite states, the Soviets want us to think they too will respond to a call for help from their Baghdad friends.

Only a fool would say, at this juncture, that the Soviets will not respond in this manner. If the Western nations take no action in Iraq, this crisis will be far worse than Munich. But if the West does take action, this crisis can be another Sarajevo. There is no use wrapping up that black fact in pink cotton wool.

There are two things to be said about that fact, however. If the Western nations act with iron resolution and utmost speed (and it is already almost too late), then one can hope the Soviets will only huff and puff and finally do nothing, as we did in the very different case of Hungary. But let a double standard of behavior be established, preventing us from having our say about any situation on their side of the line dividing the world, but leaving them to have the final say about situations on our side of the line. After that, the cause of freedom will be lost already. After that, the road to the final catastrophe will go by easy stages.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

The 10,000 scientific egg-heads are coming up with Univacked chaos in the first semester of the Geo-Fizzical Year.

They are discovering things about the earth that don't seem impossible. The ice at the South Pole is thicker than at the North. You can take your pick.

There's another Mississippi River four miles under the Pacific Ocean. As an oldtime trout-line fisherman I'm asking Congress to declare this a disaster area.

About 3,952 egg-heads measured the weather in Siberia where it's 109 degrees below Fahrenheit's worst batting slump. Now you know why Eskimos don't bother with doors.

If the ice cap melted the ocean would rise 147 feet, elapsed time. It will be no time to be on the beach picking up pretty sea-shells for strange children.

Deepest spot in the Pacific is seven miles as the crow flies. Quite a bird bath.

The 10,000 oval-tops can tell you everything that's going to happen. But not how to prevent it.

Back Yard Pool Must Be Kept Supervised, Clean

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Two chickens in every pot and two cars in every garage are old hat. The current slogan is a swimming pool in every back-yard—an excellent idea if you can afford it.

Swimming is enjoyed by persons of all ages. The individual controls the degree of exertion which varies from none, as in floating, to the most strenuous use of the majority of the body muscles. The back yard pool has many health advantages but — to be safe — it must be supervised and kept clean.

The main hazards are injury, drowning, sunburn, and infections. There also are legal liabilities if the pool is used by friends and children in the neighborhood. Enclose it with a fence if for no other reason than to keep out the toddlers and stray dogs.

Youngsters like to horse around and injuries from falls are common because the pool's surface is slippery and hard. Accidents also stem from belly flops and back flipping from the diving board. Keep poles, ring buoys, and first aid kits in a convenient place. List the phone numbers of your physician, the fire department, and the ambulance service.

But infection is the number one hazard. The water gets dirty and bacteria multiply. Algae (green scum) forms, especially during the hot days of July and August. Most of the pollution comes from the bathers. When the pool is used by many persons, insist upon a shower before entering and make it a rule that no one with skin disease or other infection will be permitted to use the pool.

Water sanitation is maintained through filtration, chlorination, and suction cleaners. Good filtration systems are available; they screen out 95 per cent of the organisms while the pool is in use. The same water is used over and over again, saving on the water bill.

The rest of the bacteria are killed through chlorination. Regular checks should be made to see that the concentration of this chemical is adequate to destroy germs. In some instances, alum preparations must be added to coagulate organic matter.

Copper salts may be needed to control algae and allied plant growths. These necessities may be purchased through chemical houses or hardware and garden supply stores.

GOITER IN NEWBORN

Mrs. S. writes: Can a baby be born with a goiter?

REPLY

Yes, especially if the mother is taking iodides for an allergic condition or an antithyroid drug for a thyroid disorder. This type of congenital goiter usually disappears within a week or two.

TB IN TEEN-AGERS

G. E. writes: Is is true that young people are unusually susceptible to tuberculosis?

REPLY

Yes, the stress and strain of adolescence is said to lower resistance to the causative bacilli. After accidents, tuberculosis is the leading cause of death in the 15 to 34 age bracket.

DRUG ADDICTION

C. R. writes: What drugs are considered addictive?

REPLY

The narcotics, such as morphine, opium, and heroin; the barbiturates, and synthetic products such as demerol. Some authorities include alcohol in the list of addicting drugs.

ALL OUT OF STEP BUT JIM

Mrs. J. writes: I just moved into a new neighborhood and all the people have the disgusting habit of sticking out their tongues at everybody. Do you think they are all crazy?

REPLY

Yes, except thee and me.

THE RESIDUE

M. J. writes: What is meant by residual changes?

REPLY

What is left after a person has had an infection or accident. For example, the residual change in pulmonary tuberculosis is a lung scar. The same can be said of scarring from acne or an auto accident.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

An Englishman, invited to a nobby function, discovered that moths had gotten into his full-dress suit. "Get some mothballs," suggested the maid, "or they'll destroy the rest of your wardrobe." The Englishman bought five big boxes of mothballs in the ensuing two days. "What on earth can you be doing with all those mothballs?" asked the druggist.

"It's my bloody bad aim," explained the Englishman. "I miss the blighters five times out of six."

A Broadway playboy had a closer shave than he bargained for in a barber shop recently. His manicure girl was very beautiful, and the playboy suggested a show and a nightclub that evening. "I don't think I ought to," said the manicurist demurely. "I'm married."

"Ask your husband," suggested the playboy. "I'm sure he wouldn't mind."

"Ask him yourself," said the girl. "He's shaving you."

King Hussein Of Jordan Remains As Anchor Of Pro-West Friendship

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's note—Today Drew Pearson awards the brass ring, good for one free ride on the WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND to King Hussein of Jordan.)

WASHINGTON—When I was in Amman, Capital of turbulent Jordan, last September, the betting odds were that King Hussein had one year to remain on the throne. Most diplomats figured he would be assassinated. Nine months have now passed and King Hussein is still alive and still on the throne. He is the most stable pro-western monarch in the Near East. Upon him will depend whether the west can regain Iraq.

Twenty-three years old, King Hussein has spent 21 years concentrating on sports cars, airplanes, and women. In the last two years he has given up sports cars and airplanes.

Just what are the ingredients necessary for kingship? Historians differ. One of them, of course, is courage. Another in these modern days of cutthroat intrigue and assassination is a good espionage system. Four days before pro-Nasser Arabs kicked Hussein's cousin, King Faisal, off the throne of Iraq, Hussein found that his own personal aide-de-camp, Lieut. Radi Abdullah was conspiring to do likewise with him. Lieutenant Abdullah was promptly arrested.

This should have been a warning to Hussein's 23-year-old cousin in Iraq. But King Faisal was asleep at the switch. So was our Central Intelligence. King Hussein was not.

The King's Subjects

As I sat in the outer room of King Hussein's palace waiting for an audience on a sultry September Sunday, the political life of Jordan ebbed and flowed around me. Members of the Moslem Brotherhood which has assassinated Arab leaders when they lean toward friendship with Israel, waited to see His Highness. So did Jordan diplomats, members of the Jordanian Parliament, and two Bedouin sheiks. The day was hot. The sheiks were dressed in layer after layer of white cloth, with stylish tan suits beneath. They could have come by either camel or Cadillac.

One of them, Sheik Turkey, protested vigorously that he had been stopped by a guard who did not want him to pass.

"I knew the King's grandfather when the King was in diapers," protested Sheik Turkey. "What does this guard mean by stopping me? I have more sheep than he has hairs on his head and more wives than he has sheep."

He fished down through the layers of cloth to a pocket in his pants, pulled out a huge roll of Jordanian pound notes. The Jordanian pound is worth twice as much as the British pound, and he probably had ten thousand dollars in that roll. He flourished it to indicate his wealth.

I asked him how many sheep he had.

"Enough," was the reply. A friend explained that he probably did not know.

These were the subjects of King Hussein. There were the leaders of the desert kingdom thrown together by the British after World War I, partly as a buffer state against Saudi Arabia, partly against Palestine. Most historians and most geographers agree that it had no reason for being. Yet it has been. And, under the tough, wise rule of King Hussein, continues to be.

Proud Of His Deserts

Little King Hussein is proud of his country. When I asked him what he was doing about irrigating his deserts he looked a little hurt.

"Oh, you came to Jordan at the wrong time of the year," he said. "If you had come in the spring or the winter you would have seen a wonderful green country. This is the dry season. However, we do need irrigation.

"We had great hopes of the Eric Johnston plan for getting water from the Jordan River, but that failed. Your point four program is helping us with some other irrigation projects."

Above the King's desk as we talked was a picture of his grandfather, King Abdullah. Abdullah was both courageous and farsighted. He met twice secretly with Mrs. Golda Maier, now Foreign Minister of Israel, to try to work out peace between the Jews and the Arabs. For this he was shot as he knelt to pray in the Great Mosque in Jerusalem.

Young King Hussein, who worships the memory of his grandfather, is reported to believe that peace can be worked out between Israel and Jordan. But with 400,000 Arab refugees from Israel living in camps in Jordan, this is not easy. Refugees constitute the most turbulent political group in his turbulent kingdom.

Uncertain Life Of A King

Outside his window as we talked, I could see a colorful member of the Arab Legion once trained by that famed British friend of the Arabs, Gen. Glubb Pasha. Outside the King's door as I came in were more guards dressed in shiny black boots, the tight coat and the tall lambskin hat of the cossack. And in front of his palace were two jeeps manned with machine guns, ready to escort the King's car.

Such are the hazards of ruling over a kingdom which Syria covets on the north and Colonel Nasser covets on the south. If they were to assassinate Hussein or stir up a successful rebellion against him, the United Arab Republic of Syria and Egypt for the first time would have almost a common border. Only Israel's Elath would be between. Now they are separated by long distances of sea and the desert kingdom of Jordan.

Yet nine months have passed, and the little King has not only remained on his throne but turned out to be the strongest pro-west ruler in the Near East. King Saud of Saudi Arabia, who once sent troops to quell Jordanian revolt, is virtually out of office. King Faisal of much stronger Iraq is no more. President Chamoun of Lebanon has been fighting for his life.

Only the 23-year-old monarch of Jordan remains as the sole anchor of pro-west friendship by which the United States can keep a hold on the Near East.

Ethical Standards

By Brother Barnabas

I was shocked the other day to hear a prominent businessman say that 90 per cent of the buying public look upon the storekeeper as more or less of a crook trying to beat the customer and needing to be watched.

They accuse him of not telling the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth about the goods he wants to unload; that would spoil the sale.

This policy is called in law "caveat emptor," meaning "let the buyer beware." If he feels that he has been cheated, it's his own fault; he should have been more cautious.

If that is the ethical standard to go by, then buying and selling becomes degraded to a bargaining system in which each party tries to outwit the other, and one is bound to lose—which is not ethical.

Bad Bargains

A bargain-hunting gallant in the matrimonial market proposed to a bargain table belle and was turned down. He felt so cheap over it that she, scenting a bargain, accepted him. She took him for better or worse, and he proved worse than she took him for. It's hard to convince a woman that even a bargain costs, and somebody gets the worst of it.

Abraham Lincoln and a trader agreed to swap horses, sight unseen. The trader brought a sway-back, gaunt, decrepit, superannuated stack of skin and bones, while "Honest Abe" matched him with a dilapidated saw-horse. The trader's horse went to the pound, while the saw-horse went to the woodpile.

Federal Requirements

The revelations of Upton Sinclair and Doctor Harvey W. Wiley which showed the conditions of filth existing in the stockyards and slaughterhouses of the nation led to federal legislation in a series of Acts, beginning June 30, 1906. These laws were designed to prevent the adulteration or misbranding of food or drugs. The narcotic and stimulants content of proprietary medicines had to be labelled.

It is doubtful whether any federal enactment will suffice to enforce strict honesty. Honesty pays but it doesn't pay enough to satisfy some people.

If booze were properly labelled it would read: "It sparkles in the cup and goes down smoothly. At the last it bites like a serpent, and stings like an adder." (Proverbs 23:31-32).

Kinds Of Honesty

Scrupulous honesty and conventional honesty are two different things. You call on a neighbor and the maid says she's not in. She is all in from being out too late the night before.

"Are you sure this butter has no hairs in it?" asked the housewife of the countrywoman delivering freshly churned butter from the farm. She replied, "My husband and I spent all morning forking them out, I think we got them all."

A thoughtful husband, to prove his devotion to his wife on his trip away from home for quite a spell, stepped up to the hosiery counter and asked for a box of invisible hose, sheer, size 40, long. The lady said she had been selling them all morning and they were still invisible. Said he, "Then send them and charge to my invisible account."

He was thrilled by the loveliness and grace of a blonde pirouetting before a roomful of female spectators, modeling a scrumptious Parisian gown, marked down to $1,000.

He asked the emcee if that included the girl inside and she referred him to the proprietor. Looking him over at a distance he seemed a doughty contender, and on second thought he slipped out at the side door.

All this persiflage is preliminary to saying that in the opinion of the writer there is more downright honesty per square foot among business people than the 90 per cent dissidents would indicate.

Honesty In Business Rates High

My guess is that 90 per cent of the business men I know will go out of their way to please a customer, and if the goods is not what it was represented to be your money will be returned, or proper adjustment will be cheerfully made.

The proportion of honesty rates higher among business people than in any other occupation I know.

Higher than among the Clergy. The preacher takes his text and immediately departs from it.

Lawyers are proverbial deceivers. "What is a lawyer, Paw?" Paw replies: "A lawyer, my son, is a man who induces two other men to strip for a fight and then runs off with their clothes."

There are more honest folks in my community than dishonest. Many folks who appear heartless do not wear their hearts on their sleeves.

Lions Defeat B'nai B'rith In Ninth, 2-1

Jaycees, Bedford Road In 3-3 Draw

Joe Hoban's single, scoring Frank Murray in the ninth inning, gave the Lions Club a 2-1 victory over B'nai B'rith in a nine-inning Hot Stove Baseball League battle last night at Penn Avenue Field.

Murray singled, moved to second on Sisk's infield out and scored the winning run in the extra inning game when Hoban's grounder bounded over the head of the first baseman.

B'nai B'rith's only hit was a single by Metzger in the sixth inning.

In another nine inning contest, played at Fort Hill Field, the Jaycees and Bedford Optimists battled to a 3-3 draw when hostilities were halted so that a City High School game could get under way.

Phil Barbe homered and Harvey tripled for the Jaycees while Harold Hardinger had two safeties for Bedford Road.

Harvey's three-base blow put the Jaycees in front in the top of the ninth and Harold Hardinger's hit tied the score in the bottom of the final stanza. Scores:

Keech's Drug Stores Defeats Local 26 For 4th Win In Row, 6-4

Keech's Drug Stores softball team scored its fourth straight victory in the Men's Rec Softball League yesterday, defeating the front-running Local 26 team by the score of 6-4 at Naval Reserve Field.

The loss cut Local 26's lead over the runner-up Western Maryland Railway team to 1½ games. Keech's record now is 8-7.

By winning yesterday's game Keech's cracked the five-game winning streak of Don Decker, who started on the rubber for the losers and was supplanted in the 5th inning by "Pickles" Doolan.

Bob Scaletta went the route for Keech's and chalked up his third win against as many losses.

Jack Spangler batted in three runs with a single and Jim Ellsworth smacked a two-bagger and single for the winners. Houdersheldt and Golden smashed homers and Barbe collected two hits for Local 26. Score:

Giants Defeat Pittsburgh, 5-4 Cop N. L. Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pitcher Stu Miller's change-up artistry and a three-base blast by Willie Mays carried San Francisco's Giants back into the National League lead Friday night with a 5-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

That, coupled with Chicago's 5-3 triumph over Milwaukee, put the Giants one-half game ahead of the Braves, the same advantage they held last Sunday.

The 165-pound Miller weakened in the eighth and after giving up three singles and a run, was relieved by the veteran Marv Grissom. The 40-year-old reliever put out the fire that frame, but the Pirates tallied twice in the ninth on two singles and an error before the Giants could wrap it up.

Rookie Hurler Beats Orioles

Woodeshick Scores For Cleveland, 5-1

BALTIMORE (AP)—Rookie Hal Woodeshick checked Baltimore on seven hits Friday night in his first major league start and Earl Averill smashed a three-run homer in Cleveland's 5-1 victory over the Orioles.

The only Baltimore run leaked through in the sixth inning, when the Tribe made two errors, one of them Woodeshick's wild throw.

Averill's second inning smash, his first homer of the season, featured an 11-hit attack on three Baltimore pitchers. Lary Doby and Rocky Colavito opened that inning with singles, and after Russ Nixon grounded out, Averill parked one in the left field stands.

The Indians scored their fourth run in the fifth inning and the Tribe's final run came in the seventh when Mickey Vernon tripled and scored on Willy Miranda's throwing error.

Runnels Gets 5 Hits, Takes Over A.L. Lead

BOSTON (AP)—Frank Malzone tagged a tie-breaking grand slam homer, Pete Runnels collected five hits to take over the American League batting lead Friday night and their Boston teammates profited for a 11-9 victory over Detroit.

Malzone lifted his big blow into the left field screen to dissolve a 6-6 deadlock in the seventh inning. Runnels got three doubles and two singles in six trips that sent his average to .334.

The pair drove in seven runs as Boston posted its fifth straight victory and tightened its hold on second place by pulling three and one half games ahead of the Tigers.

Dick Tomanek, A's Southpaw, Beats Yankees

Scores Third Win Over New York, 2-1

NEW YORK (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics wrapped up their scoring in the first two innings and went on to beat New York 2-1 Friday night as left-hander Dick Tomanek worked out of a ninth-inning jam that cost him a shutout.

The first three A's to bat — Mike Baxes, Bill Tuttle and Roger Maris—singles for a run. The second run came on a single by Frank House, a pair of infield outs that moved him to third and a single by Baxes.

Tomanek, 27, now is 5-4 for the season, with three victories over New York.

The Yankees, who haven't been shut out by a southpaw since Cleveland's Herb Score did it on Aug. 21, 1956, had eight hits before the ninth, but few good chances.

With two out in the ninth, Andy Carey and Norm Siebern got their second singles of the game. Then Carey cracked through Tomanek's bid for his major league shutout when pinch - hitter Yogi Berra punched a bad-hop single past first baseman Harry Simpson on a 3-2 pitch.

Redlegs Hand St. Louis Cards Double Defeat

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tight and crafty pitching by veterans Don Newcombe and Bob Purkey plus some homer hitting helped the resurgent Cincinnati Redlegs sweep a twi-night doubleheader from St. Louis' Cardinals Friday night, 8-3 and 2-1.

It was the seventh loss in a row for the Cards who were bumped out of the first division.

The Reds, just out of a seven-game slump that had sent them to the cellar, banged out 17 hits in running a new victory string to three.

Frankie Robinson's ninth inning homer won the game and snapped a tie in the nightcap that had continued from the fourth inning.

Sports Stadium Money Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee approved today $3,000,000 for a new facility at the National Bureau of Standards in Gaithersburg, Md.

It rejected, however, $1,200,000 to acquire land for a sports stadium in Washington and $2,000,000 for land for the George Washington Memorial Parkway from Washington to Prince Georges County, Md.

Coach Tommy Henrich of the Detroit Tigers batted .282 in 1,284 American League games with the Yankees. He also hit .282 in 21 World Series games.

Feller Raps Huge Bonus For Youths

Calls It Ridiculous, Robinson Disagrees

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bob Feller Friday hurled a verbal fast ball at the payment of huge bonuses to promising youngsters.

"Ridiculous," snapped Feller, who said he got nothing for signing his first contract except three autographed baseballs.

Both Feller, Cleveland's former strikeout king, and Robinson, ex-Dodger third baseman, testified before the Senate Anti-monopoly subcommittee on House - passed sports legislation.

"Don't punish" young players by discontinuing bonuses, Robinson said. He said payments for signing a contract provide youngsters with a nest egg to live on, if it turns out that they lack the ability to make a career of the major leagues.

Feller said these bonuses lead to no good. Based only on hopes for the future, he contended, they bring "undue attention on a young boy. . .may turn his head. . .cause resentment among his teammates . . .he may not be able to take it all in stride."

Bobby Scanlon Whips Kerwin

Colegian Scores 26th Straight Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Undefeated Bobby Scanlon racked up his 26th straight victory Friday night by flooring and decisively outpointing Gale Kerwin in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Scanlon, of San Francisco, weighed 134½ to Kerwin's 139½.

Scanlon, a 22-year-old collegian, dropped his taller and heavier rival in the second round and scored the harder punches in a rough fight fought mainly at close quarters.

The baby - faced Californian decked his 23-year-old foe late in the second round with two successive left hooks to the jaw. Kerwin got up on one knee at six, shook his head, and arose at eight. The bell rang seconds later before Scanlon could follow up his advantage.

Scanlon was penalized the eighth round for repeated holding but he won the verdict from the three officials handily. Judge Artie Schwartz had it 7-3 while Referee Art Mercante and Judge Bill Recht had it 6-3-1. The AP card had Scanlon in front, 7-3.

Scanlon's record now is 30 wins and one draw. Kerwin suffered his seventh defeat. He has won 27.

Wynn Fans 11 In Sox Victory

Chicago Conquers Washington, 9 To 2

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Early Wynn restricting Washington to four hits and Al Smith knocking in five runs on a grand slam homer and two doubles, the Chicago White Sox breezed to a 9-2 victory over the Senators Friday night. Wynn fanned 11 bringing his season's total to 101, the ninth straight year he has topped the 100 mark.

Wynn, 38, with more shutouts than any other active American League pitcher, was deprived of the 40th of his career when the usually flawless White Sox shortstop-second base pair of Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox erred in the eighth inning and permitted the Senators to score two unearned runs.

In the eighth, Ossie Alvarez singled and pinch-hitter Julio Becquer walked. When Fox fumbled Herb Plews' apparent double-play grounder, the bases were loaded. Then, with one out, Aparicio messed up Neil Chrisley's apparent double-play hopper, and two runs scampered across.

The Cumberland Dapper Dan Little League All-Star game will be staged next Friday at 6:30 p. m., at Penn Avenue Field.

Eighteen players will represent each team, the Dappers and Dans and the game will be a nine inning affair.

Jim Wilson of the Red Sox will manage the Dapper Division team and Al Manges of the Senators will head the Dan Division tossers.

All other managers will assist Wilson and Manges as coaches. Adult managers will be permitted to serve as base coaches for this game.

A short ceremony will precede the contest.

Hodges Wins Back First Base Job On Pinch Homer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Veteran Gil Hodges won back his old first base job with the Los Angeles Dodgers by socking a pinch hit homer against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The slumping Hodges had been benched last week in favor of Steve Bilko, a big righthanded hitter whose tragic flaw is curve balls.

Red Sox, Cardinals And Tigers Capture Dapper Dan Battles

Manager Jim Wilson's Red Sox retained the leadership of the Dapper Division of the Dapper Dan Little League by downing the Giants yesterday at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 9-4.

The victory gave the Sox a 6-3 record with six games left to play.

Richard Robinson was nicked for 11 safeties by the Giants, struck out seven and led the Sox attack with three blows, including a three-run homer. Jimmy Graham homered with one aboard and Bobby Robertson batted in two runs with a timely double. Seeders had three hits and Young two for the Giants. Bill Dean smashed a triple and Elliott a two-bagger.

The Phillies lost ground in the championship race by dropping a 6-1 decision to the Cardinals at Post Field.

Billy Ronsley, Cards' relief pitcher, who supplanted Gary Morgan in the 4th, pitched runless and hitless ball for three innings and whiffed five to notch his third win of the season. DelaGrange, Phils' starter and loser, fanned nine.

Wally Harper and Ronsley banged a triple and single each and Bobby Henry rapped a pair of singles for the Cards. The Phillies' three hits were Sandy Rice's triple and singles by Reed and Perkins.

In a Dan Division game played at East Side Field, the Tigers clobbered the Athletics by the score of 13-0 as Tommy Bishop tossed a three-hitter and struck out nine.

Moore Agrees To Meet Durelle In Title Bout

MONCTON, N.B. (AP) — Chris Shaban, manager of British Empire light heavyweight champion Yvon Durelle, said Friday world champion Archie Moore has agreed to defend his title against Durelle in Vancouver Sept. 10.

Shaban said he is undecided about accepting Vancouver promoter Al Kaline's terms. He said he is dickering with the International Boxing Club for a Durelle-Moore fight in Montreal or Toronto, but added "I'm not going to let this thing slip through my fingers," he said he will wait for the IBC's decision before signing with Kaline.

Hebert Ties Finsterwald At 139 For PGA Tourney Lead

Snead, Boros, Casper Trail By One Stroke

Fleck Fined $100, Jimmy Demaret Is Disqualified

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald and Jay Hebert steered a steady course through a storm of pickups, blowups and foulups Friday and tied for the halfway lead in the Professional Golfers Assn. championship at 139.

They held an insecure one-stroke edge over three of the sports most formidable competitors — Sam Snead, Julius Boros and Bill Casper, Jr.—with more than a dozen others no more than four strokes back.

Fleck Fined $100

Jack Fleck, the unknown who beat Ben Hogan for the National Open championship in 1955, left the course after three holes in a reported protest against playing conditions and drew a $100 fine.

Then Jimmy Demaret, for more than a decade one of the game's brightest stars, blew himself to an 84 after an opening 69 and was disqualified for inadvertently signing an erroneous scorecard.

Disgusted over what he called the worst round of his bigtime career—a card which saw par doubled on two holes—Demaret unthinkingly signed for a five on the 14th hole and an 83 total. Actually he took a six for 84.

Demaret Disqualified

Signing a wrong card, under official rules, means automatic disqualification.

Clark Morrow of Wakefield, Mass., was fined $100 for not reporting for the second round. Two others were fined $100 for failing to show Thursday.

Mike Fetchick of Yonkers, N.Y., was penalized two strokes for letting a groundskeeper repair a ball mark on the ninth green before he putted. He was given a second round 76 instead of 74 for a 150 total.

Finsterwald, from Tequesta, Fla., birdied two of the last three holes, sinking a 15-foot downhill putt on the 18th, for a second round 72. He had led the opening round with 67, one stroke ahead of Jay Hebert.

A 36-hole score of 154 was needed to survive the cutoff reducing the field for the third round to the low 90 and ties.

Sarazen Fails

Ninety-three actually qualified. Prominent casualties included three former champions—Gene Sarazen, the 56-year-old squire from Germantown, N. Y.) Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., and Jim Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y.

Two strokes off the lead at 141 came a pair of darkhorse club professionals, Felice Torza of Aurora, Ill., and Bill Collins of Baltimore.

Bolt Shoots 142

Four were tied at 142. They were Tommy Bolt, the chastened National Open Champion who is on his best behavior, Lionel Hebert and two ex-champs, Jack Burke Jr. and Doug Ford.

Herb Score Will Go On Disabled List

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' sore-armed southpaw, Herb Score, still has an inflamed tendon in his elbow so the club will ask to have him put on the disabled list, it was announced Friday.

The physician told Score and General Manager Frank Lane that it would be advisable to refrain from pitching for three or four weeks. Lane decided to ask Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to put the hurler on the disabled list.

Neji Hangs Up Monmouth Park Course Record

Tops Elkridge's Total Earnings

OCEANPORT, N. J., July 18 (AP)—Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Neji, champion steeplechase horse of 1957, today marked his seasonal bow with a new course record victory at Monmouth Park. The triumph lifted his gross earnings to a new all-time high among jumpers.

Neji, ridden by A. Patrick Smithwick, closed strongly in the stretch to defeat Mrs. Michael G. Walsh's Cloonroughan by a half length. The 8-year-old gelding by Hunters Moon IV-Accra by Annapolis carried top weight of 162 pounds, conceding six to Cloonroughan and 32 to C. Mahlon Kline's Ragtime Cowboy, third in the field of 11 contesting the prelude purse.

The time of 3.15 1/5 for the about one mile and three-quarters, including 10 hurdles, was one second faster than the standard set a year ago by Allison L. S. Stern's Greek Brother, which finished fifth today.

Neji, a half-brother to the stakes-winning Mandingo, Songai and Nahodah, took down $2,600 of the $4,000 purse to raise his gross gleanings to $237,300. Kent F. Miller's Elkridge, retired at the completion of the 1941 campaign, had previously held the gross money-winning championship with earnings of $235,225.

Winner of the three steeplechase handicaps last year, including the Temple Gwathmey with 173 pounds on his back, Neji was heavily supported by the crowd estimated at 16,900 and paid $4.20, $2.60 and $2.40. Neji was bracketed in the wagering with Mrs. J. H. McKnight's Great Tom, ninth in the running.

Neji, best steeplechase horse in 1955 as well as last season, will probably be invited to compete in the $22,000 Midsummer Hurdle Handicap here on July 31.

Cousy Will Appear At WVU Workshop

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Professional basketball star Bob Cousy, recognized as the ball-handling wizard of the powerful Boston Celtics, will appear here July 29 during West Virginia University's coaching workshop on basketball.

Mountaineer Coach Fred Schaus will direct the week-long cage program which opens July 28. Schaus said the sessions will be open to the public and encouraged persons to attend the day Cousy will be featured.

Cousy is a representative of the Hood Rubber Co. of Watertown, Mass., during the off-season. That firm will sponsor his Morgantown visit.

Grantsville-Hyndman Heads Pen-Mar Slate

Leading Contenders Meet Today; Four Contests Sunday

The torrid pennant race resumes today in the Pen-Mar Baseball League today with games involving the leading contenders scheduled at Salisbury and Grantsville.

Top attraction of the day is that between the Hyndman Merchants, tied with the Barrelville Old Exports for first place at 14-3, and the Grantsville Sluggers, who have reeled off four wins in a row and are breathing down the backs of the leaders with a 14-4 record.

Grantsville and Hyndman will be tangling for the third time this season. The Pennsylvanians won the opener, 10-6, with Jim Leydig decisioning Ronnie Rice. Bobby Dawson hurled the Sluggers to a 7-5 win over the Merchants in the second game of the series, with Glenn Deremer taking the loss.

Exports Face Cards

Barrelville is slated to tackle the Cardinals at Salisbury, Pa., today. The Old Export's six-game winning streak was snapped by Grantsville last Sunday but "Buck" Fiorita's club expects to regain its winning form in the second game of the series with the Somerset countians. Barrelville copped the opener of this series, 13-0, with Jesse Markley decisioning Don Carey.

The third game on today's program finds the Flintstone Farmers battling the Old Exports at Mt. Savage. Mt. Savage holds 5-2 and 4-3 decisions over the league's tailenders.

Four Games Sunday

Joe Brown Makes Fifth Defense Of His Crown

Fights Kenny Lane Wednesday Night At Houston, Texas

By JACK CUDDY
United Press International

NEW YORK, July 18—(UPI)—When Joe Brown stepped out of the doctor's office in New Orleans on the morning of August 25, 1956, he said: "I sure feel happy to be lightweight champion, but I'm not happy about this—"

And he pointed with his left hand to the temporary sling supporting the white cast about his right hand and forearm.

Almost A Stranger

Although Brown of New Orleans was in his 11th year as a professional when he became champion, he was almost a stranger to most boxing fans. He was ranked only eighth among contenders when he entered the ring before 7,021 at the New Orleans Auditorium.

A non-title draw with Smith six months earlier had maneuvered him into the title shot.

At 30 years and three months, he was the second oldest man to win the lightweight title for the first time. Rocky Kansas had been five months older when he won what has sometimes been called "the young man's crown" in 1925.

At 30 he was the obscure ruler of a division that until about 1940 had been known as the "second money class"—topped only by the heavyweights in gates and purses.

Top lightweight competition nearly always had been ultra-attractive because success in the class demanded either speed and cleverness approaching that of feathers or bantams—or punching power approaching that of middleweights—or both.

There were the smart speedsters like Willie Ritchie, Freddy Welsh, Sammy Mandell and Lou Ambers, and the sluggers like Al Armstrong and Ike Williams, and the great combination boxer-punchers like Joe Gans, Benny Leonard, Tony Canzoneri and Barney Ross.

Could obscure Joe Brown, a veteran of 30 with a broken right wrist, hope to build a reputation in the once-great division — or even hold the title for long? Particularly a veteran who was reputedly a "lazy" fighter.

Respected Champion

Well, the Joe Brown of today is perhaps the most respected champion in any division. His wrist healed perfectly and he displayed a truly remarkable combination of speed, ringcraft and explosiveness in 10 bouts since he won the crown. They include four title defenses.

Although held to a non-title draw by Joey Lopes, whom he knocked out in the 11th round of a return title fight, Brown extended his unbeaten string to 17 bouts. Six of his nine victories as champion were by knockouts.

In addition to the title-defense kayo over Lopes, he also knocked out ex-champ Smith (11) in a return championship fight, and challengers Orlando Zulueta (15) and Ralph Dupas (8).

At 32, Brown will make his fifth defense Wednesday night against 26-year-old Kenny Lane, a speedy southpaw, at Houston, Tex. Will Joe hammer on to greater glory or succumb to youth? He's favored at 2-1.

British Netmen Go To European Finals

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Great Britain qualified for the finals of the European Zone Davis Cup competition Friday by defeating France in the decisive doubles match.

Bobby Wilson and Mike Davies, who won the two singles matches Thursday, combined for a 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1 triumph over Jean Claude Molinari and Pierre Darmon of France. That triumph boosted the count to 3-0 for England and made Saturday's concluding singles mere formalities.

Great Britain will meet the winner of the Italy-Poland semifinal for the zone title.

Banks, Moryn Homers Beat Braves, 5-3

Briggs Posts 4th Win For Chicago; Aaron Belts 19th

CHICAGO (AP) — The muscle-flexing Chicago Cubs bombarded the World Champion Milwaukee Braves with their home run artillery Friday, Ernie Banks and Walt Moryn triggering them to a 5-3 victory.

The Braves, who also added a couple of blasts by Joe Adcock and Hank Aaron, ended a four-game winning streak.

The third-place Cubs now have totaled 105 homers for the campaign and nudged closer to the top spot in winning their 11th game in the last 15 starts.

Aaron's 19th homer in the sixth locked the score 3-3.

That's the way it stayed until the Cubs again got to starter Carlton Willey in the eighth to hand him his third setback against a pair of victories.

Sammy Taylor started it with a double, his only hit of the game. Then Moryn, hitless in three trips, sent a skyscraping poke onto the catwalk fence in deep right field corner. It was his 17th home run.

County To Hear First Civil Service Infraction

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday received their first case where a county employe is being charged with infractions of the regulations under which employes work under Civil Service.

Raymond Messmer, superintendent of Sylvan Retreat, wrote the commissioners that John Moravia, an orderly, at the institution, has broken the regulations on several instances. He charged him with reporting off sick. It was later discovered that he was not ill, Messmer said.

The county board will turn over the letter from Messmer to the Civil Service Commission for action.

Moravia will be given the opportunity for a hearing.

Objection was raised by Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson to the George Construction Company doing "most of the work" on repair jobs needed on county buildings.

His comment followed presentation of a bill for the work on a window in the photostatic room in the basement at the Court House.

Commissioner William A. Wilson said the work had been ordered by the clerk of Circuit Court, who has jurisdiction over the photostatic room but the county commissioners pay for all maintenance of the Court House.

Jeffries Given Pay Increas

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday authorized an increase in the salary of John Jeffries, probation officer with the Allegany County Juvenile Court.

Letters from Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris of Circuit Court and Magistrate Fred H. Anderson of Juvenile Court outlined that Jeffries' work was excellent and the importance of his work justified such an increase.

Under the board's action Jeffries' salary was raised from $3,630 to $4,000 annually. Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, informed the commissioners that Jeffries is not under Civil Service but is under the jurisdiction of the court.

Getty also commented that Jeffries had done excellent work in the time he has handled the probation duties of the Juvenile Court.

The board also noted that Allegany County gets only $13,442.14 out of the $61,022 in state taxes on alcohol for the fiscal year ending June 30. The balance is allocated among the incorporated communities such as Cumberland, Frostburg, Midland, Lonaconing, Barton, Westernport and Luke.

Wilson Given Authority To Place Tax Machine

On motion of Commissioner James Orr and unanimously carried, the supervision for the placement of the addressograph machine for the County Tax Office has been placed in the hands of Commissioner William A. Wilson.

Commissioner Orr said that Wilson had set up the Election Board system several years ago and is familiar with such work. The board also decided that Aubrey Webb will be the operator of the new device. He has been employed in the Assessing Department for about seven or eight months.

Wilson said the machine will be set up in a room in the Court House basement as it is noisy when being operated. The metal plates which will contain information for tax bills will be stamped out on the machine. It is expected the system will be ready in plenty of time for the tax bills which will be sent out next year.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson had objected Tuesday to the actions of Ernest B. Treat, assistant tax collector, in discussing where the machine should be placed and by whom it was to be operated. At that time Commissioner Wilson said Treat had no authority in the matter and was voicing his (Treat's) opinion in the matter.

Commissioner Wilkinson yesterday also asked that the Roads Department be instructed to place a sign at the intersection of Lower Town Creek Road and the entrance of Van Meter's Beach indicating that it was a dangerous intersection. The board acceded to the request.

Police Unit Holds Election

Harold G. Armbruster was re-elected president of Cumberland Auxiliary Police in the annual election of the organization Thursday night at the Canada Hose House. He was unopposed.

Others elected are C. S. Browning, vice president; Faye Carter, treasurer, and Eston Paxton, trustee for a three-year term.

The officers will be installed at a meeting Thursday, August 21, at which time the various committees will be appointed.

The Auxiliary Police has a membership in excess of 400 men, Armbruster said, and its equipment includes a jeep, boat and delivery truck, which is used to transport working gear and men to sites where their services are needed.

The Auxiliary Police has established an outstanding reputation for its work during drownings and in time of high water, Armbruster noted in making an appeal for funds with which to keep the vehicles and equipment in working order.

RR Damage Suit Trial Is Moved

A Keyser railroad worker's suit for damages against the B&O Railroad has been transferred from U. S. District Court in Pittsburgh to the Federal District Court of Maryland for trial in either Baltimore or Cumberland, The Associated Press reported yesterday.

In an order dated July 8, Judge Rabe F. Marsh of the Pittsburgh court, said the trial in Maryland would be cheaper for the railroad and more convenient for witnesses.

The railroader, Kenneth L. Hostetler, had objected to transfer of the case on grounds it would be a hardship and make it necessary for him to have a Maryland attorney.

But Judge Marsh said: "Although Keyser, the plaintiff's home, is 30 miles farther to Baltimore than to Pittsburgh, the added expense for the plaintiff to travel is slight and if, perchance, the trial is held in Cumberland, it will be much more convenient and less expensive for the plaintiff."

Hostetler had filed suit in Pittsburgh February 20 claiming he was injured while working for the railroad on April 7, 1957 at New Gate, near Hagerstown. The amount of damages sought was not available.

The railroad in asking transfer of the case, said it had 13 witnesses including five doctors, four of these from Baltimore and one from Keyser. The remaining eight include three from Cumberland and five from in or near Hagerstown. It further claimed that if the trial were held in Pittsburgh, cost for these witnesses would be $234 a day compared to $99 a day if the trial were held in Cumberland.

Stocks Churn Irregularly To Another New Peak

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market Friday churned irregularly to another new peak for the year and did it on the heaviest volume of the week.

It was the market's fourth straight three-million-share day, the total of 3,350,000 shares topping Thursday's 3,180,000. For this year it was second only to the 3,950,000 shares traded Jan. 16.

Once again, defense-related stocks got a big play in a continued reflection of the international crisis. But profit taking late in the day erased or slashed many gains, leaving the overall list in a highly mixed state.

The industrials carried the ball in the rise and steels were again the favorites, five issues in this group being among the 15 most active stocks. Rails and utilities showed a lower tendency.

Most aircrafts, base metals, rubbers and electronics made gains. Gains by oils were clipped severely.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks rose, three fell and one was unchanged.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 10 cents to its new 1958 high of $178.10 with the industrials up 70 cents to a new high for the year, the rails down 10 cents and the utilities down 30 cents.

Of 1,181 issues traded, 498 rose and 453 fell. There were 119 new highs for the year and 5 new lows.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — Corn futures prices extended their recent gains with a good rally on the Board of Trade Friday but other grains and soybeans finished mostly lower.

Trading was brisk at times and indicated a volume again well above average as it has been since the Middle East crisis broke open the bull market on Tuesday.

There was a strong movement among many dealers to cash their profits and go to the sidelines for the weekend but their offerings were quickly taken by short interests eager to cover commitments against any possible worsening of the international situation.

Selling pressure has been notably absent since the U.S. Marines landed in Lebanon, but traders commented that the supply situation in cash grain could have brought that about anyway, although probably to a lesser degree. The market has been cramped between small supplies of grain available for delivery and commercial requirements.

Wheat closed ⅜-2 cents a bushel lower, July $1.90½-⅜; corn ¼-1¾ higher, July $1.35⅛-34½; oats ¼ higher to ⅜ lower, July 65½; rye ⅛ higher to ½ lower, July $1.30⅜; soybeans ⅞-2¾ lower, July $2.32⅝-¼; lard 22 cents a hundred pounds higher to 13 cents lower, July $12.42.

N. Y. Eggs And Butter

NEW YORK (AP) — (USDA) — Wholesale egg prices were about steady Friday. Receipts 14,600.

Nearby whites: Top quality (48-50 lbs) 38-41; mediums 31½-32½; smalls 22½-23½.

Butter steady receipts 224,000. Prices unchanged.

County Unable To Get Federal Road Funds

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, informed the board yesterday that there are no federal matching funds available for secondary road projects in Allegany County.

Commissioner William A. Wilson had suggested several weeks ago that an inquiry be made of the State Roads Commission concerning the possibility of obtaining $100,000 in federal funds and the county provide $50,000 for a project to provide employment for some of the unemployed of the county.

Wilson said he had read an article in the bulletin of the National Association of County Commissioners on the federal road funds which might be available.

Getty said the federal act under which these funds are made available provides that the states can allocate to subdivisions within their state or else use the entire amount on state projects.

Approximately $4,394,000 which the state had available from the federal government was used in secondary and primary state highways, Getty said.

No funds were allocated to the counties. The SRC felt that the act provides all federal funds must be used prior to January 1, 1959 and the projects completed by that date. For this reason they decided to use the entire amount on SRC projects.

Getty received the information during a visit Thursday at the SRC headquarters in Baltimore. He also informed the board that he presented the application for surplus food for Allegany County to William J. Brugger, supervisor of the donable food program for the State Department of Budget and Procurement.

Celanese Names Cook To Labor Relations Post

The appointment of Ernest G. Cook to the position of supervisor of labor relations at the Amcelle Plant of Celanese Corporation of America was announced yesterday by W. E. Crooks, plant manager.

Cook replaces Kenneth J. Williams who has resigned to accept other employment.

Cook reported to the local plant early this week from the Celanese plant at Rock Hill, S. C., where he had been employed for the last 10 years.

A native of Monroe, N. C., Cook attended High Point College and worked at a Norfolk, Va., shipyard before employment in the Celriver Engineering Department as a journeyman machinist in 1948. During his service in the Engineering Department Cook was shop chairman of the department and later was elected president of Local 1093, Textile Workers Union of America, and held this responsibility for five years.

Three years ago he was promoted to the Celriver Personnel Section and after orientation in the various departments was made a personnel assistant in the Labor Relations Department.

Hudson Nix, Amcelle personnel manager, said Cook's broad plant and contract administration experience in operations similar to Amcelle's was an important factor in his elevation to the local position.

He will be assisted here by Fred A. Hutchison.

While at Celriver, Cook was active in community welfare and church organizations. He is a member of the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook are the parents of four children, the oldest serving in the United States Navy. He expects to move his family here as soon as a suitable residence can be located.

Wolfords Seek Injunction To Halt SRC

Judge Orders Temporary Halt

Operators of a tavern and service station at the top of Martins Mountain on U.S. Route 40 have filed an equity suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against the State Roads Commission seeking an injunction to prevent further digging of post holes and other activities in the "channelization" of the property.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris has signed an order temporarily restraining the State Roads Commission from "obstructing, interfering with, drilling upon, setting or driving posts into or upon, or otherwise attempting to impede access to or egress from the business premises known as the Wolford service station or tavern."

In his order, Judge Harris further stipulates that the SRC may move for dissolution of this restraining order upon two days' notice. This order will expire July 24 unless extended before that date.

The bill of complaint was filed by Attorney Thomas N. Berry in behalf of Thomas R. Wolford and Nellie K. Wolford, his wife, and Hattie V. Wolford. Thomas R. and Nellie K. Wolford are the lessees of the commercial property on top of Martins Mountain. Hattie V. Wolford is listed as the owner and lessor of the property.

$27,500 Consideration

According to the bill of complaint, the three Wolfords signed an option contract with the SRC August 3, 1956. It provided for the conveyance of certain land and premises, construction of a dual lane highway at the top of the mountain and that the Wolfords would move their service station and tavern to a new location on the south side of the new highway. The consideration from the SRC was listed at $27,500.

The complainants assert that this option contract has never been accepted by or executed in behalf of the SRC and is null and void because the limiting period for acceptance of the option was six months.

One of the specific conditions of the proposed option contract was that the commission would construct two commercial entrances into the relocated tavern and service station with the understanding that the area between the entrances would be channelized in accordance with the SRC specifications.

The bill of complaint states that it was further provided in this contract that the SRC would acquire the right of immediate entry upon the Wolford premises upon the mailing by the SRC by registered mail of a notice of acceptance of the option. Because the SRC has not accepted this option it could not have acquired a right of entry upon the property for channelization work, says the complaint.

Despite the failure of the parties to enter into a valid written agreement, the SRC turned over to the grantors $25,000 of the $27,500 anticipated total consideration. The complainants proceeded to move their tavern and service station. Most recently, approximately $1,800 worth of asphaltic black-top surfacing has been laid down in front of the building, the bill of complaint adds.

Entered Area

The Wolfords charge that on or about June 24, 1958, agents and employes of the SRC entered upon the black-topped area in front of the Wolford property for the purpose of "channelizing" the area for two entrances. They proposed to put posts into the black-topped surfacing within seven or eight feet of the gasoline pump island. The Wolfords say this would do irreparable harm to the property. Upon Thomas R. Wolford's request, the SRC agents ceased their work and left the premises.

Early in June when agents of the SRC came on the premises, Thomas R. Wolford escorted them off the property at the point of a shotgun. The gun was discharged, but no one was injured. Subsequently, Wolford was charged with assault and prayed a jury trial when the case was called in Trial Magistrate's Court. As a consequence, it probably will not be tried until the October term of Circuit Court.

Following this incident, the complainants, through their solicitor, had conferences with Frederick A. Puderbaugh, special attorney for the SRC; with G. Bates Chaires, SRC district engineer, and by telephone with Joseph D. Buscher, special assistant to the attorney general for commission matters, in an effort to reach some agreement

Conference Set With SRC On Thruway Plans

Details Of Western Extension Sought

City officials will go to Baltimore next Wednesday to confer with the State Roads Commission on the west approach of the Cumberland Thruway, according to Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

Attending the conference at 2 p. m. in the SRC offices in Baltimore will be Mayor Keech, City Engineer C. R. Nuzum, City Attorney William R. Carscaden and City Plumber Simon Carroll.

The discussion will deal with the proposed location of the western end of the Thruway, which will extend from Lynn Street on the West Side to Winchester Road.

Also attending will be Major Gen. Milton A. Reckord, adjutant general of the Maryland Military Department.

He will be there due to his interest in the access to the Thruway for the new National Guard Armory which is to be built in Ridgedale Addition.

The City of Cumberland, officials said, is also very much interested in plans for providing access to the Thruway.

The primary interest of the city, however, will be to learn full details of the sewer and water lines it will have to relocate in connection with the western end of the thruway.

It must also learn, officials explained, plans for water and sewage lines to the new armory, since they will be a city obligation.

Stevedore Held In Rape Case

FERNDALE, Md. (AP) — Anne Arundel County police are questioning a Baltimore stevedore in connection with the rape of a 15-year-old Cumberland girl.

The 26-year-old man was arrested early Friday when he returned to his rooming house where police had been staked out for 20 hours.

They obtained his address through license plates of the car reportedly used to carry off the young victim and a 17-year-old companion, also from Cumberland.

The younger girl said she was attacked early Thursday in a deserted farm house off Ritchie Highway. She claimed four men forced her and her friend into a car and drove them to the deserted area.

The older girl said she escaped from one of the men trying to attack her in an orchard. A passing motorist picked her up along Ritchie Highway and called police. The younger girl was found when police searched the area

The girls said they were forced into the car as they were walking along a Baltimore street at 2:30 a. m. They said they had come to Baltimore from Cumberland on Sunday and had rented an apartment here.

Chief Wilbur C. Wade said county police have "a pretty good lead" on the whereabouts of the three other men.

Jobless Pay Benefits Dip During June

Figures Are Higher Than 1957 Period

For the second consecutive month, June unemployment payments and initial claims have registered a decline from the preceding month, according to Robert B. Kimble, executive director of the Department of Employment Security in Maryland.

However, Mr. Kimble pointed out that these activities continued to run substantially above the same corresponding period in 1957.

Figures showed a drop in initial claims and a more encouraging sign, according to Mr. Kimble, was the downtrend in the number of benefit payments.

He said these dropped each week throughout June, and this was due largely to the hiring of workers in food processing, construction and other scattered industries, particulary in the county areas (outside Baltimore).

Mr. Kimble also reported claimants exhausting their full entitlement to benefits recorded a new low for 1958.

Unemployed persons residing in Maryland were paid 158,981 benefit checks under the State Unemployment Insurance program in June, which was down 9.1 per cent from the 174,784 of May, but up 172.3 per cent over the 58,393 checks of June 1857.

The checks disbursed to Maryland residents totaled $4,651,824 in June, down 9.3 per cent from the $5,127,139 of May, but up 184.4 per cent over the $1,607,508 of June 1957.

Inital claims for benefits, which reflect new spells of unemployment, dropped to 21,078 in June, down 3.4 per cent from the 21,827 of May, but up 92.9 per cent over the 10,925 of June 1957. The previous 1958 low was in May.

Unused School Will Be Sold

A structure which was first used as a school in Cumberland in 1874 will soon be offered for sale to the highest bidder by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The county commissioners yesterday instructed Gorman E. Getty, their attorney, to draw up the necessary papers to advertise the old Maryland Avenue School for sale to the highest bidder.

Tuesday, the County Board of Education decided that it no longer needed the old school for educational purposes. Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster notified the commissioners because the title to the property now reverts to the commissioners.

The old building was last used for veterans' training purposes after World War II.

Vandegrift Bids Low On School Kitchen Job

$19,975 Offered At Columbia St.

The John I. Vandegrift Company, this city, was the apparent low bidder for construction of a new kitchen at Columbia Street School on an offer of $19,975.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster said he will recommend that the Allegany County Board of Education accept the low bid, nearly $2,000 less than the second bid.

Other bids opened yesterday were from the George F. Hazelwood Company, $21,948, and George Construction Company, $22,134.

The Vandegrift firm agreed to complete the kitchen construction within 60 calendar days, which would have it finished before the first of October but not before school reopens. Plans and specifications for this work were prepared by S. Russ Minter, local architect.

Columbia Street School has never had a kitchen and has had to depend on hot food being transferred there from the Fort Hill High School cafeteria.

This job is the second small school job to be awarded to the Vandegrift firm this summer. Just before school closed in June, Vandegrift's bid of $18,037 for a new kitchen at Johnson Heights School was accepted. The three local contractors finished in the same order on those bids. Hazelwood was second at $20,722 and George was third with a bid of $21,328.

The major school construction job here this year is the building of a new gymnasium and new art and music classrooms at Allegany High School. Hazelwood was awarded that contract on a bid of $871,870.

Visitors To Face No Highway Delays

No delays due to the highway construction will face visitors to Western Maryland this summer.

A report from the State Roads Commission yesterday showed that traffic is being maintained on all highway construction in Allegany and Garrett counties.

Slight delays may be encountered in Washington County, although traffic is being maintained at all times.

Car Catches Fire

South End Fire Company last night answered a call to Wempe Drive to extinguish a blaze in an automobile owned by Alma Brightner of Oldtown. Slight damage to the car was reported.

Scout Camp Attendance Sets Record

The Boy Scouts of Potomac Council who will attend Camp Potomac near Oldtown, next week will boost the summer attendance total to an all-time high.

Ross O. Decker, camping and activities chairman, said the group of about 100 Scouts who will arrive tomorrow afternoon at the camp will mark the highest total of boys ever to attend Camp Potomac during a summer period.

He said 650 different boys have attended the camp plus over 50 youths who have spent more than a week at the camp. The camp was put into operation for the summer on June 22.

Mr. Decker said there is still room for any Scouts who wish to attend the camp next week.

Next week will be the final period of use for the Boy Scouts. The Tri-Towns Girl Scouts will use the camp site for a week, followed by the children of Friends Aware for a week.

Troops who will be at Camp Potomac starting tomorrow at 2 p. m. will be Troop 41, Crellin Methodist Church; Troop 6, SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church; Troop 5, St. John's Lutheran Church; Troop 17, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company; Troop 1, St. Luke's Lutheran Church; Troop 88, Bedford Road Optimist Club; and Troop 76, Wiley Ford PTA.

Willis V. Smith, executive secretary, said the camping period last week was highlighted by visits by Othman B. Wuenschel, a representative of Sporting Arms and Ammunition Company, and Wade Thomas, Keyser, of the office of the West Virginia state fire marshal.

Mr. Wuenschel conducted a session on gun safety and also held a trap shooting event for the older boys. Mr. Thomas presented a talk on fire safety.

Mr. Smith said a new activity was introduced last week which enabled 25 Explorer Scouts to play golf for the first time. He said the youths were taken to Fort Cumberland Golf course for the instruction.

In addition to all the regular activities planned for the youths, the advancement program progressed a great extent, according to Mr. Smith. He said this phase was aided since all the groups attending were with adult leadership.

Many new activities are planned for the last week of camp along with the regular program. One of the evenings will be devoted to "Parents' Night" and a water rodeo will be held in conjunction with this event.

Two Generals To Fight Cut In Md. Guard

Purnell, Reckord Address Legion

BALTIMORE (AP) — The commanding general of the 29th Division and Maryland's adjutant general vowed Friday they will put up all-out resistance to reduction of strength in the National Guard unit.

"We will not accept a reduction in the National Guard that is intended to, and does, reduce our efficiency as the first line of defense in this country," said Maj. Gen. William C. Purnell, commander of the 29th with units in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

He proclaimed resistance "to make us subservient to control of the Army."

Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, state adjutant, added "We have determined in Maryland and Virginia that we are not going to see the old outfit destroyed."

The two generals spoke at the 40th annual convention of the American Legion in Maryland.

Charges "Bobtail"

Purnell said he did not quarrel with the Army's plan to reshape the National Guard into five battle groups per division. However, he objected to the proposal to "bobtail" some of them, including the 29th, into three battle groups.

Reckord claimed the reorganization is being pushed "by a few people in the Pentagon who simply want to command all the forces all the time."

Before closing their business session, the legionnaires passed resolutions which:

Strongly supported the sending of U. S. troops to Lebanon, praised President Eisenhower for "courage and vision" and urged him to take "whatever additional measures may be required."

Urged the State Department and Maryland congressmen to return to the "old traditional policy" of protecting Americans abroad and to consider "severance of relations with any country which now holds or is responsible for holding Americans."

Would Dissolve UN

Urged the legion's national convention in September to go on record favoring dissolution of the United Nations unless it adopts a new policy against "all further Soviet aggression."

Decided to poll Maryland candidates for the U. S. Senate and House on their views of the Hoover Commission and Bradley reports which, the resolution said, "militate against the best interests and welfare of the veteran."

The legion convention also produced criticism by two other generals of an effort to reorganize administration of all the military services.

President Eisenhower's proposed reorganization of the Defense Department "could change this country into a tight military dictatorship overnight," a retired Marine general claimed.

The claim was made by Pedro del Valle. Another retired Marine general, James P. S. Devereux, said he endorsed del Valle's views.

"Modern Caesar"

"Enemies of the constitution have been tinkering with that sacred document for years, and now they come to ask the Congress to surrender its power and its duty to control the military establishment," del Valle said.

"If we do not prevent this, then our modern Caesar will have crossed his Rubicon and this will be a republic in name only.

"I speak not only for the Marine Corps, I speak for all the federal services when I say that the bill is pernicious and should be defeated."

"It would be possible for one man in power to abolish the Marine Corps, or any of the branches of the various services, and the Congress would have no say in the matter."

City Budget Requests Are Due August 1

Exploratory Talk Held By Officials

Heads of all departments of the City of Cumberland are being asked to submit budget proposals by August 1, according to Mrs. Lucile Roeder, finance commissioner.

The announcement was made yesterday afternoon following an informal budget discussion held in the office of Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

Attending the meeting, in addition to Mrs. Roeder and Mayor Keech, were City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson and City Attorney William R. Carscaden.

The discussion included the proposed budget, and were exploratory in nature. No decisions were made, a spokesman said.

The budget-making will get down to brass tacks as soon as department requests are received and the books for the 1957-58 fiscal year are closed.

Except for mandatory items, budget-making generally consists of whittling department requests down to anticipated income of the city.

Major factors will be the size of the surplus and anticipated income from city taxes, state-shared taxes and other income sources.

Mr. Gibson recently estimated that the surplus might approach the $100,000 mark. Final figures are not immediately available, but the total will be far short of the $237,000 on hand to prime the 1957-58 fiscal year.

The whopping surplus last year chiefly resulted from several non-recurring items.

The tax levy will probably be a little higher this year, although the rate for operating expenses cannot exceed $1.25.

Last year, the city levied $1,207,630 for taxes on real estate, personal property of individuals and corporations and bank stock. The actual assessments brought in $40,000 more.

Special recognition will be given Sandra Showalter, Brenda Van Meter, Wayne Skidmore and Ricky Stouffer, who were winners of the contest for enrolling new members. 61 children were brought in during the four days of the contest.

Each department of the school will take part in the program, which will include all the work covered during the two-week period.
